

U.T. El Paso team, Sandra Stroope and Paul Stern, placed third in senior debate. Junior debaters Crystal Barnes and Joe Stone placed third in junior debate, while the freshman team of Maureen Corcoran and Charles Santaquida had a 4-2 win-loss record for the tournament. Lee Trevithick placed third in Persuasive Speaking.

The Duke City Tournament sponsored by the University of New Mexico in early December was another important tournament for the squad. Of 50 senior debate teams entered in the tournament, the U.T. El Paso squad made up two of the four teams going into the semi-finals. Sandra Stroope and Paul Stern won third place in the meet, accumulating the highest number of speaker points in six preliminary rounds. Lee Trevithick and Bob Malone went on to the finals of the tournament to place second in the meet. Junior debaters Crystal Barnes and Joe Stone won five out of their six debates, ranking them in the top ten teams in competition at the tournament. Maureen Corcoran and Charles Santaquida were rated excellent for their debating in the junior division. Mimi Eytcheson won first place in oral interpretation and Lee Trevithick won third in original oratory. U.T.E.P. placed second in sweepstakes.

Lee Trevithick and Bob Malone represented U.T. El Paso at the Southwestern College Tournament in Winfield, Kansas. They placed second in senior division.

WISCONSIN STATE, OSHKOSH

Reporter: Joseph Mazza

Throughout the first five months of this season, teams have travelled to colleges and universities in Colorado, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, and Washington, D.C., as well as five tournaments in Wisconsin. Moreover, the Wisconsin Gamma Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta has sponsored a Varsity Debate Tournament, a Novice Debate Tournament, and we are currently organizing our second annual Coaches' Debate Tournament and our annual Pi Kappa Delta Banquet, both tentatively scheduled for May. In addition, we are regularly publishing our newsletter, "The Spokesman" which is sent to faculty, alums, and friends of our Pi Kappa Delta Chapter.

Pi Kap members and other debaters have won various awards throughout the season. At the Northern Iowa University speech meet in October, Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh was awarded second place in sweepstakes. Second-place in sweepstakes was again awarded to WSU-O at the Northern Illinois University Individual Events Tournament of November 3-4, 1967, at which Pete Settle was awarded second pentathlon speaker. Dick Mack was ranked first in rhetorical criticism, and Ellen Kraeblen was ranked second. A novice debate team of Greg Olson and Larry Kahlscheuer, and a varsity team of Lon Monfils and Bill Starosta, were all awarded second-place trophies in debate at the WSU-Whitewater tournament, held in December. Thus far, thirty students have participated in the program, with seventeen students in debate, and twenty-eight students having participated in various individual events.

Pledge duties and a pledge project have been assigned to twelve students and one faculty member, who have met the necessary qualifications for membership into Pi Kappa Delta. The Wisconsin Gamma Chapter is under the direction of Mr. Robert Pruett, Director of Forensics, Miss Brenda Baumhart, Associate Director, and Dr. Joseph Mazza, our advisor.

ARIZONA STATE, TEMPE

Reporter: Mary Day

Dr. William H. Stites has been promoted to Full Professor and assumed responsibility for Arizona State University's program in Speech Education. Mr. C. Richard Keil, former assistant Director of Debate at the University of Southern California, has joined the faculty as an Assistant Professor,

Director of Forensics, and PKD Advisor. Wes Shellen, former ASU debater and teaching assistant, has become Assistant Debate Coach at the University of Montana.

A.S.U. has initiated two intercollegiate invitational debate tournaments: The A.S.U. "Earlybird" in October and the A.S.U. "Roadrunner" in January. The tournaments attracted competition from Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, and Texas. The "Roadrunner" Senior Division was won by Cal State College at Fullerton; Junior Division by Texas Tech.

ILLINOIS STATE UNIVERSITY

Reporter: B. Hahn

The spring semester finds Lee Polk, a former North Texas debater, joining ISU's coaching staff. Lee received his Ph.D. from Purdue University where he also served as a coach. After leaving Purdue, he then coached at Rhode Island. Lee will be replacing Miss George Foster who is on leave completing her Ph.D. work at Northwestern.

Last semester Kenneth Newton, graduate assistant in debate, was awarded a research grant by the Midwest Forensic Association for work on his thesis. The thesis will concern attitude change and information gain as a function of the placement of the affirmative plan.

