City; Hazel Marie Ward, Olathe; Betty Winzer, Augusta; Lucille Wright Bronson; Wanda Janssen, Lorraine; Esther Pinson, Lyons; Fontella Manewal, Ottawa; Donna Lee Hamm, Wichita; Louise Acrea, Ottawa, and Mario Cestaro, New Haven, Conn.

Bottom row: Miriam Kinderdich, Abilene; Lucille Childears, Canon City, Colo.; Emma Jean Griffith, Barnard; Wilma Harmon, Grand Junction, Colo.; Joy Balyeat, Alexandria, La.; Helen Elliott, Plains; Virginia Wise, Topeka; Helen Foote, Japan, and Freda Fellnagle, Princeton.

SPORTS FANS LIKE SIDELINE COACHING

HIGH INTEREST IN THURSDAY NIGHT'S PLAN.

Several Suggested As Mentors, However, Are Modest—Braves To Play at Newton Tonight.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 Ottawa sports fans start having their day when Ottawa University takes the court against Friends University on junior high school court. Only one game is scheduled and it should be over by 9 o'clock.

A band of five "sideline coaches" will be elected. Each person who purchases a ticket at the Davis-Wassmer clothing store before 6 o'clock tomorrow evening will have the chance to vote for one "coach" and the five starting players. The "coach" receiving the largest number of votes will be named "head coach" or athletic director.

Interest in the idea has spread all over the state. If the plan is successful here it will undoubtedly be tried in other places. While the voting thus far has been light, numerous names have been suggested. Latest addition to the list is Larry Crater, city clerk. Upon being informed that his name had been suggested for the "board", Crater said he never coached from the sidelines.

O. U. Freshmen To Play Iola Tonight

Return Game Here With Junior College—Several Promising Yearling Players.

The Ottawa University freshman basketball team will clash with the Iola junior college five tonight on the junior high school court at 7:30. Two weeks ago the young Braves were victors in a 48 to 39 contest at Iola after having played in as interesting a game to watch as an Ottawa team has played this season.

Coach Richard Godlove will have about 10 freshmen suited up and ready for action. Carl Morales who broke through the Iola defense for seven baskets in the last game will again be one of the forwards. His ever improving ability is rapidly pointing him out as varsity material.

Another Ottawa freshman who will see action tonight is T. C. Bundy. This boy came to Ottawa from Lisle, Mo. There he played a zone defense and up to now has been hard pressed to keep up with the man-to-man checking system used by the Ottawans. He has shown ability in handling the ball.

Bob Schupbach, an Ottawa high school player of last year who made the all-Eastern Kansas league team at a guard spot, is also showing up well, so well in fact that he has been used in one or two varsity games.

BILL MATTIS INJURED

Bill Mattis, fullback on the Ottawa University football team, was injured in the William Jewell game at Liberty yesterday afternoon. He received a hard blow on the back just over the kidneys. On the way back to Ottawa Mattis was taken to the Research hospital for examination and observation. The extent of his injuries had not been determined late this morning.

Cutting Dead Trees On Ottawa U. Campus

Part of a Beautification Program To Make College Campus More Attractive

"It is not a logging camp," said President Andrew B. Martin as he surveyed the Ottawa University campus watching workmen cutting down 25 trees. Those big trunks stretched out on the ground were mute testimony to the fact that Ottawa has had three years of dry weather.

"We'll replace everyone of them," said Dr. Martin. "Since they are dead there was nothing left for us to do but cut them down."

One of the trees, a three-trunked stalwart in front of Ward science hall, was one of the beaut-

WICHITA BAPTIST WOMEN
PROVIDE FUND OF $1,000

Auditorium, President's Office And Tauy Jones Hall Being Redecorated

Extensive repairing is being done at Ottawa University during Christmas holidays through use of a $1,000 fund provided by women of the First Baptist church in Wichita.

On a tour of inspection on the campus last fall the Wichita women noted many things that needed a bit of paint, so they returned home and started raising money for the project. Soon they were quite successful and plans were immediately made for the work to be done during the holidays while students were away.

The biggest item is the redecorating of the auditorium in the administration building. Not for many years has this much used chapel had a coat of paint and in some places plastering had cracked and fallen from the walls. The big room will thus be a more cheerful place after the holidays. Extensive scaffolding had to be constructed in order that painters might get to the ceiling and walls.

The president's office is also being redecorated. Walls are being repaired and repainted and a new carpet is being laid. Venetian blinds are also being hung. Since the office is the focal point of most university visitors, it is essential that it be a pleasant and attractive place.

