

year. James Rupp and Jon Harward were third in Men's Debate, Tileen Taney, third in Women's Extemporaneous Speaking. In Women's Oratory, Lynne Maykuth won a third place and Barbara Kuhn copped second place. Sharlene Thomas took second place and Sharon Lewis was first in Women's Interpretation. The Bengals ended in a three-way tie for the sweepstakes trophy.

In November, 1955, the ISC Discussion group, under the direction of W. N. Corbin, prepared a tape for the National Discussion Contest at the University of Illinois. The following students participated: Kent Marler, moderator; Mrs. Lora Fleming, Alan Mackay, Norma Stratton, and Jerry Willmore. This team won third behind the University of Virginia, and the Wisconsin State College at Eau Claire.

The debate squad, ever watchful for new recruits, acted as hosts for the Idaho State High School Debate Tournament held this year on the ISC campus. Plans are being made for a number of speech tournaments to be held on the ISC campus next year.

The year was brought to a close with a Pi Kappa Delta Banquet. The following officers for the year 1956-1957 were installed: President, James Rupp; Vice President, Jon Harward; Secretary-Treasurer, Lynne Maykuth; Corresponding Secretary, Sharon Lowrie.

KANSAS STATE AT EMPORIA

Emporia State was host to approximately 225 debaters on February 17 and 18 at the annual Emporia State Forensic Tournament. For the first time in several years, the tournament was open to senior as well as junior division teams. The result was one of the largest tournaments in the area for the year. Thirty-four schools from seven states took part in the two-day affair. Forty-eight teams competed in the senior division and fifty-six in the junior division of the tournament. Trophies were given to the top four teams in each division.

In addition, there were junior and senior divisions of both extemp speaking and oratory. These contests attracted approximately 140 contestants. A feature of the tournament was a contest in television speaking, to our knowledge, the first contest of its kind to be held in the area. This contest, both preliminaries and finals were telecast, using the closed circuit facilities on the E-state campus.

Pi Kappa Delta was well represented at the tournament. Of the thirty-four schools twenty-one were members of the organization. Their participation was not confined to merely being present, as six of the eight quarter-finalists in the senior division were Pi Kappa Delta. Two of the quarter-finalists in the junior division were Pi Kappa as well. The team of Joe Schubert and Milton Copeland, representing Abilene Christian, won top honors in this division. To make a perfect day for Abilene, the top junior team was Allen Isbell and Don Beck also from Abilene Christian.

In the individual events, Pi Kappa Delta has a clean sweep. Iaveta Hensley, Sterling, won junior Oratory; Charles Fulcher, Southwestern, won senior oratory; Allen Isbell, Abilene Christian, took first in junior extemp; Lenora Owens, Oklahoma Iota, won senior extemp, and Richard Rieke, Southern Illinois, won the special television contest. Only two of the first fifteen individual events winners were not members of Pi Kappa Delta.

Winning the sweepstakes award as the top senior college present was the squad from Southwest Missouri State College, coached by Holt Spicer, a former member of the Redlands Chapter, and two-time West Point winner. Hutchinson Kansas Junior College was the winner of the junior college sweepstakes.

Tournament directors were Howard Holladay, forensic director at E-State, and Dave Matheny, with local members of the Pi Kap chapter serving as assistants to make the tournament one of the highlights of the debating season in Kansas.

MARIETTA COLLEGE

The members of the Marietta chapter of Pi Kappa Delta had an active season last year. Marietta participated in 132 debates, of which twenty-seven were non-decision and four demonstration. Marietta also took part in two discussion conferences, five individual events, two clinics and ten major debate tournaments.

In individual events Betty Mack placed third in extemporaneous speaking at Wooster and Harvey Krauser took first in informal reading at Marietta. In discussion, Decio Rubano placed third at the convention of the Province of the Lakes in Grove City, Pennsylvania.

