

Dr. Warren S. Gordis, famous
O.U. professor of languages from

1907 to 1912, died January 14 at his home in De Land, Florida. For many years Dr. Gordis was a professor at Stetson University until his retirement a few years ago.

In 1953 he was an honor guest at the 40th reunion of the 1913 class. He was then 90 years old, but had the good mind and wit of his sparkling self.

The tribute to him by the '13'ers was proof of his value to the University.