ILLINOIS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Reporter: John Burt

The Illinois Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at Illinois Wesleyan University held a Saturday Festival in January. It consisted of a Serendipity Debate and an Interpretation Workshop. Four schools participated in the Debate with Illinois Wesleyan placing first (6-0) and Illinois State University, Normal, Illinois placing second (3-3). Milliken University, Decatur, Illinois and Wesleyan took part in the workshop. It consisted of the reading and discussing of particular pieces which presented certain problems for the interpreter. Each school presented a work of prose, poetry, and drama.

In November, we held our annual Peace Speaking Contest. Each contestant presented an original oration which expressed their views on peace in the world today. The winner was Phil Shank, a senior Speech major, who was presented with a trophy and also won the right to represent Wesleyan at the state Peace Speaking Contest.

We are in the process of planning our annual College Bowl which will be held in the spring. College Bowl is a campus wide contest in which each housing unit is represented by one team of three members. They compete against each other in an elimination tournament.

SOUTHWESTERN STATE, OKLAHOMA

Reporter: James D. Sill

Congratulations on the fine job you are doing with the FORENSIC. Since I am no longer coaching debate here at Southwestern would you please remove my name from the roster as sponsor of this Chapter and replace it with the name of Irwin Bingham.

LINFIELD COLLEGE, OREGON

Reporter: Roy Mahaffey

We are launching our second semester tournament activity. Our Junior girls team of Diane Dupuy and Mary Courtney won the Western, and Dianne took first in Ex-temp. We also won a sweepstakes award. In the Seattle Pacific tournament, the same two girls repeated and Charlotte Kirkwood won Senior Women's Oratory. We again took a sweepstakes.

Our high school tournament in February will be the 36th consecutive year and will draw from over 70 high schools in the state. Two weeks later our 38th consecutive college tournament will draw from at least 50 colleges in the western area.

We are furnishing judges for high school league competition which helps to raise money. Our Province Convention-Tournament will be held at Shore Lodge, Payette Lake, McCall, Idaho, the third week in April. We are working on five colleges in our province for new chapters and expect that two of them may attend our convention.

CENTRAL COLLEGE, IOWA

Reporter: Betti Brunsting

Miss Betti Brunsting, new Director of Forensics, is a graduate of Central College and of Northwestern University. Professor Cunera Van Emmerik, recently retired, is enjoying her new residence in Redlands, California. She reports she will be teaching one class at the University.

KANSAS STATE, FORT HAYS

Reporter: Henry Wolf

The Nu Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at Fort Hays Kansas State College has experienced one of the most successful seasons of debating and individual events in the school's history. At the University of Wyoming our freshman team of Glenda Frisbie and Jeff Ehrlich brought in a third place finish in Junior Division. Two individual trophies were acquired at the Kearney State Tourney with a first in oral interpretation by senior Alan Schiebmeir, a first in rhetorical criticism by junior Sharla Barber, and junior Sally Enfield received a certificate for one of the top ten debaters.

The next piece of hardware came from the University of Colorado with a second place finishing by the senior team of Barber and Enfield. After Thanksgiving the same senior team finished for a tie for fourth at the University of Arkansas. The final trophy this semester was won by Miss Barber with a second in extemp speaking from the tournament at Colorado College. At the Kansas State College of Pittsburg tournament, the senior team of Ehrlich and Barber and the junior team of Henry Wolf and Gerry Sanders ended with identical 4-2 records along with Wolf going into the semifinals and Barber into the finals in extemp speaking. The highlight for this semester came on March 16, when we are host to the "Dust Devil Tournament" where only teams that have not won a tournament can enter.

NORTHERN ARIZONA UNIVERSITY

Reporter: James Sayer

The NAU forensics squad has so far won some nineteen trophies this year in competition with schools from all over the Southwest and the West Coast. Overall, NAU debaters have run up an impressive list of seventy-seven wins against just twenty-six losses in competition in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, and Utah. Recently, NAU debaters captured the Sweepstakes Trophy at the First Annual Phoenix College Classic in Phoenix, Arizona.

The team of William Walker and Jamwa Sayer recently defeated a team from the University of Arizona in the second round of the Southwest TV debate series, enabling NAU to advance to the third round of this contest. The field numbered twenty-four teams at the inception of this series, was cut to twelve after the first round, and is now being reduced to six. NAU feels that it has a good chance to win this television tournament.

Officers for this year for NAU's PKD Chapter are: James Edward Sayer: President, Brent Adams: Vice-President, and E. James Brady: Secretary-Treasurer.