Still another repair project is the redecorating of the recital hall, the reception room and the entrance hallway of Tauy Jones hall, music conservatory. The building was remodeled in 1926, but walls had never been decorated, so the work there will add a touch of life to the rooms which heretofore have been somewhat drab.

A committee of Ottawa women, Mrs. G. H. Marshall, Mrs. Andrew B. Martin and Mrs. B. P. Heubner, is directing the repair work in cooperation with university officials.

O. U. Beats Haskell In a Hectic Contest

Indians Staged Two Determined Rallies, and Tied Score Once Last Night.

In a rough-and-tumble basketball game at Lawrence last night Ottawa University won over Haskell, 32 to 25, but not before the Indians had put on a pair of determined rallies to make the game interesting.

With Eugene Harding and Omer Brenton leading the way, Ottawa took an early lead, but the Indians kept pegging away at the basket. Under the hippity-hop-pity leadership of Big Bear the Haskell team brought the score to 12 to 13 near the end of the first half, but at this point Ottawa guarding tightened and the offense clicked to establish a 19 to 13 lead as the whistle ended the first period.

Whatever it was Coach John Carmody told his boys during the intermission, it was quite effective, for the Indians came out in a blaze and whipped through three goals by Hill, Pahdopony and Greenwood to knot the count at 19-all. At this juncture the Braves came to life again. Lyman Morgan, his shooting eye off most of the evening, hit the basket for a pair of scores. That coupled with other goals came in handy to give the Ottawans a commanding lead of 31 to 21. Greenwood and Pahdopony counted just as the game ended.

Coach Dick Godlove being in New Orleans, Captain Adrian Miller was in charge of the Ottawa squad and did a commendable job in handling substitutions and marshalling the forces of the Braves toward the victory.

The Indians will play here on Jan. 10 in the junior high gym.

Coming home from the game, Mrs. Godlove's car, loaded with Ottawa players, skidded into the ditch about 10 miles north of here. Most of the basketball team went into action and the car was soon on the road again. It was not damaged.

CHILLICOTHE NO MATCH FOR O. U.

BRAVES WON, 45 TO 23, IN BIG LAST HALF.

Baptists Showed Their Ability To Cope With Opponents at Any Style.

Ottawa University went Duck hunting last night and came back with the limit, defeating Chillicothe Business College, 45 to 23, by virtue of a big last half rally.

The Ducks held the Braves to fairly even terms in the first period, the score being 15-12 for Ottawa at the intermission. From there on, however, the Braves started clicking and were constantly adding to their lead.

Ottawa started out in a cautious manner attempting to work the ball in for set-ups, but found the Chillicothe defense right tight. Tall Omer Brenton flipped in the first Braves' score just under the basket. Rule Seymour followed with another to give Ottawa a 5 to 1 lead and Lyle Swetnam sank a long one.

At this point the Ducks came to life and kept within firing distance of the Braves the remainder of the half.

The Braves came back after the intermission to play a cool-headed type of ball and soon held a 25-17 lead on two goals by Brenton and one each by Morgan and R. Seymour. Throughout this part of the game Brenton played as good a rebound game as he has since being at Ottawa. It seemed that he was always retrieving the ball as it came off the backboard.

Trailing 17-25, Chillicothe decided to change tactics with eight minutes to go. Instead of using a set defense they chose to tag the Braves all over the court. That proved to be their complete downfall, for with the playing end of the court comparatively open the Braves sped down the scoring lanes to run up a big score quickly. In this mad dashing at the goal Jack Ramsey and Bill Mattis led the abasket shooting of the Braves, each getting three baskets during the time.

Coach Dick Godlove being in New Orleans attending national athletic meetings, Adrian Miller directed the play of the Ottawans. He has a unique record in that he retires as an undefeated coach, having sent his Braves to victories over Haskell and Chillicothe. Last night, however, he said, "I can understand why Godlove has a bald spot on his head."

Lodus Klauman, center for the Ducks, is well known here, having played against Ottawa on several occasions while attending C. of E. He is a brother of Ernest Klauman, center three years ago on the Ottawa team.

CONFERENCE RACE MAY BE CLOSE

ALL TEAMS LOOK GOOD IN KANSAS LOOP

O. U. Has a Squad Rated As Strong—Priming For Game at McPherson Friday Night.

With the Kansas conference basketball season opening right before them, the Ottawa University Braves settled down to the task of preparing for the McPherson Bulldogs in a game Friday night at McPherson.

Coach Dick Godlove returned last night from New Orleans where last week he was in attendance at meetings of the National Collegiate Athletic association. He commented this morning that the conference race is going to be rough and tough all the way with almost any of the teams having a chance to win.

