The Collegiate Year

consists of one term which begins in September of each year and continues six months.

An Obligatory

three years graded course has been established. The curriculum is graded to extend through that period, with examinations at the end of each year.

Special Advantages

The special advantages which this school offers to college students intending studying medicine may be summed up as follows: Its long, thorough and graded course of study; its comparatively low fees; its well equipped laboratories; its ample dispensary and hospital facilities, and its new and large college building.

The Annual Announcement giving full particulars, will be sent on application.

THE WESTERN DENTAL COLLEGE, of Kansas City, Mo., is now in its fifth year. The regular winter session of 1894-95 will open on the 2d day of October. The faculty feels a justifiable pride in announcing to its friends and patrons the continued prosperity of the institution. Chartered in the year 1890, its advancement toward the first place in the ranks of dental colleges has been continuous and gratifying, and when its success from the start and the large number of students enrolled at its first session, and the steady increase in numbers at each succeeding session are considered, it may be said to be something phenomenal. It has taken no backward step, and today its diplomas are everywhere accepted and recognized as passports to their fortunate possessors wherever American dentistry is practiced. The institution now occupies a prominent and enviable position in the ranks of similar institutions. The great accession to its number of students expected for the coming session has necessitated radical and extensive changes, and the faculty takes pleasure in announcing to the friends and patrons of the college that the facilities for a thorough practical dental education have been greatly augmented. In addition to the rooms occupied in former years, and at the beginning considered ample for our needs, another entire floor of the building has been secured and fitted up with every modern appliance for the thorough practical instruction of the students. Important alterations have also been made in the old quarters, rendering them more spacious and elegant, and greatly conducive to convenience, health and comfort of students. The location of the college is unsurpassed, being situated in the business center of the city, and easy of access to students and those seeking the infirmary, and where clinical material will be abundant. In its present entirety we confidently believe that for the purposes for which it is intended, the theoretical and practical teaching of dentistry, is unsurpassed.

Regular Winter Course of 1894-95 will begin October 2, 1894, and continue five months. For Catalogue and further information address, D. J. McMILLEN, Dean, Corner Eleventh and Walnut streets, or J. M. GROSS, Secretary, 1104 Main street, Kansas City, Mo.

THE HONEY LOCUST.

NORA LISTER, '95.

Oh, the scent of the honey-locust:

Forever 'twill be to me,

In any land, in any clime,

The fairest memory.

For it wafts me in fairy fancy

To childhood's happy home;

To my cottage home 'neath sunny skies

Mid a wealth of blooming flowers.

And I see that little cottage

Wreathed about with clinging vine,

And I catch the scent of blossoms

From that nook in Memory's shrine.

Now the rose buds are just bursting

'Neath the May-day skies of blue

Filling all the yard with glory

By their rich and varied hue.

Now the air is fraught with sweetness

From the wealth of fragrant bloom,

As it mingles with the hawthorn

Hedge's delicate perfume.

But far sweeter than the perfume

Of the hawthorn, or the rose,

Or nodding blossom on the vine

That round the cottage blows,

Is the scent of the honey-locust

Drifting adown the lane,

Making the way to the cottage

Across the grassy plain.

Oh, the faint sweet smell of the locust!

Forever 'twill be to me,

In any land, in any clime,

The fairest memory.

OTTAWA UNIVERSITY.

An account of the early history of Ottawa University has already appeared in the present volume of the CAMPUS. It is the purpose of this article to recount briefly the history which has been making during the past year.

This is the second year of the administration of President F. W. Colegrove. That it should be a period of marked success in the history of the Institution is no surprise to those who are acquainted with Dr. Colegrove, and is a cause for congratulation among the friends of the University. The policy of the administration has been strong, though conservative; vigorous yet every step taken is considered with care. The result is a complete harmony with what has ever been the spirit of the University, and what is very desirable, a warm sympathy with the Baptists of Kansas. Here, we feel, they may find a school which is worthy of their heartiest support, to which they may point with pardonable pride, and which with their help, will fulfil the most sanguine expectations.

Let us glance at the individual departments. Last year the Normal course was introduced, and this has recently been greatly strengthened. It has been so perfected that now any student desiring a course of study preparatory to teaching may, upon completion of the Normal course at Ottawa, receive a diploma which, backed by three years, experience in teaching, will be recognized in all the public schools of the state. This will be of great advantage to our young people, and should be fully appreciated by them.

