No "winner" or "sweepstakes" trophy was awarded. In Men's Extempore, because the two top places were very close, the coaches by unanimous vote awarded two "superiors." Only person to win two first places in individual events was Joe Farnham, State College. Paul Rogness, Augustana, however, won a "superior" certificate in Extempore and in Debate.

Province of the Northwest

Theodore O. H. Karl, Governor, Pacific Lutheran, Parkland, Washington

The Province of the Northwest held their convention and tournament, April 10 - 12, 1958, on the campus of Idaho State College at Pocatello, Idaho.

The department of Speech-Drama, the faculty, students and administration put their best foot forward, and the thirteen schools in attendance were generous and genuine in their praises of the hospitality extended by Idaho State College.

Visiting schools were met with a Western welcome, including a kiss for the men from an "Indian Princess" in authentic tribal dress.

Governor Ted Karl, and his squad from Pacific Lutheran ran a rather tight schedule. His debaters were still participating in the finals as their train pulled into the station. A police escort enabled them to board the train in time.

An experimental Forensic event made history at the tournament. Contestants read serious prose on closed-circuit television, then answered questions concerning the literature. A panel of judges viewed from monitors.

The host school, Idaho State College, is extremely appreciative that the chapters accepted their bid for the convention and pleased with the cooperation of the Province.

Chapter Notes

HARDING COLLEGE

The Arkansas Zeta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta participated in eight tournaments during the collegiate debate season in addition to hosting the Lower Mississippi Provincial Tournament the last weekend in March. This was the first time for Harding to serve as host to the provincial convention.

IDAHO STATE

On March 26, 1958, the Idaho Gamma Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta admitted eight new members into the honorary Forensic organization. The initiation was held at the home of Dr. Carl W. McIntosh, President of Idaho State College. After a brief hazing period, eight neophytes were formally introduced to the beautiful initiation ceremonies of Pi Kappa Delta. The new members at Idaho State College are Stanley Byrd, Lonnie Kelley, Carolyn Fishburn, Pat McDermott, Sally Thornton, John Clawson, Darlene Gaines, and Diane Bilyeu. Honorary membership was given to Roger Walters, instructor in Speech, Radio, and Television at I.S.C. Mr. Walters was given this honor in recognition of his interest, participation, and active assistance in Forensics activities at the College.

Tom Stoltz, the chapter president, awarded some of the old members with degrees in special distinction. These degrees went to Larry Judd, Norman Smith, Eileen Taney, and Jon Harward. Thus nine new members join the ranks of those endeavoring to further the place of Forensics in institutions of higher learning.

LOS ANGELES STATE COLLEGE

The Los Angeles State College members of Pi Kappa Delta have been quite active in forensics since the beginning of '58.

The new semester was inaugurated with a debate tour of California by four senior debaters, Mike Schon, Larry Teplin, Alan Dinehart, and Carl Bovero, along with coach Dr. Robert Kully. These four seniors debated at six northern California schools on their tour.

At the U.C.L.A. individual events tournament held on the 14th of February, Jim Galbraith took top honors in oratory, with each Pi Kappa Delta member receiving an excellent or superior award in his events.

Mike Schon and Larry Teplin have led Los Angeles State senior division debaters since joining forces in February. In the last two tournaments, Schon and Teplin have won nine out of ten debates. With these ten wins they won first place at the Pomona cross-examination tournament, and were one of three teams given superior awards at the Redlands Spring Debate Championship. In the latter tournament, Manuel Aranda and Larry Samovar of the lower division led all debaters in their class with a 5-1 record and a superior award.

On February 23-25 Dr. Kully with Mike Schon, Jim Galbriath and Mary Ellerman attended the Portland Town Meeting in Portland, Oregon. The trip was quite a success as Mike Schon came home with second place, Jim Galbriath with fifth place, and Mary Ellerman ranked high among her competitors. This performance by the trio was enough to give Los Angeles State College, third place among all competing schools.

The forensic year for our Pi Kappa Delta members has been a successful one, and anticipation is high for the remainder of the semester.

According to Dr. Robert Cathcart, Pi Kappa Delta advisor, plans for a Pi Kappa Delta Awards Banquet to culminate the forensic year are now being contemplated for May.

MARYVILLE COLLEGE

The Tennessee Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta has been having a very active debate season. A novice tournament was sponsored in November and was attended by Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Carson-Newman College, University of Tennessee, and Lincoln Memorial University. It consisted of three rounds of debate open to beginning debaters only. Supper was served to all by members of Pi Kappa Delta at Maryville.