APPALACHIAN STATE

Reporter: Christine Curtis

Appalachian State University's Epsilon chapter started off the 1967-68 debate season with a bang by moving its headquarters into the new $3 million student center complex. In the mood to refurbish the new trophy case, the squad, which has tripled, according to Secretary Gary Triggs, started its travels throughout the south at the University of Georgia. This quarter Pi Kappa Delta is making headlines on campus through sponsorship of a speaking contest "I Think". The pledge class, being whipped into action by Randall Humphrey, is working hard to make the effort a success.

In addition to traveling from New York University to Florida State University, the squad is planning its annual Pi Kappa Delta workshop for North Carolina high school debaters, which will be held on the Appalachian campus during the district and semi-final contests in March.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY

Reporter: Linda Cordell

Due to faculty resignation and previous members leaving school, the TCU chapter is rebuilding its membership during the current forensic year. To date, 12 students have attended trips to Murfreesboro, Tennessee; Kansas City, Missouri; Dallas, Texas; Emporia, Kansas; Lubbock, Texas; Gallipolis, Ohio; Wichita, Kansas; Colorado Springs, Colorado; Ada, Oklahoma; Springfield, Missouri; Jackson, Mississippi; Nashville, Tennessee; and Kansas during the spring semester.

The local chapter sponsored its annual college tournament in November with a record-breaking 176 teams from 66 universities. In January, the group sponsored the first high school tournament for city and area schools with over 150 participants and judges in attendance.

Local officers are: president: Linda Cordell, vice-president: Frank Lewis, secretary-treasurer: Pam Ritter, and chapter sponsor: Ben A. Chappell.

COLORADO STATE-FORT COLLINS

Reporter: James R. Irvine

In October, the Chapter sponsored a Novice Debate Conference which attracted over 350 students from twenty-one area high schools. Included in the unique conference were a series of workshop sessions and demonstrations. This year two audience debates involving the touring British team were held. An audience of over 500 listened to a special British Union Debate on "Morality." In March, one debate team from Colorado State University will fly to Edmonton, Alberta, where it will participate with University of Alberta students in a series of audience debates. The Raymond Miller Foundation recently awarded our chapter a $250.00 grant per year to finance student attendance to area and National Pi Kappa Delta Conventions. Mr. Miller is a graduate of the University and an active supporter of Pi Kappa Delta. Mr. Ray McKerrow (B.A., Southern Illinois University) who is graduate assistant in speech, has served as assistant forensics director during the year.

CALIFORNIA INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Reporter: Michael Schon

Mr. Herb Booth is no longer Director of Forensics at the Institute, but is now in the Speech Department at California State College at Fullerton, 800 North State College Blvd., Fullerton, California 92631. Our new Director of Forensics at Caltech is Mr. Michael Schon, c/o Dabney Hall.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY, LOS ANGELES

Reporter: Jim Stiles

Loyola's debaters have been quite successful this year. The team of Jim Stiles and Jeff Bachmann have won first place at the George Pflaum National Invitational, the USC-Loyola Fall Invitational, and the University of Calif. at Santa Barbara Championship Invitational. In addition, Stiles and Bachmann won second place at the U.S. Air Force Academy National Invitational and the USC Golden West National Invitational. They won third place at the Georgetown National Tournament out of a total of 142 teams entered.

Vince McGraw and John Tagg won first place at the USC-Loyola Invitational, third place at the Pacific Southwest Championships, and were finalists at the Cal Berkeley tournament, the Golden West, Stanford, and Arizona State Invitationals.

Loyola has won first place in Sweepstakes at the Santa Barbara tourney for the second year in a row, and second place in Sweepstakes at Pacific Southwest Championships for the second consecutive year. We have hosted one college championship tournament and will be hosting two high school tournaments later in the year. Our squad will be attending other national tournaments at Harvard, Northwestern, and Michigan State (for which we have qualified two teams).

DAKOTA WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Reporter: Christine Rheborg

Since money seems to be a scarce asset, we have instigated a project for this year directed toward raising chapter money. We are in the process of organizing a book sale in which faculty members, students, and community people were asked for book donations. We have participated in numerous forensics tournaments since September and our president received superior honors in oratory at the Santa Claus Special Tournament in Sioux Falls, S. Dak. One of our debate teams has a fine standing of fifteen wins and four losses.

