When you move, which has priority on the new site, house-hunting or church-hunting? For our family, it's been the latter: a house is a house, but a church is a home....This Thinksheet asks you to imagine (1) you're moving & (2) there there's a mainline church exactly like "ours" + an "enthusiastic," growing, rightwing church exactly like "theirs" (a particular church where you now live). Which would you join? why?....Please fill in the boxes:

ours

theirs

this is what I like about...

this is what I dislike about...

So I'd join...

In the light of my understandings of the gospel,
what real Christianity is,
which church is....

theirs

nearer to the gospel?

how so?

farther from the gospel?

how so?