Early last fall, basketball experts gave Ottawa and C. of E. the best chances to take the hoop crown. Baker, which took the deal last year, lost all its best players and was not supposed to have anything. However, the Wildcats now show up with three or four good new men and give indications they have every intention of keeping the top piece right on their own campus. McPherson trimmed C. of E. 45 to 44 to show that they have as good a chance as anyone to take the honors.

From Salina recently came the announcement that Wesleyan would have the best court club since 1930 when the Coyotes ran away with the championship. And there are whispers that as soon as Elmer Schaake of Bethany gets a freshman crew limbered up he will be hot-footing right along with the leaders.

All of this points to quite a melee in the conference race this season. The fans may expect almost anything and may get it in good measure.

Make no mistake, Ottawa will have a good ball club. Maybe not powerful enough to subdue the conference, but good enough to be battling away at the leaders. Much depends on the condition of knee injuries of Adrian Miller and Don Meek. If these two get into shape, the Braves will be up among the 400. They might be anyway, but these two boys would help not a little.

Two Ottawa freshmen, Jack Ramsey and Quincy Seymour, are going to give some power to the Braves, especially when they get straightened out according to the O. U. system. And there is Carl Morales, too.

There you are, fans. A good many "ifs" to this Ottawa basketball team. But don't forget that you have a bunch of hustling veterans: Lyman Morgan, Omer Brenton, Lyle Swetnam, Rule Seymour, Eugene Harding, Bill Mattis and a few others.

O. U. Priming for Hot Baker Clash

Contest Here Friday Night Sure To Be Hard Fought, and Fans Will Be Given Thrills.

With the most unpredictable Kansas conference basketball season now under way, the Ottawa University Braves are going through heavy practice sessions this week for their game with Baker here Friday evening at 7:45 on the junior high court. It is to be something more than a tangling of two old rivals. It is to be one of the most important clashes in the hectic conference race. The winner, besides pleasing any number of fans, will have a chance at going on to fight for the championship, while the loser will lose valuable ground.

The forwards who will start the game for Ottawa, Lyman Morgan and Adrian Miller, are veterans fully able to score in large figures and to put on a fine floor game as well. They have their off nights but as a rule they turn in better than average performances. Morgan's five baskets in the last half of the conference clash with McPherson came in the last three minutes to give the victory to the Braves. That's it, when he is hot the ring shrivels up. Miller usually counted on for three to five baskets a game, and in addition his ball retrieving ability on offense and defense is of constant help to the team.

Adrian Miller

When Baker set C. of E. back to the tune of 50 to 29 last week the power of the Wildcats was unmistakably apparent to the Ottawans. They respect the prowess of veteran Bob Rudolph at guard spot, of Freshmen George Hersch at center and Spencer Self at forward. These boys carry a wallop.

And above all of the dope, the ability of the players and the strategy of the coaches stands out the fact that this game is one between two rivals who have been clashing back and forth for years. Fans have a feeling about these contests, and that feeling is that no matter who wins, there will be a hotly fought battle worth attending. That is why the gym are usually packed when these two mix.

No reserved seats are on sale but general admission tickets may be purchased at the Davis-Wasmer clothing store.

O. U. Fans Hoping Guards Are Hot

Much Depends on Them in Game With Baker Here Friday Night.

There will be no "shinny" game of basketball tomorrow evening when Baker University and Ottawa University clash on the junior high school court at 7:45 in a Kansas conference contest.

The offenses of the two teams will be alike when it comes to deliberate basketball. To be sure there will be plenty of fast breaking, but only at times when opportunity is knocking with determination. Neither team will be taking chances of throwing away the ball until late in the game when one or the other may be well behind the top score.

Ottawa will be using a single-post, fan-shaped offense which permits nice ball handling while the stage is being set for the various plays. Baker will send its forwards quite a bit deeper into offensive territory, over into the corners, attempting to get a close fringe shot, or to pass the ball into the hands of Hersch or Rudolph under the basket.

Much depends on the work of four Ottawa guards: Lyle Swetnam, Eugene Harding, Don Meek and Bill Mattis. Should any of these boys be hot with long poke it will help the forward wall.
Harding is apt to come up with several baskets as he has been cold for some time and Mattis could connect as he did in the Chillicothe game when he dropped in four shots.

In the boiling conference race this game may do much to help Baker or Ottawa along the way to a high place in the final standings, although it goes without saying that the winner will not be heir apparent to the championship. Four other teams will have something to say about it.

