The Editor Signs Off...

During a national convention year there are usually so many special features to be included in the later issues of The Forensics that it might be wise to remind you of some editorial matters in this, the first issue of the year.

First, there is the problem of chapter notes and alumni news. A check of the records indicates that the same chapters consistently send in their notes and news items, and many (too many) hardly ever come through. I would like to urge every chapter to take advantage of this feature of The Forensic. If your chapter is active, as it should be, let others know about it!

L. A. LAWRENCE

It is also important that material be in on time for a given issue. Such contributions should be in by the middle of the month before the issue comes out. In other words, copy for the October issue should be in by September 15, copy for the January issue by December 15, etc. I received a great mass of copy for Chapter Notes on October 17—after the issue was in the process of being printed! Much of this will not be usable in later issues.

There is still a need for more good articles, although the quantity and quality have improved, as you can see by the articles in this issue.

This is a major editorial change that you should be aware of—a new feature to be added. At the summer meeting of the Council, it was decided that we should add a Student Letters to the Editor feature—possibly called Constructively Speaking—in order to allow for shorter statements and comments of a responsible nature. This feature will begin in the January issue and no letter will be printed unless it is signed and identified by school and chapter. So here is a chance to have your say without writing a complete article!

One last matter that requires attention—several schools have written to say that they were disappointed that the results of their Province Tournaments were not reported in The Forensic. Unfortunately, I must report that several Provinces were not included because they did not send in a report of results. Sorry, but there was nothing your editor could do.
