

Dr. Conrad will take the place of Dr. S. P. Fogdall who resigned to fill a pastorate in Clarks Grove, Minnesota. Most of his training has been in eastern schools, having taken his A. B. work at Brown University, his M. A. study at Clark University and his Ph. D. work at Toronto University. He chose the Canadian institution for his final graduate study due to the fact that his selected research problem concerned Canadian-American relations. He is a native of New Hampshire. Dr. Conrad entered the matrimonial field this summer.

All three of the new men come to the University with exceptionally fine recommendations. They were selected after Dr. Martin interviewed and corresponded with a large number of applicants.