No reserved seats will be sold.
Fans are urged to purchase general admission tickets before going to the game in order to facilitate entrance. Tickets may be obtained at the Davis-Wassmer clothing store or North American coffee shop.

HOT RIVALRY IN BAKER-O. U. TILT

BIG CROWD TO WITNESS THE GAME HERE TONIGHT.

One Game Tonight, Starting at 7:45—A Hard-Driving, Cautious Contest Expected.

Two keen-edged basketball ou-fits, with a double-barreled des-to win will spring at each other tonight on the junior high sch-court starting at 7:45. Otta-University and Baker Univer-will be the teams, and they'll do their stuff before the larcrowd of the season if present dications can be counted on.
Only the one game will be played and that will start promptly at the scheduled time.

Coach Dick Godlove has been altogether satisfied with way his boys have shown up practice sessions this week. Tpassing has been erratic and their basket eye has been wobbly.

The two teams will probably play a hard-driving but careful brand of basketball. More than likely there will be plenty of strategy and cleverness.

Godlove will probably start Adrian Miller and Lyman Morgan forwards, Omer Brenton at center, and Lyle Swetnam and Don

Bill Mattis

Eugene Harding

Meek at guards.

Fans are asked to buy tickets at the Davis-Wassmer clothing store or North American coffee shop before going to the game in order to avoid the rush.

Other Games in Loop

Kansas City, Jan. 21.—(AP)— Central conference basketball teams turn the entire spotlight over to Kansas conference outfits this week-end. Three conference encounters are scheduled in the Kansas loop, all tonight. Fort Hays State is the only Central league team in action, meeting McPherson in a non-conference game tomorrow night.

The Baker-Ottawa game at Ottawa, tonight probably tops the conference program in interest.
Ottawa is in second place with two victories and one defeat.
Baker, although in a 3-way tie for third with a .500 average, nevertheless stamped itself as a contender by coming back to defeat College of Emporia decisively after losing the same way to Mc-Pherson.

Either College of Emporia or McPherson will drop from the third place tie when they meet at McPherson tonight. McPherson is 1 up on the Presbys by virtue of a 46 to 44 victory during the holiday tournament at McPherson but that game did not count.

Franklin County Checker Tourney

One of the longest and hardest fought games in the county tournament last Thursday night is shown here, between Arza Fogle and Rev. R. W. Fisher, both of Williamsburg. Mr. Fogle ranks high in state competition and plans to hold his annual Silver Fox tournament within the next six weeks.

Arza Fogle of Williamsburg plays Dr. Arthur Bernhart in one of the wind-up games of the Franklin county checker tournament held in Ottawa University commons room last Thursday night. Dr. Bernhart won the championship with Arza Fogle only three points behind him. In the background Rev. R. W. Fisher of Williamsburg and Roy Herring are playing.

O. U. Students Wear Worried Looks; Exams Are Next Week

"I got troubles, plenty of troubles," is the favorite tune at Ottawa University these days as students scurry about with worried and anxious looks upon their faces. The cause of the trouble, it seems, is that next Monday final examinations for the first semester will begin.

For the freshmen, the experience is a puzzling one. All their lives they have heard about finals, and now that they are face to face with what may turn out to be a catastrophe, they do not know what to do about the problem.

"Well," said one frosh, "They ask you everything. You start writing at the sound of the first bell and don't stop until you are knocked out or the gong sounds. It's like a boxing match, or maybe like an amateur radio program.

Anyway, they catch you and lay it on plenty thick."

It is not only the freshmen, however, who are worried; a junior somewhat in the middle of the road when it comes to studying, commented, "Yet, that's it. And people are reading whole books and lots of them. Can you imagine that? Reading whole books, not one, but many of them."

Probably students exaggerate the serious nature of the final examinations. They are intended to be stiff and to find out just what students have learned in the various subjects. They also serve to direct students in getting a general summary of the courses which have been taken.

The second semester will open February 7. A number of new students are expected to enroll.

FEAR PRESBIES ON OWN COURT

BRAVES FACE TOUGH GAME TOMORROW NIGHT.

Pint-Size Gym Undoing of Most Rivals—O. U. Uses Man- to-Man Defense.

If the Ottawa University Braves should defeat C. of E. in the game at Emporia tomorrow night, they will be doing something that no other outfit of Ottawans has been able to do in recent years.

The court at Emporia is pint-size and the Presbies have every board lettered with what to do on every spot. Few teams, therefore, are able to do anything with them. Even when Ottawa had its championship team in 1934 the Emporians won in the game there, and by no small score either. A crushing defeat was administered the Braves who recovered in time to go on to a championship.

