

Peter H. Armacost – (1967-1977) had been a professor of psychology & Program Director of the Association of American Colleges before coming to OU.. At Ottawa University he established the College Without Campus program with the OUKC site and later a site in Phoenix. He provided leadership for the "New Plan of Education," an innovative curriculum. Computer-assisted instruction was also begun during his tenure. At the end of his term there was a large deficit and staff was cut by 20 percent.