Left to right: Christine Rheborg, Vice President; Gerald Clausen, President; Kay Ammon, Secretary-Treasurer.

February and March are membership months for us and preparations are being made for new members. The chapter gives a banquet for the new members plus all other students participating in forensics. We have sent a special invitation to Senator George McGovern of South Dakota to be our speaker for the banquet. Senator McGovern is an alumnus of Dakota Wesleyan, past instructor, and a member of Pi Kappa Delta. We are also hosting the State High School Forensics Tournament in March which provides both a learning experience and enjoyable time for us as forensics members.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Reporter: Susan Nagle

The Michigan Theta chapter began the school year with these new officers: President, Richard Boyce; Vice-President, Beth Broad; Secretary, Bronwyn Hawks; Treasurer, James Curtis. The debate squad under the direction of Dr. Melvin Donaho and Mrs. Nancy Carey sent two units to the Michigan State University Group Action Tournament where they captured the first and fourth place trophies. At Ball State the novice teams finished third over-all and one team took a first place trophy for best affirmative.

Several teams have gone undefeated in tournaments. Central again won the second place trophy in individual events at the Bradley Speech Tournament. At our annual Christmas Dinner members, faculty, and friends met to initiate new members.

McKENDREE COLLEGE, ILLINOIS

Reporter: Diana Hedrick

The McKendree College Speech Department sponsored the third annual A. Magnabosco Oratorical Contest in February.

The contest is in memory of the late August Magnabosco, speech enthusiast and grandfather of Miss Annette Mulvany, chairman of the Speech-Drama Department.

At the annual national invitational Bradley University Pi Kappa Delta Speech Tournament, five out of six McKendree students ranked excellent. The ranking students are David Cordes in discussion, Edward Speidel in oral interpretation, William Smoltz in after-dinner speaking, Kathi Meggs in oral interpretation, and Diana Hedrick in after-dinner speaking.

Miss Annette Mulvany, faculty sponsor of Pi Kappa Delta, was the main speaker for the Toastmaster International District 8 Fall Conference recently. The speech entitled "The Murderous Tongue" was developed around the theme of language. Miss Mulvany's speech is to be published in the international magazine of Toastmasters'.

WEST VIRGINIA GAMMA MORRIS HARVEY COLLEGE

Reporter: Gary Cohen

The West Virginia Gamma Chapter at Morris Harvey College, Charleston, West Virginia, began this academic year at a flying start. Those in command of the flight crew are: President, Kathleen Kennedy; Vice-President, Howard Levine; Secretary-Treasurer, Gary Cohen; Advisor, Miss Roselyn L. Freedman.

The second semester's activities began with a series of debate trips initiated by a trip to Marietta College in February.

The highlights of this year's activities will be the joint convention of the Provinces of the Lakes and Northeast to be held on our campus April 10-13, 1968. Many exciting activities are planned for this convention.

This season will conclude with the West Virginia Intercollegiate Speech Festival to be held at Jackson's Mill, the home of the late Stonewall Jackson, in April.

STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE Geneseo, New York

Reporter: John Kim

Susquehanna Champs

Beta Chapter at the State University College at Geneseo, New York, has been busy this past Fall semester in sponsoring a high school debate tournament and in participating in discussion and debate tournaments. The highlight of the semester was a victory over Rutgers University in the championship round of the 4th Annual Susquehanna University Dutchman Forensic Classic. The championship round was televised over WBRE-TV, Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania.

STETSON UNIVERSITY, FLORIDA

Reporter: Bonnie Walker

The Florida Beta Chapter of Stetson University saw a new surge of enthusiasm this past fall in our debate program. Under the supervision of the new chapter sponsor and coach, Miss Mymie Caldwell, we welcomed 25 new members to our team.

We attended the Group Action Tournament held annually at the University of Florida in Gainesville. Early November saw our top varsity teams — David Demers and Pat Marsh, and Al Dawson and Ron Maniscalco— off to Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. Late in the month the team attended the Wake Forest Tournament in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Other tourneys included University of Miami and Florida State University in Tallahassee.

We're looking forward to the PKD Provincial in Norfolk, Virginia and a visit from the British Debaters in March. We're particularly excited about the coffee we're planning in honor of the new President of Stetson University, Dr. Paul Geren, an alumni member of Pi Kappa Delta.

The last few weeks have found the members of Florida Beta busy revising the pledge test and our local chapter constitution. With the continued enthusiasm and effort on the part of our members we're looking forward to a good year, and the expansion of our forensic program.

