Distinguished Alumni Award

Senator Karl E. Mundt (R., S.D.) is optimistic about the chances of settling the Middle Eastern situation, he told more than 700 delegates attending the National Pi Kappa Delta convention at South Dakota State College.

Senator Mundt was presented the first annual distinguished alumni award by the forensic fraternity before giving the address Monday afternoon, April 15th, which started the discussion phase of the convention. The award was presented by Theodore F. Nelson of St. Olaf College, president of the society.

While the South Dakota senator said he was not certain that war can be prevented in the explosive situation, he was encouraged by several good signs in that area.

He dwelt particularly on the role of the United Nations efforts, saying that the U.N. had had its "most purple hour of success" in preventing the conflict from spreading into another World War.

Senator Mundt praised the United States' action in sticking by the United Nations in the time of peril. He said that if this country had supported Israel, England and France, the Russians would have been forced to side with Egypt, a situation which would have triggered a major war.

The UN's success in stopping the fighting will give the world an opportunity to face up to the many problems in that area and perhaps come up with a solution which will allow all countries concerned to "save face," he remarked.

In addition to praising the UN police force, the Senator noted several other encouraging signs in the Middle East.

He mentioned particularly the fact that Yugoslav troops were included in the forces from the small countries forming the world police unit. He also noted that Russia is preoccupied with problems at home and in other parts of the world.

Remarking that the U.S. could force the fall of Nasser at any time, Mundt voiced the hope that Egypt would in time come up with a leader who would be more reasonable.

Mundt also traced the development of the Middle Eastern crisis from the end of World War I for the benefit of speech students who would be talking on this subject during discussion competition at the national convention.

Eternal Truth, Tool Of Effective Speech

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, Chairman, Department of Speech, State University of Pennsylvania, addressed the Convention at 10:30 a.m., April 17.

Speaking on "The Power of the Person", Oliver highlighted the convention as one of the two main features of the week. His purpose was to present a message on the principles of effective speaking to the assembled delegates. President Eisenhower provided the text of his address in his stated formula for winning campaigns: "It's not so much what you say that counts as whether they believe you after you've gone."

Using an inductive structure, Dr. Oliver strove to develop the thesis that "as speakers, the great challenge that lies before us is to become fit instruments for speaking our best and fullest share of eternal truth and then our great hope may be that what we have said may be remembered and believed and accepted after we have gone."

With illustrations and quotations chosen from a wide variety of personal experiences, in China, the Philippines, Korea, and the United Nations, the speaker gave these main points: (1) Have sincerity and courage to strive to be right; (2) Don't try to tell all you know but what you most truly believe and why; (3) Remember that the success of speeches may not be known for twenty years after they are given.

He closed with this moving illustration: "Twenty-seven hundred years ago, King Janka of Vehedas, India, sought wisdom. The wise scholar, Yajnavalkya, was queried by the king in the following dialogue:

King: Great Sage, answer me: what light is the light of man?

Scholar: The light of the sun is the light of

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, Convention Speaker

man, oh king. It is by the light of the sun that man does all his work.

King: It is as you say. But by what light is man guided when the sun has set?

Scholar: By the light of the moon, great king, for it is by the light of the moon that man must labor after the sun has set.

King: But what light is the guide of man when the moon has set?

Scholar: When the moon sets, man is guided by the light of fire.

King: It is as you say. But when the fire goes out, what guides man then?

Scholar: Speech, oh King. By speech man is guided even in the dark:

King: But what is the light to guide man, oh Sage, when the sun has set, and the moon has set, and the fire is out, and his speech is silent?

Scholar: When the sun has set, and the moon has set, and the fire is out, and his speech is silent, Great King, the Soul is the Light of Man! For the Soul is all we can master of the inner nature of Truth."

C I T A T I O N

Senator Karl E. Mundt, you have been chosen by the National Council of Pi Kappa Delta as a person that exemplifies the high purposes of Pi Kappa Delta, "The art of persuasion, beautiful and just." In recognition of your distinguished service and contribution to the cause of Speech, the National Pi Kappa Delta Fraternity takes pleasure in presenting you with its highest honor—"The Distinguished Alumni Award." You are being so honored first because of what you have done. We wish to honor you for your strong interest in public speaking, evidenced by your excellent work as a teacher of speech and director of forensics while serving on the faculty of the speech department at South Dakota's Eastern State Normal school at Madison, South Dakota, and as evidenced by your continuing interest in the National Forensic League, and as further evidenced by the quality and excellence of your many platform and congressional speeches. We further wish to honor you for your long and faithful service to the national government of the United States of America, dating back to your first election to the Congress of this country in 1938 and continuing in that house until 1948 when you were elected to the United States Senate, which position you have held since then. We wish to recognize as well your many services to various Congressional committees and commissions, among which we should mention your chairmanship of the widely televised Army-McCarthy hearings, the Agriculture, and Forestry Committee, the Appropriations Committee, the select Committee on Labor Management Relations, and your current chairmanship of the Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission.

Even more important than what you have accomplished are the high ideals which you have exemplified by the life you have led. In recognition of these accomplishments and high ideals, I present you with this plaque as a physical token of the "Pi Kappa Delta Distinguished Alumni Award", upon which the following citation is inscribed: "1957 - Pi Kappa Delta - Distinguished Alumni Award - (with the inscribed key symbolic of our fraternity) - The Honorable Karl E. Mundt - Presented in Recognition of Outstanding Achievement to the Nation in Forensics."

The Twentieth Biennial Convention of Pi Kappa Delta opens at South Dakota State College, Brookings, as President Theodore Nelson prepares to pound the gavel at the first business session and Secretary-Treasurer D. J. Nabors gets ready to call the roll of chapters.