In debate, the teams of Mack and Starling, Finney and Rubano came in third in the B division at Ohio State; Cowles and Powers were first at Marietta; the teams of Cowles and Powers, Armiger and Grogg took third in the North-South Tournament at West Virginia University and the men's team of Cowles and Rubano won first place at the province convention.

At the Province convention Jan Powers took a second in woman's extemp. Both men and women's teams (Cowles and Rubano, Powers and Starling) placed third in sweepstakes.

Sixteen new members were initiated into PKD last spring. Miss Virginia Branson and Mr. Bernard Russi were eligible under the order of instruction. Those eligible under the orders of debate and oratory were Decio Rubano, Gerald Bank, Sue Starling and Betty Mack. Those coming in under the order of oratory were Marialice Stuck and Larry Davis. Wayne Wall, Robert Brucken, Donald Armiger, John Spindler, Sandra Bach, Robert Finney, Eleanor Grogg and Harvey Krauser were admitted under the order of debate. The officers for the coming year are Jan Powers, president; Wayne Wall, vice president; Decio Rubano, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Mack, recording secretary.

STERLING COLLEGE

Miss Laveta Hensley of Los Angeles California, winner of first place in the University of Kansas Oratorical contest last spring has been elected President of the Kansas Lambda chapter at Sterling College, Sterling, Kansas.

Laveta won first place in oratory at the Emporia State Teachers' Tournament, the Saint John's Tournament and also at the Province of the Plains convention at Winfield, Kansas, last March. The title of her successful oration was "Mississippi Concerto."

She was also a member of the debate squad, and with her colleague, Betty Orr, tied for first in the Women's sweepstakes at the provincial convention. She is a junior and is looking forward to further competition.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

During the past semester the UCLA Speech Activities Board branched into the fields of radio and television. By contacting a number of Los Angeles stations, the Board arranged program series with radio station KMPC and television station KCOP.

The television program featured a half hour debate with cross-questioning and a decision by an impartial judge. The eight programs presented a round-robin tournament among UCLA, USC, Pepperdine, and Los Angeles State. A non-competing school furnished a judge for each debate. Los Angeles State won the series by winning three out of its four debates. USC and UCLA tied for second place.

On the radio program teams from USC and UCLA presented discussions on controversial subjects. The two schools alternated in supplying chairmen for the discussions.

Both programs received surprisingly good receptions. In spite of the fact that the T.V. program competed with Ed Sullivan and the Comedy Hour for five weeks, a number of persons saw the program and wrote favorable comments to the station. Both programs will probably be resumed in the fall, and the television program will probably be expanded to include several other Southern California schools.

The radio program was taped several days before the broadcast. This was most fortunate, since when the moderator introduced the affirmative as negative and vice versa, the opening could be re-taped.

The television program was carried live. The station was, therefore, helpless to prevent some embarrassing moments. One speaker, Jerry Boime, Pepperdine's enfant terrible and a former contributor to the Forensic, began his remarks by suggesting that the audience switch to "some other program, Mr. Sullivan or the Comedy Hour. I'm sure they're going to be better than this debate. In debating capital punishment, Boime also referred to the situation when "suppose a man wants to fertilize his lawn with his wife." At this point two stage hands rushed out of the studio to keep from laughing. The same Mr. Boime also drove the boom man near insanity with his constant pacing up and down behind the podium. On the same program the judge, who had been allotted three minutes to explain his decision, took up only one minute of his time. The announcer spent two minutes ad libbing and said at least four times, "This program is a public service presentation of KCOP." Another judge almost brought chaos into the studio when he walked off with the announcer's script.

The cross-questioning period also presented problems. Lilian Tomich, President of UCLA's PKD Chapter, insisted on yes-or-no answers, and refused to permit her luckless opponent to elaborate on his answers. LA State's Frank Kent went to the opposite extremes in answering the questions. Kent insisted on giving lengthy and detailed answers and shouted, "Let me answer the question," when the questioner tried to interrupt him.

Although the general reaction was favorable, one irate citizen rushed down to the television station after a program on the United Nations, and spent half an hour insisting that it was un-American to permit students to debate such a subject. This type of reaction was, however, highly exceptional. Both the radio and T.V. series used the topic of Communist China, and neither program received any adverse opinions.