OLD DOMINION COLLEGE Norfolk, Virginia

Reporter: Stephanie Rula

The Virginia Beta chapter likes to consider 1967-68 as a year for organizing and strengthening forensic activities on Old Dominion's campus as well as one for expanding debate travel.

Plans are now being made for a high school debate workshop, an all-campus speaking contest, and practice debate sessions with nearby colleges.

The Province of the Southeast, numbering twenty schools, held its tournament and convention on our campus earlier this month. Results will appear in the May issue of The Forensic.

Tournaments attended thus far this season include: University of North Carolina, Dickinson College, Duquesne University, Georgetown University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Elizabethtown College, Tulane University, and College of William and Mary. Among the several tournaments that will round off our schedule for the year will be — hopefully — two or three that include individual events. (Several O.D.C. students are interested in non-debate competitive speaking).

Officers for the 1967-68 year are: President, Robert Albertson; Vice-President, Steve White; Secretary-Treasurer, Jane Craddock; Corresponding Secretary, Stephanie Rula; Pledgemaster, Rod Pennington; Chapter Advisor, Paul A. Dicklin.

SIOUX FALLS COLLEGE

Reporter: Frank Nelson

The South Dakota Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at Sioux Falls College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, will soon be initiating eleven new members. This will increase the total active membership to twenty.

The chapter has been active this year in participating and in sponsoring speech contests. They sponsored the Tri-High Speech Festival for the three high schools of the city. And at Christmas was the Santa Claus Special with twenty-five colleges and universities participating in debate and individual activities. The chapter has also provided judges for local and district high school tournaments.

This year was added a reader's theater under the direction of Mr. Rodney Van Loh, a new assistant professor to the Speech and Drama Department at Sioux Falls College.

The chapter is now looking forward to the last week in March when they can go to Excelsior Springs, Missouri to participate in the Bi-Province. With the possibility of making it into a camping trip, warm weather is certainly hoped for.

Stout Forensics In A Nutshell

JUDY EVENSON

(A special article written by a student from Wisconsin Kappa Chapter)

Just a mere .002 of the student body is represented — yet this fall, Wisconsin Kappa Chapter (Stout State University) has proven to be one of the most active organizations on campus. Half of our members are engaged or married, all (nine) hold part-time jobs either on or off campus, and most of our members are active in at least three other activities. Regardless, all manage to find time to keep Pi Kap a working and moving organization.

And have we been moving! An all-out campaign to get more students involved in forensics and PKD was our first project. We succeeded in reaching about 1000 students by the speech classes, where we distributed both oral and written propaganda. "Stout Forensics in a Nutshell" was the theme of our promotional blurb. Forty-seven "squirrels" took our bait seriously enough to become presently involved in one or more forensic activities. By this spring, because of growing interest and warm, willing bodies, we will have initiated three classes of lowly pledges!

Naturally, we are encouraging participation in intercollegiate forensics. But things are happening in our neck of the woods, too. Right after our promotional efforts, we began to set the stage for our annual Individual Events Tournament on Dec. 2nd. Using "The Art of Persuasion, Beautiful and Just" and a few threats, we rounded up the assistance of 100 fellow students to aid in the smooth operation of our tournament. Eleven other schools, with 120 students, competing in seven events, sort of helped, too. Without them, there wouldn't have been much of a tournament! This year, for the first time, a sweepstakes trophy was given to the school with the highest point total. Everything went off without a hitch until during the awards presentation following the banquet we had to confess that we had no sweepstakes trophy: it was on back order at the factory!

Involvement in community activities has been another of our challenges this year. To meet this responsibility, we have come up with an interesting, effective angle. Everyone who wins or places in tournament competition, whether they are "brothers" or not, is responsible for entertainment at our bi-weekly meetings. Furthermore, they are "persuaded" to offer their talents to the community. The Rotary (sponsor of our elusive sweepstakes trophy), Toastmasters International, and local Women's Clubs are already on our growing list of civic engagements. Even a Reader's Theatre program is scheduled to go on the road.

I suppose we could stop right there. Many of the Stout faculty wish we would! However, we are proceeding with our promotion of Faculty Talent Night. This bi-annual event promises to be a money-making endeavor. It seems that everyone is interested in seeing what talents their hoary professors can exhibit outside the classroom!