It is thus with no sense of security that the Brave hit the trail tomorrow for Emporia. They are also remembering that Cliff Rock, always a pain in the side of the Braves, is still flipping the ball through the net from his pivot position. It is more or less traditional that Rock scores from 14 to 20 points against Ottawa.

Coach Richard Godlove's boys, however, have never played and clicked as they are truly able to and one of these days they are apt to have a field day at the basket. If they ever do, there is no opponent on their schedule at home or abroad who will be able to strap them down.

Godlove drilled his proteges on defense last night for quite some time, emphasizing that the Ottawans are going to stick to a man-to-man system, checking or changing men, only when it is absolutely necessary. It is his theory that a zone defense leads to irresponsible defensive play, at least on the Ottawa team.

EMPORIA WON ROUGH GAME

LOSS COSTLY TO BRAVES CONFERENCE HOPES.

Home Team Overcame Visitor Lead in Last Half—Three Out on Fouls.

College of Emporia defeated Ottawa University at Emporia last night, 47 to 37, in a rough-and-tumble ball game. The loss was a costly one for the Braves, as it makes it almost impossible to drive through to a conference crown, although a tie is still a possibility.

Ability to hit the basket on their home court spelled victory for the Emporians. Trailing at the half, 17 to 22, the Presbies came back in the second period in a series of long and short baskets.

Fred Frazer of Emporia, with 14 points, nine in the last half, led the scoring. Lyman Morgan, connecting with five sensation shots, led the Ottawa score with 13 points.

Three men went out on foul—Wasson and Maze for Emporia and Don Meek for Ottawa.

Coach Richard Godlove elected to have Don Meek guard Cliff Rock. While he was doing this the Emporia star scored only one basket, that when he broke away on an out-of-bounds play from mid-court. T. C. Bundy and Lyman Swetnam also guarded Rock and did a good job, as his shots were scattered.

Ottawa's showing in the first half was made possible by the insertion of the entire freshman quintet, which played a fire wagon type of ball. After a few minutes the regulars went back into the game.

No amount of strategy, however, would make the Ottawans hot nor cool the Emporians off the second half.

In a preliminary game, the Ottawa reserves beat the C. of E. reserves, 19 to 5. Dick Wellman of Ottawa was high with 11 points.

Tonight Ottawa plays Friend University at Wichita.

College of Emporia defeated Ottawa University at Emporia last night, 47 to 37, in a rough-andcostly one for the Braves, as it makes it almost impossible to Ability to hit the basket on their home court spelled victory for the Emporians. Trailing at the the Emporia star scored only one basket, that when he broke away in an out-of-bounds play from mid-court. T. C. Bundy and Lyle Wetnam also guarded Rock and did a good job, as his shots were scattered.

Ottawa's showing in the first half was made possible by the interruption of the entire freshman quintet, which played a fire-ragon type of ball. After a few minutes the regulars went back into the game.

No amount of strategy, however, would make the Ottawans not nor cool the Emporians off in the second half.

In a preliminary game, the Ottawa reserves beat the C. of E. reserves, 19 to 8. Dick Wellman of Ottawa was high with 11 points.

Tonight Ottawa plays Friends University at Wichita.

BRENTON LED SCORING WITH 23 POINTS.

All Thirteen Braves Saw Service in Game at Wichita—Bethany Here Friay Night.

Ottawa University defeated Friends University in Wichita Saturday night 43 to 16. Led by Omer Brenton who collected 23 points, the Braves had little or no difficulty against the less powerful Quaker team.

The game was not rough, but the Quakers, attempting to stop the driving Ottawans, frequently fouled; consequently four of the former were sent to the sidelines in rapid succession during the last half.

Godlove experimented around to find a satisfactory combination which might be able to score more easily and be a bit stouter on defense. Whether he did or not remains to be seen, but it is certain that the lineup will be juggled for the Bethany game.

The Braves are fearful of the Swedes in that they made a surprise showing against McPherson last week, the Bulldogs being forced to rally at the end to gain a 36 to 31 victory. The Ottawa-Bethany game will be played on the junior high school court Friday night at 7:30.

BETHANY SWEDES TALLEST QUINTET

O. U. HAS HEIGHT DISADVAN-TAGE FRIDAY NIGHT.

Will Be First of Four Home Conference Games on Ottawa's Schedule.

The towering Bethany Swedes, tallest team in the conference, will come here Friday night for a game with the Ottawa University Braves on the junior high court starting at 7:30.

