PROFESSOR MENCHHOFFER WRITES A BOOK

Professor Menchhofer, Head of the Department of Speech of Michigan State College, is the author of a new book "A Hand-book of Speech Criticisms". As stated in the preface, the book is designed to meet the following needs:

1. An easy and adequate method of giving written criticisms;
2. A simple method of giving repeat criticisms;
3. A method of supplying references which discuss the student's particular problem;
4. A method of amplifying oral criticisms and textbook discussion.

The Pi Kappa Delta world will be particularly interested in knowing of Professor Menchhofer's contribution when we remember that Mr. Menchhofer is first Vice President and Chairman of the Charter Committee of Pi Kappa Delta.

DEAN ALLEN HONORED

Members of Pi Kappa Delta will be interested in knowing of the honor which has come to Dean Leroy Allen of Southwestern College, through his election to membership in the National Institute of Social Sciences. Dean Allen has encouraged Pi Kappa Delta through his interest in the local Delta Chapter, and through his work as Governor of the Province of Kansas.

Dean Allen's election to membership in the National Institute of Social Sciences has come in recognition of his contribution to the field of social science in founding Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Society, and the magazine Social Science. He is the third member to be elected from the state of Kansas. The Institute has a limited membership of about eight hundred, and the roll contains the names of such men as Herbert Hoover, David Starr Jordan, and the Mayo Brothers. Dean Allen was nominated to the honor by Mr. Henry Fletcher, a distinguished lawyer of New York.

Dean Allen is Professor of Economics, as well as Dean of Southwestern College.

Pi Kappa Delta is glad to list among its members, as one interested in forensics, the name of Dean Allen.

In response to the Editor's request for information concerning the various annual Pi Kappa Delta's banquets, a number of letters and programs were received. Among these one of the most interesting received was that from the Iowa Zeta Chapter.

PROMINENT PI KAPPA DELTANS

In the March Forensic we asked for pictures and information concerning members of Pi Kappa Delta who were presidents of student associations. We received some response to this request but not as many as we would like. We gave space to two students in the May Forensic who were active in other matters than those strictly forensic. Since that time we have received information of other such students. In the January Forensic we want to include a department especially in honor of such students. We feel sure that there are a great many members of Pi Kappa Delta in our one hundred thirty chapters who are leaders in many activities. If your president of Pi Kappa Delta is also president of the student body, please send us a picture and a paragraph concerning such activity.

WHO IS YOUR PROVINCE GOVERNOR?

In the May Forensic we asked for information concerning the newly elected provincial officers. We received information from some of the old officers as to changes that were made. The October Forensic will list, so far as we have the information, facts concerning the Province Governors. In most cases if changes were made we know nothing about them. Province Governors failed to inform and in some cases seem not to know.

Will you Province Governors, other officers or students please send this information to the Editor of the Forensic?

LEX KING SOUTER

“MAKES THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD”

Professor P. Casper Harvey, in charge of forensics at William Jewell College, on September 24th received a telegram from Senator Hawes as follows: “Was successful in securing insertion of Souter’s oration Congressional Record. Extend to him my congratulations”.

All students interested in oratory should read Souter’s oration given in this issue.

Prof. W. Dwight Wentz, formerly of Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas, is now Professor of Speech at the University of Mississippi. Professor Wentz is an old timer in Pi Kappa Delta. He joined the General Chapter in 1917 and wears key No. 220. He installed the Texas Alpha Chapter and was influential in bringing a number of other chapters to the Lone Star State.

The Henderson-Brown College is now a state institution and will be known henceforth as the Henderson-Brown State Teachers College.

OXFORD TO DISCUSS VARIETY OF QUESTIONS

The following array of questions is offered by the Oxford University debaters now in America:

1. That the jury system is unnecessary for the administration of justice.
 2. That the talking film will strike a deadly blow at western culture.
 3. That this is the best of all possible worlds.
 4. That the installment plan of buying is a danger to American prosperity.
 5. That the United States can not expect to have her debts paid until her tariff barriers are substantially reduced.

Pi Kappa Delta loses an active chapter through the closing of Des Moines University. After the student difficulty there last spring circumstances developed such that the school did not open its doors this fall.

Prof. Roy Smith, Third Vice President of Pi Kappa Delta, and former Head of the Department of Speech at Western Union, is now at Culver-Stockton College. Although Professor Smith has changed colleges, he will still be working in a Pi Kappa Delta institution.

