

RACE ISN'T OVER

O. U. Braves See a Chance in Game With Bethany Tonight.

"We are right in the midst of this Kansas conference race and even though we had some tough luck we still have a chance at the championship," said Coach Dee Errickson this morning in commenting on the game tonight in the junior high school gym with Bethany. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. A preliminary between the Lesh Oilers and the O. U. freshmen will be played at 7 o'clock.

Errickson had not decided for sure as to his starting lineup. Allan Pett's father died in Topeka yesterday so that takes Pett out. Errickson will probably start Harding and Seymour at guards, Barker at center and Lynch and Daylight at forwards.

Ottawa nosed out Bethany 30 to 29 a few weeks ago at Lindsborg and this game should be as close unless one of the teams is hot. The Bethany team is small but plays a hard, fast game and if they are hot they are apt to give opponents trouble. Coach Elmer Schaaake, former K. U. star, will probably start Bruce and Hartley at forwards, Cole at center and Lemon and Uhler at guards.

Not so many years back it will be recalled that the Bethany Swedes when they had plenty of Larsons were feared far and wide and rightly so, for they had a terrible habit of looping shots in consistently. They added to that a right tight zone defense which usually left opponents hanging on the ropes by the end of the first half. But in those days Binns and Kepner were hot shooting it for Ottawa, consequently the Swede games were rousing affairs. The Lindsborgians, however, most often went back with a few points margin. Since the going of the Larson brothers the Swedes have slipped a bit but are now on the road to the top and perhaps before too long Elmer Schaaake will be sending forth terrible Swede teams to strike fear into the hearts of opponents.

M'PHERSON WINS, 39-37

Trims Ottawa U. in Brilliant Overtime Cage Duel.

Ottawa, Kan., Feb. 4.—(A. P.) McPherson kept its Kansas conference record clean here tonight by defeating Ottawa university, 39-37, in a brilliantly played game which went five minutes overtime. At the regular finish the score was 33 all. Meyer was high-pointner with six field goals.

Remodeled O. U. Team at Its Best in Defeating Bethany.

With two freshmen holding down the guard positions and Gerald Barker shifted to center, Ottawa University clicked nicely to defeat Bethany College last night, 40 to 27, on the junior high school court. Only the stellar shooting of Hartley from deep in the corners during the last half saved Bethany from a rout.

The two freshman guards were Eugene Harding and Rule Seymour. These boys fitted right nicely into the offensive and defensive playing of the Braves. Harding played an especially nice game in getting the ball off the backboard on defense.

The big thrill feature of the game was the battle between Clarence Daylight of the Braves and Hartley of the Swedes. The former got 6 baskets for 12 points, some of the shots being sensational long ones. Hartley dropped in 5 long shots from away out in the corners to score along with a free throw, 11 points. Both Daylight and Hartley are distance men and so did quite a bit of running around.

A great deal of the credit for the victory should go to Barker who besides scoring 10 points on 3 baskets and 4 free throws, played one of the nicest floor games of the year. He was a powerhouse in getting the ball off the backboard and starting the Ottawa fast break. He intercepted many passes and in general kept the Braves cool and smooth.

Joe Lynch, the black-haired forward who handles the ball so admirably, dropped in 5 baskets to score 10 points. His brilliant floor game and his scoring gave the fans quite a few thrills.

The game started off slowly with the Braves having possession of the ball most of the time. They led the Swedes 20 to 9 at the half. Both teams played faster ball in the second half. Hartley of Bethany cut loose with his long shots from the corners to keep his team scoring evenly with the Braves. But the Braves held the advantage they had piled up in the first period.

Tuesday night McPherson comes to Ottawa for another conference game. The Bulldogs played Ottawa one of the best games of the season when they came here last year and the Braves had to play hard fast ball to win 33 to 30. It is expected the teams will play another good game Tuesday night.

In a preliminary last night the Lesh Oilers defeated the O. U. freshmen 23 to 22. It was a close game throughout and there was some dispute about the final score. The two teams may be matched for a game later in the season. On the Oilers' team were Klauman, Sellers, Peffly and Summers, old timers.

The box score of the main game:

FACES A TOUGH GAME

O. U. Will Meet McPherson Here Tomorrow Night.

The McPherson Bulldogs will invade Ottawa tomorrow night for a Kansas conference basketball game with the Ottawa University Braves to be played on the junior high school court. The varsity game which starts at 8 o'clock will be preceded by a return engagement between the O. U. freshman team and the Lesh Oilers.

Coach Dee Errickson said this morning the McPherson team is sure to be one of the best that will be seen here this season. Led by Tony Meyers, who towers 6 feet, 6 inches, the Bulldogs will control the tip at center and will thus start with a good advantage. They have been hitting the basket well and the passing attack this year has, with Meyers' height, enabled them to keep possession of the ball much of the time.