The regular work of the University has been carried on during the year with increasing efficiency. Professor M. L. Ward has not only performed the duties pertaining to the department of Mathematics, but has also given a great deal of time and attention to the oversight of the University grounds and the improvements of the same. It will be owing largely to his care that the students of another generation may recline luxuriously in the shade of the shapely elm and rejoice in the beauties of their college home. The work of beautifying the Campus is constantly going on, and it will not be many years before the college Campus will be as lovely a spot as there may be found "in these parts".

The Greek and Latin departments have materially prospered under the care of Professor J. R. Ewing and Professor F. H. Potter respectively. Both are thorough masters of their work and are able to inspire their pupils with the spirit of true culture. Several students during the past year have been impelled to take up the classical course after entering upon some other.

In Modern Languages and English Literature Miss A. L. Dicklow has more than maintained the high standard of former years. The courses have been enlarged and enriched. In the study of English Miss Dicklow seeks to cultivate a love for literature with good taste and judgment in its criticism.

The department of History and Economics has been ably sustained by Professor H. C. Merrill. This is Professor Merrill's first year in Ottawa University, and the hopes that were entertained for him and his department have been more than realized. Prof. Merrill's design in history has been to employ the Seminary method of investigation. This method of instruction can be successfully used only with an orderly and well supplied library. As librarian Professor Merrill has felt keenly the need of more books along the line of history as well as along other lines. Friends of the University can confer a lasting favor upon the Institution by sending contributions of money or well selected books for use in the library.

—* CHARLTON COTTAGE. *

Charlton Cottage is located upon the Campus near the College buildings. It is a monument to the labors of Mrs. O. C. Charlton, who raised the funds for its erection from the many friends of the institution. It makes a bright and attractive home for twenty-four young women. The rooms are furnished nicely and every care is taken to make it pleasant for the girls. Its location among the trees certainly makes it a place of refreshing coolness in summer, while in winter its bright and cheery appearance renders it a very desirable home. During the years in which the Cottage has been occupied, the matrons have proven themselves capable of taking the care of such an institution. The first matron, Mrs. Johns, showed the wisdom and careful attention to the young ladies which are essential in such a position. The present matron, Mrs. Nixon, by her motherly interest has secured a place in the hearts of all the girls and has made the year a very pleasant one. All the patrons and friends of the institution are cordially invited to visit both the Cottage and the College buildings. Mrs. Charlton has done a great and noble work. As long as Ottawa University exists her name will be remembered and she herself will be the recipient of gratitude of many hearts.

In the scientific department much has been accomplished and more is hoped for. Professor J. S. Gorsline entered upon his work there last fall with enthusiasm. The need was great. His enthusiasm was contagious and productive. During the year several hundreds of dollars have been raised for the further equipment of the scientific laboratories. Several new pieces of apparatus have been purchased already, and the coming summer will see a through refitting of the Laboratory, which Professor Gorsline will personally superintend. The equipment of the University will be much increased in this direction.

Principal T. W. DeHaven, of the Business Department has been very busy bringing that department up to the high standard of excellence which it has now attained. During the past year an additional room in the New Building has been fitted with desks and other necessities for the conduct of actual business. There are located a bank and several business firms. The methods pursued are identical with those of the best business colleges.

Many of our readers are already aware that last summer the University took entire control of the Music Department. During the winter Professor S. W. Cravens was secured as the head of the School of Music. Although having a comparatively short time at his disposal, he has been enabled to accomplish much. He has been greatly aided by his corps of assistants, composed of Mrs. Cravens, Mrs. Brockway, and Miss Beach.

The increasing attendance at the University rendered a larger force of teachers an imperative necessity. Consequently the services of Mr. W. C. Coleman, as instructor in English, were secured. His energy and activity have been of great value to the institution.

The history of the past year would be incomplete should we fail to notice the healthy growth in college sentiment which has been marked. The enthusiastic support given to the athletic teams, the large and loyal delegation that attended the State Contest at Topeka, the frequent gatherings of students where the college yell took a prominent position, all these are signs of the development of a true college spirit among us.

OUR ALUMNI.