All of the schools involved in the program are planning to participate in it in the fall. A number of other schools in the Los Angeles area have also indicated their interest in the programs. Both series undoubtedly offer an outstanding publicity outlet for forensic activities. The programs serve both to let the community know about a school's speech activities and to interest more students in their school's debate team. Both of these results are highly desirable at UCLA. The community has too long thought of UCLA as a "football college." UCLA is furthermore so large that many students have never even heard of its debate team. The programs can undoubtedly help to remedy these situations.

Perhaps the chief significance of the success of these programs is that they open new vistas for college forensics. They provide practical outlets for the speaker. Many students find no challenge in participating in a tournament where they speak to an audience of "honorable judge, worthy opponents, and colleague." Many debaters have often felt that they were debating subjects of no particularly topical interest. For the many students who are more interested in practical speaking than in winning contests, radio and television offer natural media.

A number of stations are always willing to sponsor such programs. The Federal Communications Commission encourages public service features, and many stations find it necessary to carry such programs to remain in the FCC's good grace. A number of non-network stations also have programming difficulties and are willing to put on sustaining programs at times when the competition from networks is so stiff that no intelligent sponsor would buy commercial time. Furthermore, KMPC and KCOP in Los Angeles have both been very conscious of community services and have presented a number of public service features in the past.

Now that we have made some inroads into the mass media, a number of ideas have been suggested. There is the possibility of carrying on a weekly audience poll to determine either the winner or the audience's opinion on the subject. A "meet-the-champ" type of program has also been suggested. There are also hopes that some station may give a whole hour for the program. One optimist even suggested monetary prizes for the winners.

Although it is doubtful that "The Big Debate", the name of the T.V. program, or the "USC-UCLA Debate" on radio, will ever replace the assortment of "toastmasters", schoolteachers, amateur violinists, sergeants, and old ladies with an astonishing knowledge about horse-racing, all of whom are now cluttering up the air-lanes, there is nevertheless a place for college debates and discussions on the air. Some day, perhaps, they may replace Laurel and Hardy.

WESTERN WASHINGTON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Forensics at Western Washington was on the upswing last season with the addition of many new speakers to the speech squad, especially freshmen and sophomores. The Zeta Chapter has been fortunate to have as its director, Professor Ralph M. Murphy, formerly of the University of Washington and Chico State College.

With the addition of the "new blood" Western has been well represented at five of the tournaments held in the northwest during the school year, beginning with a full squad at the Western Speech Association held this last fall at Pacific Lutheran College in Parkland, Washington. This was a first for Western. Individual speakers as well as the varsity debate team began to break through the "sound barrier" reaching the finals, placing and receiving some trophies. Other meets attended with good representation were, Seattle Pacific College, College of Puget Sound, Linfield and the Northwest Pi Kappa Delta Provincial at Washington State College.

Late in April the Zeta Chapter held its annual banquet and initiation service at which time the following were taken into membership: Sharon Andreasen, Sharon Ballaugh, Barrie Brownell, Albert Gunderson, Gail Gustafson, June Kellogg, Pat Northrup, Naomi Riley, and Mr. Mark Flanders of the speech department as an honorary member. Dr. Sene Carlile, head of the speech department, was president of the initiating officers. The second officer was Ralph M. Murphy, and the third was Charles Dennis, president of the chapter.

Other speakers who participated during the forensic season included Joan Dennis, Robert Brookins, Larry Richardson, Evelyn Rickers, John Schermerhorn, Linda Ford, Dick Hopf, Dick Walston, Bill Cox, Bill Siebler and Brad Kenyon.

WISCONSIN STATE AT EAU CLAIRE

Wisconsin State at Eau Claire placed high in four major events, the West Point National Invitational Debate Tournament, the Interstate Tape Discussion Contest, the Interstate Oratorical Contest and the Upper Mississippi Provincial Convention.