Three of the Swedes who will probably start against Ottawa are 6 feet, 3 inches tall or better.
Harry Peterson, center, is a freshman from Kansas City who in early games has shown unusual promise as a pivot man. John Grieves, another freshman, and tall, has been shoved from position to position. He is an accurate shot from out on the fringe or near the basket and is getting slicker every game. Thomas Carroll, another tall boy and a sophomore, gives the lineup a touch of experience as well as additional height and ability.

It was Norman Norborg, forward, just a bit under the 6-foot mark, who caged five field goals against the Ottawans at Lindsborg to keep the Swedes in the game until the final few minutes when the Braves pulled away to a 50 to 32 victory. Norborg is a specialist in long shots. Ernest Ireland, of football forward passing fame, will also be used in the lineup.

The game with Bethany will be the first of a series of four home Kansas conference games. Following Bethany comes McPherson on Feb. 10, Kansas Wesleyan on Feb. 18, and C. of E. on Feb. 22.
The Braves go to Baker the final game of the season.

MAY PLAY FROSH IN BETHANY TILT

GODLOVE FINDS SEVERAL ARE GOING GOOD.

At Any Rate, O. U. Coach Will Have Excellent Reserves Here Friday Night.

Faced with the problem of stopping a Bethany College team which has been coming to the front in recent games, the Ottawa University Braves may start the game tomorrow night at 7:30 in junior high gym with a considerably revamped lineup.

Juggling men around at many spots in the Friends game, Coach Richard Godlove gave definite indication that he was searching for power in order to steady the Ottawans. Jack Ramsey, freshman, got a chance to play more than half the game at Friends and at times looked more than fair, although he failed to burn up the basket. Bob Schupbach had a chance at a guard spot and might be used quite a bit tomorrow night. Quincy Seymour also was used at forward as well as at center.
Carl Morales, a hard fighting, sharp cutting lad, was set down at the forward spot for no little time.

All of these boys have gained experience while playing with the freshman hoop squad in early games. Godlove has brought them along easy and now hopes to make good use of them in some of the varsity games. If need be, he can use a mighty fast and spirited first-year outfit which will give opponents as much trouble as a bunch of Japs.

Although the Ottawans hold a 50 to 29 victory over Bethany, they realize that since that time the young Swede team has been making rapid advances and is getting ready to slap it on some of the conference teams. The Braves want to get over that hurdle.

BETHANY PLAYS O. U. TONIGHT

LOSE CONFERENCE GAME EXPECTED HERE.

Coach Godlove To Start Veterans But Reserve Players Will Be Kept Handy.

"The veterans will start the game tonight," said Coach Dick Godlove referring to the Ottawa-Bethany game to be played in the junior high gym tonight at 7:30. Ad Miller has shown signs of pulling out of his temporary slump this week and will start the game at his customary forward position with Lyman Morgan on the opposite side of the court, Elmer Brenton at center, and Don Meek and Lyle Swetnam at guards.

The reserves and freshmen, however, will be ready and waiting on the sidelines just in case the regulars fail to click against a Bethany team that is showing improvement with every game. Last night Godlove and other Ottawans saw the Swedes press Barker closely in a game at Baldwin. John Grieves and Harry Peterson, two tall boys, have ability to sink the ball. These two scored 24 points for Bethany. That is high power in any league.

The Bethany team on seeing the article in yesterday's Herald indicating that Godlove might use the Ottawa freshmen during the game thought that their ability was being taken lightly. But it was explained to Coach Elmer Chhaake that such was not the case. If the freshmen are used tonight it will be in an effort to put a stronger team on the floor and not to be belittle the ability of the Swedes.

The Lindsborg team, by the way, is dolled up in brand new uniforms of the brightest of bright yellow. Warm-ups are flashy yellow silk and the playing suits are also of silk, not quite so flashy because there is not so much of them.

The Braves need to win the game in order to make a presentable record in the Kansas conference race. But Bethany is also needing a win and they will leave no stone unturned tonight in an effort to sew up their first conference victory. And they have the power to do that, once they start moving on the basket. They are set-ups for no one.

After the game tonight members of both squads will be guests at the Plaza theatre to see "Bad Man of Brimstone."

O. U. PUTS ON A WARM RALLY

SWAMPS BETHANY 47 TO 29 IN FAST FINISH.

Ran Away From Visitors After Fairly Even Play at Start—Freshman Squad Went In.

A scorching last half rally gave the Ottawa University basketball team a 47 to 29 victory over the Bethany College Swedes last night in the junior high gym.

After a mediocre first half during which the Lindsborg team kept pace, the Ottawans opened up in the second period and quickly piled up an immense lead. In the onrush of that torrid streak Adrian Miller led his teammates in floor play and slipped in a few goals just by way of showing that he is out of his slump.

