

of work in such a manner as not to interfere materially with the endowment work. Terms so favorable, with a man so well fitted for the ~~work~~ place was deemed very fortunate. Bro. Warley entered upon the active duties of his office at the beginning of December 1881 and has steadily presented it since, with a faith, courage and devotion so much needed in so difficult an undertaking. An effort was made to obtain free passes over the Rail Roads of the State, which with the generous assistance of friends, proved generally successful. Owing to the light crops of last year - together with the struggle in many of the churches to pay off old indebtedness or to erect new buildings, the work has been much harder than under more favorable circumstances - yet a little more than seven thousand dollars has been secured in good bonds the conditions of which are familiar to you all. In addition to the endowment work we feel that Bro. Warley is doing a work of equal importance in removing obstacles, deepening the interest of friends, and especially in awakening young men to the importance of more training, to enable them to better meet the duties of life, whether in the pulpit, or in secular pursuits - thus preparing

Of work in such a manner as not to interfere materially with the endowment work. Terms no favorable with a man as well fitted for the ~~wash~~ place was deemed vary fortunate. Bro. Manley entered upon the active duties of his office at the beginning of December 1881 and has steadily prosecuted it since, with a faith, courage and devotion so much needed in as difficult on maker taking. An effort was made to obtain free passes over the Rail Road of the State, which with the generous assistance of friends proceed generally successful. Owing to the light xxxx of last year to gather with the struggle in many of the churches to pay off old indebtedness or to erect new buildings, the work has been much harder than under more favorable circumstance yet a little more than seven thousand dollars has been secured in good bonds the conditions of which are familiar to you all. In addition to the endowment was no feel that Bro. Manley in doing a work of equal importance in remaining abstracted, deepening the interest of friends, and especially in awakening young were to the importance of more training, to enable them to better meet the duties of file, xxxxxxxxx in the pulpit, as in xxxxxx pursuit then preparing .