The final "first" for our forensic program is our weekly journalistic contribution to all participants and interested faculty entitled "The Mumble." This intrepid rag keeps everyone up-to-date on forthcoming tournaments, results of past efforts, and our coach's moods.

The Wisconsin Kappa chapter has only one apology to offer in this report. We are sorry that we have no photograph to include. To quote our coach, "Neither the camera nor the film has been devised which could stop the action of our forensics and Pi Kap students." That's a pretty stiff order to live up to, but we're trying!

NEW MEMBERS

GREENVILLE COLLEGE

41184 Carol McMurran

WHEATON COLLEGE

41185 William L. Craig
41186 Albert L. Furbay
41187 J. Timothy Gatz
41188 Martin Sandel
41189 Kathryn L. Sisson

LINFIELD COLLEGE

41190 Jody Stahancyk
41191 Dennis D. Rupard

MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

41192 Alfred N. Andrews
41193 David Briody
41194 John S. Day
41195 Paul E. Ground
41196 Stephen W. Milhollin
41197 Jeff A. Spielman

LUTHER COLLEGE

41198 Gerald Teig

UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT

41199 Michael J. Bonk
41200 John W. Dalida
41201 Brent J. Garback
41202 Steven J. Kempshi
41203 Cameron A. MacKenzie
41204 David H. Paruch
41205 Michael J. Reynolds

EAST TEXAS STATE UNIV.

41206 Bill Aleshire
41207 Virginia Ann Wood

SAN DIEGO STATE COL.

41208 John Fitzgerald
41209 Timothy H. Flanigan
41210 Joseph Fox
41211 Elizabeth Anne Haworth
41212 Sam Hoffman
41213 Elizabeth Jordan
41214 Donna M. Schipper
41215 Michael H. Wayne

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY STATE COLLEGE

41216 Nancy Cane
41217 Gage Chapel
41218 Barry S. Glaser
41219 Richard A. Kallan

MARYVILLE COLLEGE

41220 Sandra Graham

WHITMAN COLLEGE

41221 John Miller

STETSON UNIVERSITY

41222 Mymie Caldwell
41223 Rachel Ann Rajchel

CALIFORNIA WESTERN UNIVERSITY

41224 Martin K. Koba
41225 Stephen A. Kolkey
41226 Gary Krauss
41227 Greg Krikorian
41228 Van O'Steen
41229 Edward D. Rintye
41230 Jeanine Walters
41231 B. Casey Yim

EAST TEXAS STATE UNIV.

41232 Millie C. Newsom
41233 Ronnie C. Smith

CALIFORNIA STATE POLYTECHNIC COLLEGE

41234 Diane Kay Renier

SIMPSON COLLEGE

41235 Charles Calvin Cooley
41236 Charles Daugherty
41237 Jon Engelhardt
41238 R. Fred Melin

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE

41239 Albert D. Benson
41240 David A. Crossman
41241 Linda Kiester
41242 Don Peterson

W. S. U. — RIVER FALLS

41243 Margaret Kitze
41244 J. Michael Norman
41245 Durwood Pete Seguin
41246 Jerome A. Skrupky
41247 Barbara Joan Stouffer

LINFIELD COLLEGE

41248 Jeanne K. Macomber

HUMBOLDT STATE COL.

41249 Russanne Green
41250 Karen Luanne Morton
41251 Craig C. Steele
41252 Jerome D. Wilcox, Jr.

WHITMAN COLLEGE

41253 Thomas C. Evans
41254 Linda Van Winkle

FRESNO STATE COLLEGE

41255 Susan R. Jensen
41256 Terrence Francis Kane
41257 Jeffrey King
41258 Bob Ritner
41259 Charles E. Takahashi
41260 Ann Wallace
41261 Cheryl Ann Wren

WILLIAM PENN COLLEGE

41262 Roger Alan Baskerville
41263 Francis Eugene Beyea
41264 Jay Leslie Entner
41265 Lawrence J. Gebhardt
41266 David J. Jacobson
41267 Gregory A. Shortell, Jr.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

41268 Stephen Allen Bloss
41269 Charles Randall Kruger
41270 Kerry Lairmore
41271 Steven W. Neill
41272 Laurence J. Shute
41273 Jim Stephenson
41274 J. Gardner Wells

LUTHER COLLEGE

41275 David L. Schultz

WHITMAN COLLEGE

41276 Clifford Brown

MARYVILLE COLLEGE

41277 Jon Lutz
41278 Charles Myers
41279 Knox Singleton