To be at home in the universe and to realize that through it - God reveals His mind and will; to appreciate different phases and forms of matter; to be at home in different lands and ages; to know how to use the world's library; to love the beautiful in art and in life; to become acquainted with the Book of life; to feel that the world and its Creator are friendly; to realize strength from harmonizing ones life with the laws he knows and from turning into the presence of the Infinite; to be a friend and to make friends; to lose selfishness in enthusiasm and cooperation with others; to be gentlemen and women of Christian ideals and purposes - these are the possible dividends to be derived from investing four of the best years of ones life in

Ottawa University.