In writing the history of the Alumni of Ottawa University, and in contributing the limited knowledge we possess concerning its members, we have at least a definite object. The tendency to drift away from college influences and associations is too prevalent. The ties that have bound the students who have graduated from this institution are too sacred to be severed by time. If this article will do aught to revive a pleasant memory or to strengthen a determination for the future by a thought of the past, its purpose has been attained.

In 1879 the following graduates received diplomas from the Normal Department of the University:

Lon Stanard, of South Cedar, who has charges at Richmond and Hillsdale.

Lena McNeil, whose present whereabouts we were unable to learn.

Emma J. Short, who is still at her post in Grade 9 at the public schools.

Fred M. Dicklow, who, after serving as county superintendent of public schools of Franklin county, was deceased March 3, '89. Mr. Dicklow was a genial, warm-hearted man and in his death the community felt that they had lost one whose place could not easily be filled.

Seba Stannard, now Mrs. F. H. Stannard, of 334 Locust St., Ottawa, Kansas.

Fred G. Holt, who is one of our most successful Baptist ministers, and is at present pastor at Emporia.

In 1880 two graduates represented this department—James Whitecotton, who is now engaged in teaching in Western Kansas; and Harriett Brown, who has devoted her life to the work of saving souls in Japan. She is a very earnest and enthusiastic worker and her memory is still cherished and revered at O. U.

The last graduate of the Normal Department was Miss Jennie Cook, in the class of '89. She is now engaged in teaching.

In 1886 Ottawa University's first collegiate class left her tender care and went forth to battle with the world. This class numbered but one—Joseph W. Stocks. He received the degree of A. B. from Denver University in '88 and afterward he pursued post graduate work at Harvard. He was deceased at Denver, February, 1893.

The next class was that of '88 comprising two members.

Miss Jennie Harriet Sherman was sent as a missionary to India by the Presbyterian church of Ottawa. Miss Sherman is now at Sangli and reports excellent success. She has hosts of friends who are proud of her as she labors with singleness of purpose and generosity of heart in contributing her share to the evangelization of the world.

Miss Alice Boomer is teaching in the Hiawatha Academy at Hiawatha, Kansas.

Ella May Keith, of the class of '89, after four years of faithful service in our public schools, is pursuing a post graduate course at Chicago University. She receives the degree of Ph. B. in '94.

John William Cowell, after pursuing a post graduate course at Morgan Park Theological Seminary, was deceased in June, 1893.

The class of '90 numbered four.

Merril Benjamin Boomer was a very successful teacher in Morrill Academy, but was obliged to resign on account of failing health, and on the morning of November 4, 1893, the angel of death summoned him to the realms beyond. Mr. Boomer was a general favorite and a young man of great promise. His death is universally mourned.

John William Griffith, after teaching one year, decided that a farmer's life was his proper calling, and is now engaged in reaping the golden grain on his father's farm.

Mary Eregenia and Lothian Solon Lester, who are also peacefully pursuing agricultural pursuits on the parental farm, complete the list.

The class of '91 were ushered forth upon the commencement platform eleven strong.

Alfred Ebenezer Goodman is pursuing a divinity course in Chicago University.

George Kuhn Grant, after two successful years in the chair of Latin and English in Dover Academy, Tennessee, is now pursuing a post graduate course at the Chicago University.

Mary Horney is disciplining the youth at Wewoka, I. T.

George Horn and Arthur Earnest Starkweather are continuing their theological studies at Chicago University.

Robert Lincoln Parker is principal of the high school at Marion, Kansas, and is a most successful teacher.

Elmer Edwin Parker is assisting his father in business at his home at Clearwater, Kan.

Lorena Maude Jones, after two years in the public schools, is recuperating at her father's domicile on Elm Street.

William Henry Isely, after holding the chair of Natural Sciences in Ottawa University for one year, pursued a post graduate course at Harvard, on the completion of which he accepted the chair of Science and Mathematics at Grand Island, Nebraska. But still his happiness was not complete, and defying mathematical computation, he took to wife Francis Elizabeth Nickerson, of this same class and thus fulfilled the pretty prophecy of the class ivy.

John William Parker is enjoying the trials of editor in partnership with his brother, Ira Erskine Parker, '92, at Pond Creek, O. T.

Of the other members of the class of '92 Inez Mabel Crawford is instructor in Latin at Grand Island, Nebraska. She was compelled to come home this spring on failing in health, but may resume her duties next fall.