Maryville debaters attended the Appalachian Forensic tournament at Boone, North Carolina, in December winning first place in men's and women's debate; and the Tennessee State Tournament held at Vanderbilt University on January 31st and February 1st, winning second in women's debate and tying for third in sweepstakes. The maximum number of contestants entered each of the individual contests, placing in many of them.

They also attended the South Atlantic tournament at Hickory, North Carolina, the last of February, winning first in men's and women's debate and sweepstakes with a record of 21 wins and 7 losses for the four teams. In individual events Maryville placed first in men's situation oratory, men's extemporaneous speaking, men's after-dinner speaking, women's extemporaneous speaking, and women's poetry reading, and second in men's oratory, men's address reading, men's problem solving, women's situation and standard oratory, and women's radio extemporaneous speaking.

The team will participate in the Smoky Mountain tournament at Carson-Newman College on March 27 and 28, and was especially looking forward to the Southeastern Provincial tournament which was held at Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, on April 10 to 12.

Officers for 1957-58 are: president, Eleonore Koster; vice president, Bob Bogle; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Paterson; and reporter, Corita Erwin. Sponsor of the group is Mr. Newell Witherspoon.

MIDDLE TENNESSEE STATE COLLEGE, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

At the half-way point of the 1957-1958 forensic year, the Middle Tennessee State College chapter of Pi Kappa Delta and eligible new members are enjoying a successful forensic year. The debate squad, consisting of five men's and four women's teams, worked steadily during the Fall Quarter preparing cases and participating in squad practice debates. In November, two senior teams took part in the Kentucky

Western Pre-Season Tournament, held at Bowling Green, Kentucky.

On January 4, 1958, our chapter sponsored an experimental one-day tournament on the M.T.S.C. campus, inviting only those mid-state colleges that could make the tournament and return home in one day. Vanderbilt University, David Lipscomb, Tennessee Tech, Belmont and Middle Tennessee State participated in the contest. There was a Junior Division for first year debaters and a Senior Division. The unusual feature of the tournament was the Debate-Judging Contest. For each two teams entered by a school, an experienced debater had to be entered as a critic-judge. After each of the three rounds of debate, the judge gave a five-minute impromptu oral critique before the two teams he had just judged and then announced his decision. The four debaters then evaluated the judge's speaking ability on special ballots. At the conclusion of three rounds the champion team in each division and the best Critic-Judge Speaker was announced. Jean Adamson of M.T.S.C. was declared the winning Critic-Judge Speaker.

On January 31 and February 1, seventeen M.T.S.C. speakers and debaters attended the Tennessee Forensic Association Tournament, held on the campus of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee. One-hundred and fifteen students from eleven Tennessee universities and colleges participated in the tournament. Jean Adamson, senior P.K.D. member, won first place in Oratory and Improptu Speaking, and placed second in Extempore. She and her sister, Joyce Adamson, won the Woman's Debate Division and Jean was declared Best Woman Debater in the tournament. M.T.S.C. won the Sweepstakes trophy.

Selected members of the squad will attend the Magnolia Tournament in Columbus, Mississippi and P.K.D. members completed the season by participating in the Southeastern Provincial, Winston-Salem, North Carolina in April.

MORNINGSIDE COLLEGE

Morningside College's Iowa Delta chapter of Pi Kappa Delta initiated nine new members at a banquet held at the Silver

Steer Restaurant on Wednesday, March 19, in Sioux City.

Guests at the banquet were Professor and Mrs. Max Collier, Dean Lola Jacobs, and Professor Philip Clarkson. All are members of the Morningside College speech department and of Pi Kappa Delta.

Nancy Crary, a junior from Sioux City, was awarded the degree of Special Distinction

TENNESSEE TECH

The intramural debate tournament for inexperienced debaters held at Tennessee Tech last forensic season yielded fine results for the speech activities group.

The winners of the intramurals, Don Long and Bill Balch, have produced good records for first year debaters this year and have qualified for Pi Kappa Delta. These boys have a 7-4 record in three intercollegiate tournaments. Balch also placed excellent at the Alabama Discussion Tournament held November 7-9 at the University of Alabama. At the state tournament January 31 - February 1 at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, he was awarded the second place in men's debating.

The first debate tournament that Tech attended this season was the Western Kentucky State College meet, November 16. Ganelle McClure was chosen second in individual debating and she and her colleague, Miss Faye Derryberry, received awards as best women debaters.