Fans will remember that last year the Braves beat the Bulldogs 33 to 30 here in an exciting game that later proved to be one of the deciding contests of the Kansas conference race which the Braves won. This year conditions are somewhat the same. Melvin Binford's McPherson team has not been defeated in the conference and is in a tie with Baker for first place. The Ottawans have lost only two games this season. Last season they won the conference title with a standing of 8 won and 2 lost. The Braves do not feel they are out of the running yet and believe they are back in good form once more after a couple of setbacks a week ago.

The preliminary game between the Lesh Oilers and O. U. freshmen promises to be a thriller also. Last Friday the two teams met and the decision went to the Oilers 23 to 22. However, there was a little argument about the score. The freshmen claimed one of their members made a free throw which did not appear on the book of the scorekeeper. The latter said he might have missed one but did not relent and let an overtime period be played as would have been done had the free throw in question counted. Another matter which will make the game interesting is the fact that John Haley who played guard for the Oilers claims he did not make four fouls and should not have been thrown out of the game. Tomorrow night he expects to put on a "lily white" exhibition of superior guarding in holding Wiberg and Pearson, hot shots of the freshman team, to no baskets—or maybe just a few.

BOTH SIDES IN AFRICAN DISPUTE

DR. FOGDALL SUMMARIZES THE ARGUMENTS.

Based on Unbiased Facts, Including Foreign Press, and a Study of Situation.

Dr. S. P. Fogdall, head of the history and government department at Ottawa University, has summarized for The Herald the major arguments cited for Ethiopia and for Italy in the present international situation.

He has been aided in keeping in touch with the situation by getting the European viewpoints direct from foreign newspapers including a Danish daily, Kolding Folkeblad; the Yugoslav Herald of Belgrade, hostile to Italy; La Macedoine, published in Sofia, Belgrade, and Croatia published in Geneva, both papers hostile to Jugoslavia. He also reads several foreign language dailies published in the United States, most of them German.

Much unbiased news comes to him from his Danish connections. He was born in Denmark, which is connected by trade or royal family connections with all of Europe, yet is neutral and independent. Danish is the family language, he says, of most of the crowned heads of Europe, most of whom can trace their ancestry to Frederick II of Denmark, who lived about 1500.

He has read authoritatively of revolts in the Italian army, of men being shot at sunrise and hundreds imprisoned, and of shiploads of soldiers returning sick and wounded to Italy.

In presenting the following arguments, Dr. Fogdall endorses none of them as necessarily justified or logical or accurate:

Points in Favor of Ethiopia

1. Italy has entered as an intruder against which Ethiopia has had to fight in 1881, 1889 and 1896.

Eritrea and Somaliland were originally part of the Ethiopian empire.

2. (a) The Wal Wal affair in December, 1934, was caused by Italy, because Italian soldiers were on Italian soil. Mussolini took advantage of it to pick a quarrel with Ethiopia.

(b) When Ethiopia proposed arbitration by neutrals Mussolini demanded: 1. Apology (public); 2. Salute to the Italian flag; 3. Payment of indemnity.

(c) Ethiopia refused to do that until it was settled whether she was to blame.

(d) Mussolini refused to submit to arbitration in spite of the fact both Italy and Ethiopia are members of the League.

(e) An English (neutral) observer on the spot declared that Italian soldiers were on Ethiopian soil.

(f) In July, 1934 Mussolini had started to plan an expedition into Ethiopia. This was a good while before the Wal Wal incident. Thus it is clear that the Wal Wal affair is only used as a welcome pretext by Mussolini.

Note: In July, 1934, Mussolini sent General Badoglio and a military commission to Eritrea to investigate and report on the prospects of a campaign. When they returned they reported that a campaign into Ethiopia would take 3,400,000 men and 7,800,000,000 lire. This made Mussolini mad and he tore the report to pieces. He had assumed it could be done with 70,000 to 80,000 men and less than 250,000,000 lire. The Italian commission estimated the campaign would take two years. Neutral foreign experts hold that it would take four years and an indefinite time more in guerrilla warfare.

These facts show that the Wal Wal affair is not the cause of the present trouble, as Mussolini had planned a campaign before the affair happened.

3. Mussolini has shown in word and act that his real cause is pure and simple conquest. He wants Italian expansion. Ethiopia happens to be the place where his chances are best. He may thus consolidate Eritrea and Somaliland.

4. Ethiopia has repeatedly, but to no avail, offered to submit the whole matter to arbitration by neutrals and has promised to abide by the decision. Mussolini has refused to accept this. That shows bad faith.