The first women's team to enter the quarter-finals at the West Point National Debate Tournament was composed of two Pi Kappa Delta members from Wisconsin State College at Eau Claire. The tournament, held at West Point April 25-28, was won by the United States Military Academy. Among the 16 teams to enter the quarter-finals, Eau Claire lost in the quarters to Augustana. The team was accompanied by Coach Grace Walsh.

Pi Kappa Delta members of Wisconsin Zeta finished second in the National Contest in Group Discussion. First place was awarded to the University of Virginia and third to Idaho State College. The subject of the tape-recorded discussions was "How can we best implement the Supreme Court decision on segregation in the public schools?" Among the discussion members from Eau Claire were Patricia Litsheim and Jocelyn Gilbertson. In 1953 Eau Claire won first place in the discussion contest, and in 1954 placed fourth.

At the Interstate Oratorical Contest held April 25-27 at Evanston, Illinois, Jocelyn Gilbertson of Wisconsin State College, Eau Claire, won the women's contest and Michael Sifri, of Michigan, the men's.

At the Upper Mississippi Provincial tournament at Mankato State Teachers on December 9 and 10, an Eau Claire team of Pribil and Gilbertson won all of their debates and first place trophy. The St. Olaf women were second. Litsheim and Schlei of Eau Claire won three of four debates for third place.

Eau Claire women also won first in women's oratory, debate and impromptu speaking; Miss Gilbertson placed first in oratory, and Miss Schlei and Miss Litsheim placed first in debate.

Graduates to Receive FORENSIC Free for One Year

One of the decisions of the National Council at its August meeting in Brainerd, Minnesota, was to grant a free subscription to all members of Pi Kappa Delta for the first year following college graduation. Anyone who graduated from college in the spring of 1956 and who at that time was an active member of Pi Kappa Delta may receive the FORENSIC during the coming year if he will send his name and address to the National Secretary.

The FORENSIC will continue to be available to all other alumni of Pi Kappa Delta for $1.00 per year or $2.50 for three years. Members of Pi Kappa Delta may want to encourage alumni and others to subscribe to the FORENSIC. A coupon is given below for the convenience of anyone desiring to subscribe.

National Council Holds Summer Meeting in Minnesota

All members of the National Council of Pi Kappa Delta were present at the summer meeting August 27-29, 1956. The meeting was held at Grandview Lodge, Brainerd, Minnesota.

The surroundings were ideal for a vacation for the members of the Council, but except for the food and surroundings, the members found vacationing difficult. Only those members of the Council who arose at 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning to go fishing enjoyed very much of the recreational possibilities of the location.

Morning, afternoon and evening meetings were held for the entire time the members were at the meeting. Elsewhere in the Forensic some indication of the work done by the Council at this meeting is evident, in the article by Vice-President Norton on discussion, in the President's Letter and in the Secretary's Letter.

It is, of course, always interesting for members of Pi Kappa Delta to get together. The meeting of the Council this year was a particularly harmonious one during which time an almost unbelievable amount of executive business of the organization was conducted.

This included the discussion of the problem of discussion in the National Tournament, the planning of the National Convention at Brookings, a review of all of the committee work in the organization, an evaluation of the publication of the Forensic, and a number of other items of business.

Emmett Long, the editor of the Forensic, was attending the National Council meeting for the first time as a member, following the change of the constitution at the Redlands Convention. Had it not been for Charles Battin, National Council member, the editor would have come the longest distance to this meeting. Mr. Battin, however, outranked the editor on this point because he came to Minnesota directly from Panama City, Panama. He had been there as a member of the Inter-American Municipal Congress.

Reading clockwise from the left: Charles Battin, College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Washington, Council member; Larry Norton, Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois, National Vice-President; Emmett Long, Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, California, Editor of the FORENSIC; Theodore Nelson, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota, President; Roy Murphy, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette, Louisiana, Council member; Harvey Cromwell, Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus, Mississippi, Council member; John Randolph, Westminster College, Fulton, Missouri, Immediate Past-President.