We presume that some of the membership of Pi Kappa Delta may think that our National President, W. H. Veatch, has nothing to do but to sit in his office and give Pi Kappa Delta orders to his various vice presidents and other subordinate officers. Judging by his heavy debate schedule of last year, and by the success in winning contests, we must come to the conclusion that sitting in his office giving orders is the least of his worries. The debate schedule of the Pullman State College, where Professor Veatch has charge of debate, included thirty-five contests, all of which Mr. Veatch handled himself. His teams finished first on the Pacific Coast in women's debating, and second in men's debate.

As we hurriedly glance through the forensic items of the various college papers we are forced to believe that most of our Chapters are already very much interested in and making very definite plans toward attending the National Convention at Wichita.

J. Howard McBurney, who as a student at Yankton College won high honor in all branches of forensics, is now a member of the Department of Speech at the University of Michigan where he is working on his Ph. D. degree.

KIWANIS CLUB ENCOURAGES FORENSICS

The Kiwanis Club of Madison, South Dakota has voted to award a prize of $50.00 to that freshman, sophomore or junior student in the Eastern State Teachers College who shall be most deserving from the standpoint of forensic achievement, attitude, scholarship, and general student activity in campus organizations other than those of forensic interests. They have voted an additional $10.00 award to that senior debater who ranks highest on the basis of these same considerations. These awards came to E. S. T. C. as a result of the good work of Prof. Mundt who has charge of speech work there and who is a member of the Madison Kiwanis Club. We believe that there are a number of Service Clubs that might be interested in giving awards of some kind for those who do outstanding work in forensics.

The students at Eastern State Teachers College have the further incentive from prizes totaling $55.00 given by the local W. C. T. U. as prizes in the annual Oratorical Contest on Prohibition Enforcement.

DO YOU ENCOURAGE? TELL US ABOUT IT

Does your chapter give special individual award in any form for the highest forensic achievement of the year? Some colleges do. These awards are highly sought for by students because of the difficulty of achieving them.

Write and tell us what yours is. We believe it would be interesting to know of such practices in the different colleges.

A few days ago the Editor had the privilege of conversing with our National Counsel, J. D. Coon. When we have that opportunity we do not pass it up. J. D. is like a cool breeze off the lake on a hot summer day, or like—well we can't think of anything to say here that will do him justice. Anyhow he may read this and misunderstand what we really mean. Our National Secretary-Treasurer, Prof. George Finley, has left the task of stating the Pi Kappa Delta question in the hands of the National Council, the three past national presidents, and the Editor of the Forensic. Mr. Coon's visit to our office was primarily to discuss the statement of that question. Our National Counsel will expect to do what he has done the last several years, attend the national convention.

Would it be interesting to know how many Pi Kappa Delta members, coaches and students have won the degree of special distinction? If you would like to know how many there are in our various chapter colleges, please inform the Editor how many you have, so that we may compile the information for the "Brotherhood".

THE ILLINOIS STATE NORMAL UNIVERSITY IN SUCCESSFUL FORENSIC YEAR

The Illinois Eta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta located at the Illinois State Normal University, Normal, Illinois, was unusually fortunate in its debate work last year. The following colleges are members of the Illinois Intercollegiate Debating League: Augustana, Bradley, Eureka, Illinois College, Illinois State Normal University, Illinois Wesleyan, Lincoln, Lombard, Mount Morris, North Central, Northern Illinois State Teacher's College, Shurtleff, St. Viator's, Western Illinois State Teacher's College, Wheaton.

The men's teams debated the question: Resolved: That the public should retain the ownership and develop the chief sources of hydro-electric power in the United States.

Professor A. A. Hopkins of Illinois Wesleyan (Illinois Alpha) was president of the Illinois Intercollegiate Debating League, Professor Harold B. Allen of Shurtleff College, (Illinois Lambda) secretary of the League, and Professor Fred S. Sorrenson, Illinois State Normal University, (Illinois Eta) treasurer.

“THE PLATFORM WORLD” APPOINTS PROFESSOR HIGGINS AS EDUCATIONAL EDITOR

The Platform World, the “Trade Journal” of the professional speech field has recently announced the appointment of Professor H. H. Higgins as Educational Editor. Through the addition of the Educational Editor and his Department, The Platform World expects “to give practical suggestions to high school and college teachers of Speech, and to those in charge of school and college dramatics, debate and extemporaneous speaking activities”.

