GRANT DIPLOMAS TO 51 SENIORS AT OTTAWA U.

Final Commencement Exercises Held Today

MANY VISITORS HERE

Alumni and Former Students and Parents and Relatives of Graduates Here Over Week-End; Announcement Is Made of Honors, Prizes and Scholarships; Dr. Hale of Wichita, Speaker.

The rush of commencement and reunion activities which have occupied the attention of students, alumni and faculty of Ottawa University since Saturday, was completed shortly after noon today. At commencement exercises this morning at First Baptist church, 51 seniors were presented B. A. degrees.

Urges Moral Fitness

Dr. Lewis M. Hale of Wichita in making the address to the seniors on the subject of "Moral Implications" warned that a college man must be morally fit. He pointed out the folly of society providing a trained mind for a morally unfit man. He told the seniors it was the obligation of the college graduate to accept, practice and propagate an altruistic philosophy of life. In closing he said that the college graduate is obligated to serve his fellow man.

At the start of his address, Dr. Hale spoke of the enormous cost of colleges in America, $500,000,000 annually. He pointed out the advantages which a college student might have the opportunity of obtaining: the ability of expression, the ability to think, a knowledge of the universe, and a broad minded conception of the world in which we live. He told the seniors that a college education was not the biggest thing in the way of life training, but that it was up to them to use it in the best fashion.

An Honorary Degree

Dr. H. E. Dana, president of the Kansas City Seminary, was presented an honorary doctor of laws degree in recognition of the service which he has rendered to the Baptist denomination of Kansas. Dr. Dana only recently became head of the minister-training institution of Kansas City, Kas., but has already made significant improvements.

Dr. Powell Weaver, noted composer, head of the O. U. department of music, presided at the pipe organ this morning. Special music included a girls' trio and men's quartet. The candidates for degrees were presented to President A. B. Martin by Dean W. B. Wilson. Dr. W. A. Elliott gave the invocation and benediction.

At the baccalaureate services yesterday morning, special music

First National bank, went to Louise and Nelda udde of Meade. The Ellen Shelden Penny award, memorial of the 1934 class was given to Robert Steiger.

Four scholarships were awarded: Filson-Shoemaker, 1909 class, to Evelyn Huber of Wichita, a junior next year; Liberty Memorial, 1918 class, to Louise Budde of Meade, a sophomore next year; Elizabeth Higgins, 1917 class, to Miss Frances Gentry of Garden City, a sophomore next year. The Ward alumni scholarship award went to Charlotte Young, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen B. Young of Ottawa.

Honor scholarships were awarded to Annette Haworth and Jeanne Ward, members of Ottawa high school graduating class this spring.

Many Alumni Here

Saturday and Sunday were busy occasions for the assembled alumni and friends. Big occasion Saturday was the alumni banquet which was attended by 230 alumni in Field school. In a beautifully decorated room the graduates enjoyed a program, the toastmaster of which was Dr. Ray Brewster of K. U. He introduced a program of music and talks. The dinner was served by the staff of North American hotel.

First Baptist church was filled yesterday morning for the baccalaureate services at which President Andrew B. Martin spoke. It was the first occasion where many of the alumni and friends had an opportunity to see the seniors marching in the black caps and gowns. It was a beautiful sight and was matched with impressive ceremony on the part of Dr. Martin and others on the program.

Big Crowd At Picnic

The Ward chapter picnic dinner served on the campus yesterday noon was attended by 350 alumni and friends. Adrian Gentry was chairman and was assisted by Mrs. W. E. Gilliland, Mrs. Fred Settles, Mrs. John Pinney and Miss Lulu Brown.

After the picnic dinner, alumni directors met at a brief meeting presided over by Claude Cochran of Kansas City, president of the alumni association. An alumni council was elected, composed of W. E. Gilliland, Marion C. Hume, Mrs. A. E. Willis, Mrs. Laura Sheldon Penny, Ted Palmquist of Turner, Mrs. E. E. Haley and Robert McCrea. McCrea was also named vice president of the organization. Dean Berlin was reelected secretary.

Late yesterday afternoon President and Mrs. Martin held a reception at their home for seniors, their parents and alumni. There were 142 guests.

In the evening at First Baptist church the annual student Christian association service was held with Dr. H. E. Dana of Kansas City addressing members of the organization and a large number of friends.

The last occasion of the festivities was the commencement dinner at noon at the Nelson hotel. About 100 persons attended this informal affair.

A number of the parents and other relatives of the members of the graduates were here for commencement.

Degrees were granted to the following:

Honor Students

Two members of the graduating class, Robert Steiger of El Dorado and Anthony Sapienza of Buffalo, N. Y., gained the peak of academic fame at O. U. by earning "final honors" which means almost a straight "A" average for the four years. Steiger and Lyle Bliss of Ottawa earned first honors for the year just closed. Ottawa University at First A School for Indian Tribe

Ottawa University is the result of missionary efforts by the Baptists among the Ottawa Indians, begun while they were in Canada, and continued after their settlement in Kansas. Rev. Jotham Meeker was the missionary who carried on the work. The white Baptists of Kansas had received a charter for "Roger Williams University" on February 27, 1860, and were discussing a location for it.

At the Baptist state convention in Atchison that same year, Rev. J. T. Jones, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Ottawa, an Indian church, suggested the white Baptists join with the Ottawas in establishing a school on the reservation. A committee investigated and reported favorably on the plan, after finding the Indians were anxious to have a school.

Congress set aside 20,000 acres of the Ottawa Reservation for the use of the proposed institution of learning. The same act named a board of trustees consisting of four Indians and two whites. This board in 1862 authorized the sale of 5,000 acres of the land at $1.25 an acre.

In 1865, at the request of the Indians, the name "Roger Williams University" was dropped and a new charter secured, reincorporating the school as Ottawa University. For several years the school was maintained as an Indian and white institution of learning, which was unsatisfactory to both races. In an agreement the Indians withdrew and left the school to the whites.

A section of land was retained by the new university, which was then little more than a common school. Then came Dr. Milan L.

Ward, the "grand old man" of Ottawa University. He tided the school over a serious financial crisis. His successor, Dr. P. J. Williams, served as president from 1874 to 1881. Then Doctor Ward returned to the presidency and broadened the scope of the institution.

The present campus was created in 1882. From then until the present day Ottawa University has been growing and maintains an important place in the educational circles of Kansas. Altho largely supported by Baptists, it is in no sense sectarian. It does, however, encourage Christian culture, and a manly Christian life founded upon Bible precepts.

GIRLS NEED WORK

O. U. Students Want Employment in Homes or Offices

With the opening of Ottawa University not much more than two weeks away, student employment officials at the university announced today there is a shortage of work for girls. Registration at the college opens on September 6 and classes on Sept. 11.

Mrs. George Lawrence, secretary to the president, said that she had on file applications of a large number of girls who are qualified to work in homes or offices and will be able to attend school this fall if they find employment for room and board, or in some cases room or board only.

In past years Ottawa housewives have found the services of university students in homes have been especially practical. Mrs. Lawrence said that a number of girls have already been placed, but there are many others who would like to have such work. People who are interested may call Mrs. Lawrence at 511.