The first period was a nip-and-tuck affair with Ottawa picking up an early 7 to 2 lead by virtue of a pair of buckets by Omer Brenton and one by Don Meek. The two Swede aces, Larry Peterson and John Grieves, combined to count three quick goals in the next two minutes and knot the score at 7-all. For the next six minutes the two teams played evenly, but in the last few minutes the Braves pushed their way to a 17 to 13 lead at the half on goals by Lyman Morgan and Don Meek.

Coach Dick Godlove must have found something mighty effective to tell his boys during the intermission, for when they came back they began hitting with fan-pleasing regularity. Miller, Brenton, Meek and Morgan counted in rapid succession before Peterson could coax the ball through the hoop for the Swedes. Then once more the Ottawans sent in a quartet of goals with Brenton getting a pair of scores and Meek and Morgan accounting for the other two the score being 32 to 15.

At this point the play was so fast the floor boards were smoking. Godlove took his regulars out and sent in the "flies-in-the-soup" freshman crew which permitted the Swedes to climb slowly up until the score stood at 36 to 25 for Ottawa. Then the youngsters went on a hot scoring spree as Quincy Seymour and T. C. Bundy registered. The regulars came back in and put the game on ice, Miller shooting three baskets in a row.

Omer Brenton was high for the Braves with 12 points, Miller being close behind with 11 and Don Meek not far off with 9. Harry Peterson was high scorer for the Swedes with 8 points.

Next Thursday night the Braves meet the conference-leading McPherson Bulldogs on the junior high court here. Last night the Bulldogs won over Pittsburg Teachers, 59 to 53.

The box score:

O. U. PRIMED TO STOP McPHERSON

STOP THEM THEY MUST, IF THEY WIN TONIGHT.

Bulldogs Play a Fire-Wagon Type of Basketball That Keeps Opponents Busy.

Ottawa has a new fire wagon today. The McPherson College Bulldogs with their fire-wagon offense are here to meet the Ottawa University Braves on the junior high school court tonight at 7:30.

Time was when the Bulldogs tried to disguise their plan as the "swing system", but in the very first game of the season their policy of grabbing the ball, throwing it and then shooting it neatly through the hoop labeled them as a hooper-dooper ball club, and a mighty good one at that. There is nothing "swinging" about the deal, however.

A no more interesting team will come to Ottawa this season than this crew of Bulldogs. They play the type of game that all fans like, with plenty of action, close guarding and quick shooting. When they are hot, they are virtually impossible to stop.

There is a rumor out that Coach Pierce Astle is going to make mile runners out of all the members of his team this spring, and is only using the basketball season as a warm-up period. The Bulldogs' chief diversion on the court is running, and the other team can run or not but if it does not, it might as well get off the court.

Fast as this well trained McPherson team is, fans must remember that the Ottawans hold the only victory scored in conference play over the Bulldogs this season. Ottawa won at McPherson, 43 to 35, and so the Braves believe they have just as good a chance tonight as the Bulldogs.

Tony Meyer, veteran McPherson center who was ineligible in the game at McPherson, will be playing tonight, and since he is credited with being one of the best rebound men in the conference, he may do the Ottawans considerable harm. Playing one of the forward posts will be Chet Johnson, key-stone of the Bulldog team. He is a little fellow with a badly injured knee, an ever-present smile and hair-trigger ball handling ability. His forward mate is Kurt Naylor, a diminutive speed demon with an accurate long shot. The two big McPherson guards, Dave McGill and Don Barngrover, make up for whatever size the two forwards lack.

Against this outfit Coach Dick Godlove will start Adrian Miller and Lyman Morgan at forwards, Omer Brenton at center, Don Meek and Lyle Swetnam at guards. The more you look at that lineup, the more confidence you gain. They are a right fair ball club; that is, when they play cool, heady basketball. However, they have a right smart job to do tonight, for the Bulldogs are at the head of the conference and have no intentions of being below that mark after the game.

O. U. BRAVES JUST AS DE-TERMINED TONIGHT

Each Team Has A Slim Chance to Tie McPherson for Lead; A Fast Game Is Assured

Ottawa University Braves driving down the final stretch of the Kansas conference basketball campaign, encounter the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes tonight on the junior high school court at 7:30.
Only one game will be played, as per the custom of the current season.

The big, fast, burley Coyotes, coached by the renowned A. B.
Mackie, are admittedly tough opposition for Ottawa. And tonight they may be tougher than usual, for last week the favored Wesleyan team lost to Bethany in an upset; so the boys out Salina way have been pouring on the practice sessions just by way of not letting any such disaster occur again.

