Discussion Resolutions

One hundred and twenty-three students participated in twelve hours of discussion based on the question, How Can We Most Effectively Combat the Threat of Communism? The following resolutions were adopted at the general assembly which marked the last round of the participation:

- I. That we combat communism with knowledge by promoting the objective teaching of political, social, and economic doctrines through free use of all media of communication and in particular that
 - A. We expand the use of objective news casting, the Voice of America and the Voice of Freedom, and that
 - B. We encourage the exchange of students, particularly through the United Nations.
- II. That we stop the spread of communism by stabilizing the world economy in the following ways:
 - A. Promoting the expansion and improvement of the Point Four program to those nations interested in helping themselves.
 - B. Extending the use of reciprocal trade agreements.
 - C. Lowering Tariff rates.