With a six-out-of-ten record, Tech, represented by Miss McClure, Miss Derryberry, Bill Harris and Ed Bondurant, was awarded the third place trophy at the Agnes Scott Tournament at Decatur, Alabama, January 9-11.

Faye Derryberry won first place in after-dinner speaking at the state tournament and second place in women's debating.

Pat Suddarth and Jeanette Williams, freshmen, won second place in the junior debating division at the Middle Tennessee State College Tournament, January 4. Hugh McHenry and Hugh Denny tied for the best speaker award at the West Georgia Tournament February 6-8.

The members of the Tennessee Delta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta are William Harris, president; Ed Bondurant, Ganelle McClure, Faye Derryberry, Patsy Reynolds, Betty Tallant, Hugh Denny, Walter Powers, and Mr. Herman Pinkerton, advisor; and Mrs. Helen Nash Gordon, assistant.

Leon Clymore and Bill Floyd made outstanding records with a very high won-lost average. Eddy Nicholson and Ron Rea were undefeated at a tournament at College of the Ozarks for Arkansas teams only. Both speakers received top ratings.

A special service rendered by the chapter was their assistance at a high school debate clinic at Hall High School in Little Rock, under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite Metcalf, speech teacher at Hall. Bill Floyd and Leon Clymore debated Eddy Nicholson and Ron Rea on the national high school debate question before the entire student body and visiting high school debaters. Following the debate, Dr. Evan Ulrey, sponsor of the Harding chapter of PKD and chairman of the Speech department, analyzed the debate. Four separate discussion groups were then led by the PKD debaters for the high school debaters. Both the affirmative and the negative cases were developed. The entire clinic was marked by enthusiasm.

This chapter also awarded the newly created PKD Forensic Trophy to the campus social club winning the most points in forensics in the first annual intramural speech festival at the college. This beautiful trophy will bear the name of Pi Kappa Delta and be awarded annually to the men's or women's social club accumulating the most points in the festival. The chapter also draws up the debate proposition for the tournament which is sponsored by the speech department.

Ridin' the Provinces

Another college forensic year. A new format for The Forensic. Serving as your editor while removed from the active ranks of speech activities coaches has created a major problem. Unable to meet and talk with students and faculty engaged in forensics, my ability to discover and interpret the currents of opinion has been sadly lacking. As a result, encouraging and requesting articles and information has been difficult.

In March the following note was sent to all Pi Kappa Delta sponsors:

"We have noticed that the flow of the above-named items has slowed to a trickle. Although most of the material for the March issue of The Forensic is on hand, this note is to encourage all to send material for future issues.

"Articles on subjects of interest to both students and faculty are needed. Sample subject areas are:

1. The place of forensics in (your type) college.
2. The value of (any forensics event) to (any profession or vocation).
3. Purposes, problems, procedures in forensics participation.

"We suggest a limit of 1,000 words for articles.

"All material sent should be typed and double-spaced, ready for the printer. Please send two copies.

"Send articles and general communications to the editor. Send chapter notes to: Malcolm Sillars, San Fernando State College, 1811 Nordhoff Street, Northridge, California. Send alumni news to: Franklin Shirley, Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina."

On May 1, not a single response has been received.

Therefore, I am reprinting this request as a plea for action. The Forensic should be a balanced magazine. Balance includes news, official communication, information, pictures, an attractive arrangement, and expressions of thoughtful opinion on forensics and Pi Kappa Delta.

When you finish reading this section, make a note of an idea for an article. Write your editor suggesting a needed article. Tell him of your plans to write for publication in The Forensic. If you have written something on forensics worthy of publication, check it for style and conformity to word limitation, and send it along.

Best wishes for a pleasant summer, free from the ulcers, frustrations and occasional triumphs of forensic competition.

Alumni News

William Jewell College of Liberty, Missouri — Pi Kappa Delta alumnus Joe Taylor was in the thick of the recent political uprising in Venezuela. Taylor, a graduate of William Jewell College (Missouri Delta), is United Press correspondent in Caracas. Time Magazine (Feb. 4) reports: "United Press Correspondent Joseph Taylor, 31, sent the first wire-service flash pm the government's fall in pidgin Franch. By the time A.P. filed its first bulletin, Taylor's English-language story had been cleared by censors and was clacking over the teletype."

Northwestern University — Mr. Richard J. Stricker, University of Dubuque class of '57, has been appointed to a full time Graduate Assistantship in the Speech Education Department at Northwestern University. He is past president of the Iowa Lambda Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta and was a member of the Dubuque University debate squad for three years.