After the way the Ottawa varsity displayed its wares last week against McPherson, Coach Dick Godlove has not the slightest intention of using his freshman crew tonight. Lyman Morgan, Adrian Miller, Omer Brenton, Lyle Swetnam and Don Meek will draw the opening call. The reserves and freshmen, however, will be sliding up and down the bench, quite ready to be used should their services be needed to cope with Watson, Snyder and company.

The game in relation to conference standings is an important one. Each team has a slim chance of gaining a tie with McPherson for the championship and each has an excellent opportunity of placing in the runner-up position.

Wesleyan is a fast breaking outfit, "Doc" Watson usually taking the ball off the defensive backboard and flipping it to a cruising front line which goes down fast. Cletus Snyder is the hot-spot finish of that fast break.
On defense the Coyotes play a man-to-man style and feature close, hard guarding.

The tactics of the Ottawa team are expected to be little different from those of last week against McPherson, although the style of defense which the Coyotes use will naturally cause the offense of the Braves to alter their play somewhat. It probably will not be necessary to use the circular offense in the back court, but if Mr. Mackie wants to see some pretty ball handling, he is advised to instruct his players to take the Ottawans all over the court. Ask Pierce Astle of Mc-Pherson about that, Mr. Mackie.

Tickets for the game are on sale at North American coffee shop and Davis-Wassmer clothing store. Fans are urged to buy early and avoid the rush at the entrance.

BRAVES SMASHED COYOTE QUINTET

TURNED BACK A RALLY TO WIN 48 TO 36.

Fans Got a Scare at Opening of Second Period—McPherson Upset Puts O. U. in Tie.

Ottawa University plowed its way to a 48 to 36 victory over Kansas Wesleyan University last night on the junior high court by virtue of smashing down a hard pounding Coyote rally in the first part of the last period.

Leading 22 to 10 at the end of the first half, the Braves seemed to be on their way to an easy victory, the play of the Wesleyan crew being listless. Coach A. B.
Mackie, however, succeeded in arousing his boys to a fever heat at the intermission, for they came back to spring a flashing offensive that had the Ottawans all at sea for the first five minutes of the period.

Junior Shaw, Wesleyan forward, playing at a dizzy pace, was the keynote of the Salina attack.
He poked in the first goal and before the fans could realize what was happening, Baer, Watson and Snyder had also connected to bring the score to 23 to 21 for Ottawa. Here the Braves called time-out and decided that they had not been doing a good job of getting the ball across the mid-court line and had not been getting back fast enough on defense.

Resuming play, the Wesleyan rally was halted cold. Don Meek scored from the side to stretch the lead to 25 to 21. Ad Miller started swooping around all over the court, was fouled and made a free shot. Then Lyle Swetnam came through to snag a one-handed stab from over at the side of the court, and the Ottawa rally was fairly under way. Miller was again fouled and collected a pair of charity tosses. Lyman Morgan dropped in a side shot and Miller scored from under the basket.
The latter got another free shot and Morgan connected on a two-handed shot from in front of the basket to give Ottawa a 37 to 21 lead. That 14-point rally staged in exactly five minutes proved to be the undoing of Wesleyan, for they never recovered from the shock, even though they did arouse themselves and outscore the Braves the rest of the game.

The play of Don Meek and Adrian Miller was outstanding in the first half. Each scored three field goals in that period and led the Braves in general court strategy.
Miller's driving tactics under the basket, his eye always trained on the goal, was a potent part of the Ottawa offense. Meek's scoring was helpful and his ball hawking defensive play was a stimulant to voices of the fans. He and Miller, together with Morgan, built up an Ottawa lead of 9 to 1 before big "Doc" Watson tipped in a shot for the Coyotes after 34 minutes of opening play. Omer Brenton got a tip-in and Meek flipped in a pair of long shots, one a sensational arch from the side, to boost the score to 13-6, Cletus Snyder and Watson having countered with shots from near the basket. Swetnam scored the final

Pour On the Heat . . . Jack Ramsey, left, leaps high to take the Dick Godlove looks on.

Braves are taking the forthcoming game seriously. They not only would like to beat the Salinans for the pleasure of downing them, but know they must turn the trick in order to stay in the conference race.

That will be no easy task, for the Coyotes are a big, tough team, hard to beat. They slumped last week to lose in an upset to the Bethany Swedes, but probably will come back with a vengeance this week and be in no mood to lose the game Friday night. Incidentally, this will be the only engage-