5. Mussolini demands that Ethiopia accept Italian terms. (The eastern part of Ethiopia must be surrendered and the rest of the country be put under Italian military control.) Ethiopia holds that to be unfair demands on an independent nation, unless just and sufficient reason be given to her and the rest of the world powers.

Points in Favor of Italy

1. Italy feels that she is only one of the European powers in Africa that hold colonies. She has as much right there as Eritrea and France. They all recognize each other as intruders carrying on what is known as colonial enterprises.

2. In return for material and financial aid from Italy in 1889, Ethiopia in the treaty of Ucciali placed herself under the protectorate of Italy and "agreed to deal with other powers through the medium of Italy." In spite of this, Ethiopia has carried on her own diplomacy claiming that according to the Ethiopian text of the treaty she was merely urged not obliged to deal with other powers through the medium of Italy. In 1890 Italy sent Count Antonelli to Ethiopia to propose a formula that would be interpreted the same by both parties. Through fraud the Negus secured Antonelli's signature to a document, written in Ethiopian, which abolished the Italian protectorate. (Ethiopia denies fraud.)

This led to the war of 1896 and the defeat of Italy at Aduwa. This situation has been underlying the border clashes that have taken place frequently to the present time.

3. Since the boundary line between Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland is not settled Italy holds that Ethiopia has no right to claim that Wal Wal is in Ethiopian territory. In fact Italy holds that Wal Wal is in Italian Somaliland, hence Ethiopia must apologize.

4. Ethiopia has always held the Italians in contempt, and been friendly to the French and British. Thus Italy is being treated unfairly in Ethiopia in their neighborly relations. Whenever Italy has trouble of any kind Ethiopia threatens her colonies (Eritrea and Somaliland) with military forces. Thus during the World war it was necessary to keep large Italian forces (150,000 men) in Africa which could have been used at home had it not been for Ethiopia.

5. Italy has tried to secure concessions in Ethiopia by friendly means, but has been scornfully rejected. This is so in spite of the fact that the Japanese have recently (1932) secured a concession of 650,000 hectares of land (1,608,177 acres) for a cotton plantation project in eastern Ethiopia between Eritrea and Somaliland. Italy takes the whole situation as a deliberate insult.

6. As every other thickly populated country in Europe, so Italy needs a place for her surplus population, now that other doors (U. S.) are closed to her emigrants. In attempting to get into Ethiopia she is doing only what other nations have been doing in other places. "Italy signed the Kellogg pact on the same conditions as the other powers. She has as much right as Great Britain to oppose foreign interference in the territories where she has special and vital interests to safeguard." (From Italian pamphlet).

7. Italy's struggle in Africa is one for the advancement of civilization. By Italian tutelage the Ethiopians will be raised from semi-barbarism to the white man's civilization.

(a) Administration of law is medieval, depending upon the caprice of a few. A murder in Ethiopia is not a crime against the state. If a murder is committed and the family is willing to accept a "price of blood," the state cannot punish the killer.

(b) Slavery is still in vogue in spite of Ethiopia's promise to abolish it. In Addis Ababa there are more slaves than free men. As in every other place where slavery exists gross immorality is practiced. The slave women are unable to protect themselves against the will of the masters.

(c) The country is under the control of feudal lords known as Ras. Each of these carry on government in his own province as he sees fit, as long as taxes are paid to the general government. One of these chiefs stated to Lord Lugard, "We would rather die than give up our slaves." Only the shock of a war will awaken Ethiopia to the need of modern reform. Italy intends to accomplish this.

OTTAWA U. KEEPS CASH BASIS PLAN

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET WITH DR. MARTIN.

School Program to be Reorganized, With Enlarged Faculty —Inaugural in January.

Ottawa University will remain on the cash basis and practice strict economy in every department, it was decided last night at a meeting of the university executive committee in session for the first time with President Andrew B. Martin.

Dr. Martin this morning announced the remainder of this year will be spent in reorganizing the entire program of the school. No additions to the faculty will be made for the second semester. Plans will be made, however, for offering an enlarged curriculum next year with several additions to the faculty.

"We intend to live within our income," said the new president. "And we hope to raise enough money to meet the budget that we have set for ourselves. At the same time we are planning for the future of the university and will not be content to permit it to drift along. We want a greater university."

The committee briefly discussed the inaugural of Dr. Martin. No definite date has been set but it is expected the ceremonies will be held in January. Arthur E. Willis, chairman of the executive committee, is to appoint committees immediately.

Executive committee members present were Fred P. Martin of Topeka, Arthur E. Willis, Bert Anderson, Clarence W. Hegberg, M. H. Forester, B. F. Bowers and Edmund Lister of Ottawa.
