Winning Is a Family Tradition

History repeated itself last spring when a second member of the same family appeared in that dramatic spot — the finals of the Interstate Oratorical Association.

Thirty years ago, Candi Winston Tapscott's father won second place in the annual tournament, representing William Penn College. In May, 1972, Candi won first place in the women's division at Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green. Candi, a student at The Defiance College, called her father when she won and opened the conversation with "Hey, Dad, move over!"

1972 marked the 99th annual tournament of the Association. (The first one was held Feb. 27, 1874.) Candi is the third Defiance student to participate, representing the state of Ohio.

Stalwart — adj. Stout; strong; sturdy; brave; resolute. - n. An unwavering partisan.

Stalwart: That's Larry Norton.

Since he was first elected to the National Council in 1951, Dr. L. E. Norton (A.B. Carleton College, M.A. State University of Iowa, Ph.D. University of Wisconsin) has been an unwavering partisan of Pi Kappa Delta. His loyalty antedates that, however, going back to his professorship of speech at Eureka College in 1935.

Moving to the Speech Department at Bradley University in 1948, he became dean of men there in 1956, then Speech Department chairman from 1960 to 1971. Although he retired theoretically at that time, he was called back to serve as acting dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 1971-1973.

In Pi Kappa Delta he was elected president in 1957. His official departure from the Council in 1961 was brief, for he was elected national secretary-treasurer in 1963, and he completes the 10-year limit of the term this spring.

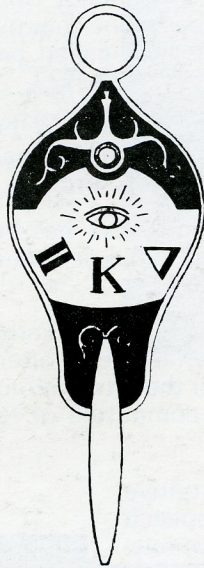

His allegiance has been strong; his work has been unsurpassed in efficiency and economy. Prompt and full responses to queries, precise record-keeping, and a keen eye on the budget have marked his tenure.

In addition to Pi Kappa Delta responsibilities, Larry Norton has participated actively in other fields. An expert parliamentarian, he is often called on for this work, and has served as official parliamentarian for the International Convention of Christian Churches and as a member of the advisory committee of the SAA Parliamentary Law Interest Group.

He has held a variety of administrative positions in state and national speech associations, is active in Optimist International, and is a member of 17 regional and national organizations. Thus there are plenty of interests to keep L. E. Norton well occupied even without countless hours of filing, writing, answering, and record-keeping for Pi Kappa Delta. The thousands of members of the fraternity who have profited from his quiet efficiency are appreciative of and grateful for Larry Norton — Stalwart.

Dr. L. E. Norton with Mrs. Norton, to whom Pi Kappa Delta also gives thanks and appreciation for her many years of loyalty and help.

... Minds are creative ... thoughts wander by themselves and cannot be controlled by the cleverest police. All education is free in this sense; it cannot be shut up within walls. To teach people to think, if only to make them more useful as soldiers and mechanics, is to open all thoughts to them — a whole world of new ideas.

Joyce Cary in "The Mass Mind"