We quote further from the announcement. “Professor, Author, Lecturer—and now, Editor, Professor Higgins began his training for the editorship of the educational service of The Platform World thirty-five years ago. During this period of training he has taught in the public schools of Indiana; served in the U. S. Navy during the World War, France, Africa, Gibraltar, and the Azores; graduated from DePauw University, where he was prominent in debate and dramatic activities; received an A.M. degree from the University of Iowa, where he specialized in Speech and Psychology; has taught Public Speaking at the University of Wyoming and at Miami University, where he is now Associate Professor of Public Speaking. Mr. Higgins is the author of “Influencing Behaviour Through Speech”, which applies to Public Speaking the latest findings of social psychology; and “Preaching That Influenced Our Forefathers”, a study of early American preaching.

William Jewell Wins National Championship

(Editor's note—We give below the story of honor which came to William Jewell College through the winning of the National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution by one of our Pi Kappa Delta members. Mr. Souter has brought honor to his school, his state and to Pi Kappa Delta. The story of his achievement should be an inspiration and a challenge to other aspirants to oratorical fame. It pays to win, but winning doesn't just happen. The winner must make things happen.)

In a contest described by Los Angeles newspapers as one in which "never before had a greater array of college oratorical ability appeared on a single platform," a William Jewell orator won the 1929 national intercollegiate championship in the final contest of the Fifth National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, held at Bovard auditorium, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, June 20.

Lex King Souter, a junior William Jewell, representing not only William Jewell and Missouri but ten states of the Midwestern zone, was given first place in this contest in which 542 colleges and universities of the United States had participated this year. Seven orators had survived the state and zone elimination contests.

Souter was given first place by six of the seven judges. This achievement is said never to have been duplicated before in the national finals of the contest. In the four stages of this national contest from the local, state, zone, and national contests, Lex was judged by 18 judges and he received first place from 16 of these judges. For winning first place at Los Angeles he was presented a check for $1500 by the Better America Federation of California which sponsored the nation-wide contest.

Second place and the prize of $1000 was given to Robert C. Goodwin of Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Indiana, who represented the Central zone. Third place was given John P. McEnery, Santa Clara University, Santa Clara, California, representing the Pacific zone, with a prize of $750. Fourth place went to Milton H. Williams, Wesleyan University, Connecticut, representing the New England zone and the prize of $500. Fifth place went to Robert M. Smith, St. John's College, Brooklyn, $450, representing the Eastern zone. Sixth place went to Lee R. Mercer, North Carolina State College, $400, representing the Southern zone. Seventh place went to Benjamin Ungerman, Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York, $350, representing the Northern zone.

In his zone contest Goodwin had defeated among others: Northwestern University, University of Detroit, and University of West Virginia. In his zone contest Williams had defeated among others: Yale, Harvard, Brown, Dartmouth, Amherst, Boston Tech. Ungerman in his zone contest had defeated among others: Columbia, Cornell, Colgate, Fordham, and New York University.

Will Rogers was chairman and presided in the inimitable way in which Will Rogers is capable. The judges were: John J. Beman, president of the Board of Education, Los Angeles; Arthur S. Bent, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles; Mrs. Susan Dorsey, superintendent emeritus of the schools of Los Angeles; Judge Elliot Craig, presiding judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles; Dr. Wm. B. Munro, chairman of the Division of History, Economics, and Government of Harvard University; Judge Paul J. McCormick, United States Federal Judge who was recently appointed by President Hoover as a member of the National Law Enforcement Commission; and the Rt. Rev. Bertrand W. Stevens, bishop of the Los Angeles Episcopal Diocese.

The contest was an inspiring one and if applause is any indication Souter received the popular decision as well as the award of the judges because he was the only orator whom the chairman in response to the applause beckoned to stand, after he had resumed his seat, to acknowledge the prolonged applause. After the contest Souter was invited to speak before many civic clubs of Los Angeles, including Rotary, Lions, and Optimists. Souter also delivered his oration on Sunday at the Magnolia Avenue Christian Church and the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles, and he preached Sunday morning at the Second Presbyterian Church of Pasadena.

