LINEN SHOWER

Misses Thelma Henshaw, Ardelle Baker and Mildred Wilson were hostesses last night at a party at the Henshaw home. It was a linen shower in honor of Miss Olive Jackson, who will be a bride of next week. The marriage of Miss Jackson and Rev. J. Donald Coldren of Council Grove will occur June 15. Hemming towels and filling out postcards, which will bring household samples and recipe books to the bride's new home the first week of her married life, formed the diversion. The remainder of the time was spent with games, "The Hard Romance," "Don's Sweetheart" and "The Bride's First Sunday Dinner." The shower gifts were the "family wash" brought to the door in a laundry basket by Miss Meldon Henshaw, costumed as a Negro laundress.

A pink and silver color scheme was carried out in table decorations of pink tapers in silver holders and pink rosebuds. Miss Baker poured coffee, Miss Wilson served the ice cream with little shower umbrellas and the honor guest's nickname "Jack," and cookies and mints were other refreshments.

Beside the guest of honor, those present were: Mrs. J. B. Jackson, Mrs. Russell Baker of Overbrook, Mrs. T. W. Henshaw, Mrs. Easton of Michigan Valley, Miss Veda Jackson of Kalamazoo, Mich., Miss Marcia Cudworth of Ellis, Mrs. Lynne Wilson, Misses Beulah Cudworth, Viola Heitschmidt, Josephine Dalton, Dorothy Rumbeck, Vivian Billingsley, Glenva Worrell, Dorothy Mae Bower, Maydeen Bowlby and Frances Easton.

JACKSON-COLDREN

The marriage of Miss Olive Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jackson of 1040 South Hickory street, and Rev. J. Craig of the West Side Branch of the Baptist church of Kansas City, Missouri read the ring ceremony at 8 o'clock.

While the vows were exchanged the bridal party stood before an arch at a window of the living room. There were floral decorations of madonna lilies, honeysuckle and Queen Anne's lace and candelabra with white tapers. A basket of pink roses and gypsophila and silver candlesticks with white candles were used on the piano. As Mrs. J. Ellis Jackson of Meade, Kas., played "L'Amour Toujours L'Amour," Miss Vivienne Randall of Wichita lighted the candles.

Mr. J. Ellis Jackson of Meade, brother of the bride, sang before the service "God Touched the Rose" by Brown and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert. Mrs. Jackson was her husband's accompanist and then as she played bridal party took their places. During the service Mrs. Jackson played "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell and she gave the Mendelssohn wedding march as a recessional.

The bride was dressed in a wedding gown of white lace over ice blue taffeta, made redingote style. Her bridal bouquet was a shower arrangement of Killarney roses, and she wore white rosebuds in her hair. She carried a hand drawn white linen handkerchief, a gift of her mother. Miss Thelma Henshaw, the maid of honor, wore a princess style dress of pink taffeta and her flowers were Briarcliff roses. Mr. Coldren was attended by Mr. Allan Pett of Topeka. The mother of the bride wore a dress of navy blue and white chiffon and a corsage of pink rosebuds and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception, during which Mrs. Jackson gave piano selections. The serving table was decorated with a three-tier pink and white wedding cake, pink candles in crystal holders and a crystal bowl of sweet peas, gypsophila and white bouquet candles. Miss Veda Jackson, sister of the bride, cut the cake; punch was served by Miss Ardelle Baker and Miss Mildred Wilson served the individual cakes, decorated with rosebuds. Others assisting with the serving were Misses Vivian Billingsley and Frances Easton.

The bride graduated from Ottawa High School in 1932 and received a bachelor of science degree from Ottawa University in 1936. She was a member of Delta Tau Delta, and active in musical events and the Y. W. C. A. She taught the past term in Durham High School. SAYS IMITATION OVER-STRESSED

MARTIN URGES ORIGINALITY IN EDUCATION

O. U. President Says Colleges Must Meet Some Important Problems

"We are making imitators instead of originators," said Dr. Andrew B. Martin, president of Ottawa University, yesterday in telling the Lions club of several difficult problems which face higher education. The discussion was given informally at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the club.

"We put a premium on memorizing, adhering closely to textbooks and lectures, and thus do not provide the student with opportunities through which to develop imagination and initiative," Dr. Martin continued, "Someone has said that the lecture method is the process by which the subject material passes from the notebook of the professor to the notebook of the student without going through the mind of either. And I am afraid that there is much truth in the statement."

"College students today do not obtain a mastery of any particular field," Dr. Martin said, in pointing out a second problem which educational leaders must meet. He blames the elective system which permits the student to browse around the

SURPRISE SHOWER

Mrs. Harry Ireland and Miss Beulah Cudworth gave a party, a surprise miscellaneous shower, last night at the Ireland home for Miss Ruth Bundy who will be a June bride. The marriage of Miss Bundy and Mr. Harry H. Armsby of Rolla, Missouri, will occur June 22. The rooms were decorated with bouquets of lilies and sweet peas.

Clever verses, read by the guests, directed the bride-to-be to the shower packages hidden in the rooms. Post cards were written which will bring recipes, cook books and household samples to the new home. A kitchen quiz was climaxed by awarding a "certificate of graduation from the Spinsters Society of Ottawa University" to Miss Bundy. It was wrapped around a rolling pin presented to the honor guest as a diploma. Mrs. E. E. Haley, costumed as Eleanor Roosevelt, arrived in a "airplane" and gave the "commencement address." At the close of the story of a musical romance in two chapters, the wedding march was played and a little bridal couple marched in. The children were Douglas Newfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Newfield and Elmira Smith, daughter of Mrs. Veral Smith.

