B. Smith Haworth '16 on January 26 in Ottawa. His wife, Esther Snoeberger Haworth '17, will continue to occupy the home at 807 S. Mulberry. Their daughter, Annette Haworth Kindall '43, died two years ago. Jim Kindall '75, Chanute, Kansas, is a grandson.

Mr. Haworth served his alma mater as Dean of Men and associate professor of history and government from 1942 until his retirement in 1961. Before coming to the University he had been a teacher at Ottawa High School for twenty-one years. He was author of two books: Ottawa University: Its History and Its Spirit, published in 1957; and Born Barefooted, a biographical history of life in the primitive Ozark hill-country, in 1969. He also compiled histories of the Kansas Baptist Convention and of the First Baptist Church of Ottawa.

-- The Ottawa University Song Book, including songs written by Smith and Glenn Dick '23, now professor emeritus of the University, was edited by these two in 1963, and distributed widely among students and alumni. Their song "Remember" is a part of the University heritage, and certainly Smith Haworth will be remembered as a "part of the Ottawa spirit."
