DR. PRICE RETURNS.

After Week's Visiting and Speaking Among Baptists of the State. He Has Noted Some Great Needs—Finds Praise for O. U.

Dr. Price says that the outlook for the Baptist denomination in Kansas is not as bright as it should be. The great trouble that the church is facing now is the lack of educated ministers. The churches, he says, are not keeping up with the advancement of country. He is receiving requests every few days asking him to recommend some minister for a vacant pulpit, but he says that there are none to be recommended. He has requests now from over half a dozen churches that will pay a salary of over a thousand dollars but there is no one for him to reccemmend for the vacancolleges to furnish them with the prop er kind of ministers. While the churches ore looking to the colleges for their leaders it is a strange fact that scarcely ever does a young man decide to take up the ministry after he has begun work in college, while it is not uncommon for those who have entered with that purpose to change and

The churches are depending on the

cies.

begun work in college, while it is not uncommon for those who have entered with that purpose to change and take up some other profession.

Dr. Price returned last Monday from a weeks trip in the interest of the college. He was working in the central and western part of the state. He reports that he finds a strong sentiment in favor of O. U., every where and that he has heard the greatest praise for the school and the work it is doing.

Monday evening he spoke at Nick-

Monday evening he spoke at Nickerson, Tuesday evening at Alden, Thursday he visited Great Bend and Larned, and Sunday he filled the pulpit of the Baptist church at Pratt, both morning and evening.