Misses Eleanor Vincent and Marcia Cudworth and Mrs. Lee Allen Casida served refreshments of strawberry ice cream, individual decorated cakes, candied fruit, nuts and coffee. A red and silver color scheme was carried out in the serving. Over the dining table centerpiece, a silver bowl of red roses, a silver airplane was suspended and the favors were little airplanes in silver and red shades.

Beside Miss Ruth Bundy and the guests mentioned, the invited list included: Mrs. S. L. Bundy, Mrs. Maud Goll, Mrs. R. M. Clogston, Mrs. R. T. Sandow, Mrs. Edgar Kerr, Mrs. Harry Cooper, Mrs. Everett Fetter, Mrs. A. B. Martin, Misses Marjorie Lancaster, Eleanor Lister, Mae Blosser of Columbus, Martha Stoltz, Thelma Henshaw, Viola Heitschmidt, Helen Innes and Edith Kibbe. idea of forcing the student to choose a major subject is supposed to overcome this difficulty," he said "but my observation leads me to believe that the requirements for a major may be filled without giving the student a closely related knowledge of the field. There are serious gaps which under the present system the student is unable to bridge."

A third problem to be met is that of contributing aid to the student in developing personality. "We must give more guidance to the student in academic, personal and vocational problems. To do this colleges must individualize their instructional work by having more elaborate staffs of instructors and councilors. The small college is particularly in a position to do a thorough bit of work in this field if it will. That is one of the things which we are trying to do at Ottawa" he said.

"Educators generally believe that education is not complete if it trains only the intellect" said Dr. Martin in naming a fourth problem. "There is great necessity today for adequate consideration of moral and spiritual values in our higher educational circles. We must set up ideals in our students that will determine the way in which intellect is used."

Dr. Martin told the club members that higher education today must recognize these problems and set about working out solutions as rapidly as possible. While most business house are demanding college graduates for important positions they are to some extent coming to the conclusion that colleges are not doing as thorough a job with students as they should.

CORDELL—SMITH

The following, part of a wedding write-up from the Lake Crystal Tribune of Lake Crystal, Minnesota, is of interest here where Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. L. Smith are at home at 104 South Oak street:

The Baptist church last Thursday, June 24, was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings solemnized in Lake Crystal this year. The contracting parties were Miss Dorothy Cordell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cordell of this city, and Robert B. L. Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Smith of Minneapolis.

Before the bridal party entered the church Miss Cecile Othoudt played several appropriate nuptial numbers on the piano and Donald Thrall of Minneapolis sang "I Love You Truly", "Because" and "Have Thine Own Way," the latter piece having been arranged by the bride and sang to the music of "I Love You Truly". As strains of Lohengrin's processional sounded the bride entered the church with her father, who gave his daughter in marriage. Miss Cordell wore a blue net over satin with long trailing veil of the same color. She carried a white Bible and was met at the altar by the groom. Rev. M. R. Siemens, pastor of the church, read the ring ceremony. Garden flowers in pastel colors and candles in candelabra formed the decorations.

Miss Laura Cordell, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She was becomingly attired in yellow organdy and carried a bouquet of mixed cut flowers. Miss Virginia Cordell, also a sister of the bride, wore orchid organdy and she too carried a mixed bouquet of cut flowers. Miss Marian Frost of Claremont, a classmate of the bride at Northwestern Bible school, was the third bridesmaid. Her gown was pink. All dresses worn by the bridesmaids were floor length and were patterned alike.

Warren Smith of Minneapolis, a brother of the groom, was best man. There were two hundred fifty guests at the wedding and one hundred twenty-five at the reception following the ceremony. Among the out of town guests was Mrs. A. D. Williamson of Ottawa.

The bride is a former student at Lake Crystal high school and has been a student at the Minneapolis Bible school for two years. Mr. Smith is a student at Ottawa University.

HIGH SENIORS GUESTS AT O. U.

PROGRAM IS BEING ARRANGED FOR JULY. 27

C. of C. and Local Alumni Are Cooperating—Free Picnic Dinner and Other Features

A senior holiday will be held on the Ottawa University campus July 27 for all high school graduates of last spring. The Chamber of Commerce, Ward chapter of O. U. alumni and the university are cooperating.

After a meeting of the committees last evening it was announced that an attractive program of games, swimming and entertainment is being arranged. It is planned to invite high school seniors of Ottawa and surrounding towns to come to the campus at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for games and swimming. If possible, some athletic star in the middlewest will be invited. No definite plans as to this have been made. The recreational program will include events for both boys and girls.

In the evening the seniors will be guests at a free picnic dinner served on the campus by the university. After a short variety program following the dinner, the graduates will be guests of the Plaza theater.

This sort of festival has become increasingly popular among colleges in recent years having been tried with success by several schools. At such occasions no high pressure is brought on students to attend the university staging the event. It is simply a time at which the hospitality of the entire community is extended to the high school seniors.

The Chamber of Commerce committee assisting in the holiday program is made up of Fred W. Brombacher, E. J. Foote, C. A. Smith, E. V. Gibson and Melvin Miller. The alumni assisting are Mrs. E. E. Haley, Miss Marjorie Lancaster, Ralph Supernaw, Gerald Barker and Harry Ireland. Herbert LeGrande, Richard M. Godlove and Claude Webb of the university staff are also working on the project.