William Jewell received a tremendous amount of publicity because of Souter's victory. The Associated Press, the United Press, and the International sent dispatches to every morning newspaper in America the night of the contest. Several photographic syndicates sent his photograph to the leading papers of the United States, Friday morning.

For instance, Souter's picture, two columns wide and about seven inches in length appeared in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. It was the only picture on the front page of the Dallas News. The Chicago Tribune printed the picture among the news features of the day. The New York Times carried an excellent account of the contest. In all of this William Jewell was advertised as having produced the champion college and university orator of the United States for 1929.

About 25 telegrams of congratulation were received by Souter and Prof. P. Casper Harvey, Souter's coach who accompanied him to California, from President Herget, the Liberty Chamber of Commerce, the Mayor of Liberty, the Lions Club of Liberty and from similar organizations and individuals in Liberty and in Trenton, Souter's home town. The William Jewell men at the Northern Baptist Convention at Denver, before the contest, sent Souter a telegram of encouragement which he received just before he went on the platform at the contest. When Souter returned to Trenton he was met by a large delegation as well as by a band.

Many William Jewell alumni now in California attended the contest and at the reception following it held an impromptu and enthusiastic reunion, celebrating William Jewell's victory over 541 other colleges and universities of the United States.

BROUGHT HONOR TO MISSOURI

An editorial of the Kansas City Star, June 22, reads as follows: "The winning of the national collegiate oratorical contest at Los Angeles, Thursday by Lex King Souter, William Jewell College student and Trenton pastor, is more than an individual achievement. It reflects credit upon the institution represented and is a distinction of which the whole of Missouri may be justly proud. Mr. Souter's qualifications not only as an orator but as a pastor, boxer, leader in college athletics, theatricals and forensics make a fine combination. Congratulations to Mr. Souter, William Jewell, Trenton, and the rest of the state!"

REMARKS OF HON. HARRY B. HAWES

Of Missouri in the Senate of the United States Tuesday, September 24
(legislative day of Monday, September 9), 1929

MR. HAWES. Mr. President, the National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, held at Los Angeles, June 20, 1929, was won by Lex King Souter, of William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo. He was awarded a prize of $1,500.

There were 542 colleges and universities in this contest. He was one of the seven orators who survived the State and zone elimination competition.

Souter was given first place by 6 of the 7 judges, an achievement not heretofore duplicated in final contest.

Souter's ability (in preliminary and final contests) was passed upon by 18 judges, and he received first place from 16 of these judges.

When we consider that every great college in America participated, and that the young orators went through the grueling process of elimination first in their own colleges, second in the colleges of their State, third in zone contests, and then contended in the final—the best of all the young orators in America—it is indeed an achievement worthy of national attention.

Every great college in America had a candidate—not only the great colleges but the smaller ones.

This young man was prepared and trained for his achievement by Prof. P. Casper Harvey.

The junior Senator of our State (Mr. Patterson) and myself have a very great State pride in this achievement; but, in addition to this, we believe that the oration is well worth while for publication in the RECORD. It is progressive in thought and can be read with profit by everyone. I now ask permission, in which the junior Senator from Missouri joins, that the address be inserted in the RECORD.

The VICE PRESIDENT.—Without objection, it is so ordered.

LEADERSHIP AND EDUCATION

((An extract from "The Leadership of Educated Men", an address delivered before the Alumni of Brown University, Providence, June 20, 1882, by George William Curtis.)

Every year at the college commencement the American scholar is exhorted to do his duty. But every newspaper proves that he is doing it. For he is the most practical politician who shows his fellow citizens, as the wise old sailor told his shipmates, that "God has somehow so fixed the world that a man can afford to do about right." Take from the country at this moment the educated power, which is contemned as romantic and sentimental, and you would take from the army its general, from the ship its compass, from national action its moral mainspring. It is not the demagogue and the shouting rabble; it is the people heeding the word of the thinker and the lesson of experience, which secures the welfare of the American republic and enlarges human liberty. If American scholarship is not in place, it is in power. If it does not carry the election today, it determines the policy of tomorrow. Calm, patient, confident, heroic, in our busy and material life it perpetually vindicates the truth that the things which are unseen are eternal. So in the cloudless midsummer sky serenely shines the moon, while the tumultuous ocean rolls and murmurs beneath, the type of illimitable and unbridled power; but, resistlessly marshaled by celestial laws, all the wild waters, heaving from pole to pole, rise and recede, obedient to the mild queen of heaven.