Jerry Tinder Crawford is pastor of the flock at Phillipsburg, Kansas. He is very successful and reports work in a flourishing condition.

Elizabeth Byron Jacobus is teaching at Macone, I. T.

This brings us up to the class of '93, who called themselves the "upper ten."

Mary Louise Chenoweth is one of the able assistants in the Ottawa high school. William Henry Eaton and Simon Sylvester Hageman are pursuing theological courses in Chicago University. Mortimer Holt is principal of the academy at Olathe. Floris Winton Kingsley has charge of a pastorate at Eau Claire, Wisconsin. Pliny Penn Lester is with the Robinson-Topping Hardware Co., of Ottawa. Sarah Ellen Sample is teaching at her home in Eureka. Mary Alice Stiles is practicing the culinary art in her father's domicile, hoping thus to recover her health sufficiently to teach next fall. Clara Belle VanSickle accepted a position as assistant in the Olathe Academy. She is a very successful teacher. Ola Willis is book-keeper for the Willis Nurseries.

Thus we see what our Alumni have done—how bright their future. And so let us who are still under the guidance of our Alma Mater 'be up and doing,' and in those words of Longfellow which will never grow old, let

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time"

THE SENIORS.

With the close of the year the present Senior Class severs its connection with Ottawa University.

Whatever may be in store for its members in the future, they can certainly look back over the years spent here as students with the satisfaction that they have been years of profit and pleasure.

Class Day program brought out the predominant qualities and natural proclivities of each, thus making public the secrets that before were considered too sacred for human ears to hear and human minds to comprehend.

But greatness imposes penalties as well as all other conditions of existence, and the fact that the class of '94 never enjoyed the distinction of graduating from college before and may never be thus renowned again may be at least a reason why the readers of the CAMPUS should know something of the past lives of its members, their present prospects and future aspirations.

John August Kjellin was born at Orebro, Sweden, April 1, 1858. He spent his boyhood on a farm, residing in his native country until he reached his majority. He then decided to come to America, which decision was realized when he arrived in the American port, June 4, 1879. He came west, settling in Potawatomie county, Kan., and was engaged in farming until the year 1887, when he was persuaded to come to Ottawa University. When Mr. Kjellin first entered college he was but imperfectly acquainted with the English language, but he set about resolutely to work, beginning at the very bottom. He was not content with anything less than a classical course, and has pursued that course creditably to the end. His degree will be that of A. B. In proof of his proficiency he carried off first honors in the Sophomore Oratorical Contest in '92, and the following year was the representative of the college in the State Inter-Collegiate Oratorical contest. His life work will be in the ministry, and he will complete his education in the Divinity School of Chicago University.

Julia Emma Stanton was born November 11, 1869 in Franklin county, Kansas. She traces her ancestry back to Elder Brewster, of Mayflower fame. She lived at Centropolis until 1885, when she removed with her parents to Lyndon, Kan. She attended the high school at that place, but in 1887 the family removed to Ottawa and in the succeeding year Miss Stanton entered what was then the Junior Preparatory class of Ottawa University. She chose the classical course and is most favorably disposed toward the languages. She has a brilliant record in Greek. Her class room work has been supplemented by that of teaching, having had students to tutor from time to time during her course. Miss Stanton has excellent ability as a musician, having been a pupil of Professor and Mrs. Boyle. She has served at intervals as organist for the First Baptist Church for a number of years. In 1891 she took the Freshman prize for superior scholarship. She contemplates taking post-graduate work in literature sometime in the future.

John Reuben Newton was born in Bledsoe county, Tenn., in March, 1870. Nothing eventful transpired in his life until he was nine years of age when with his parents he came to Douglass county, Kansas. He received his first strong impetus toward a higher education in the public schools. At sixteen years of age he entered Baker, where he remained a year. He then entered O. U. He has worked almost continuously at his trade as a printer during his college course. Mr. Newton has an enviable record as a society worker, entering upon literary work with a hearty enthusiasm, which will make his absence keenly felt. While others have their special aptitudes, "our printer" has an eye for the practical, so that his success surely lies in the line of a business pursuit. It is gratifying to his friends to learn that he contemplates entering upon some line of newspaper work.

Letitia Emily Savage was born May 19, 1869, in Jennings county, Ind. In the spring of '71 the family removed to Labette county, Kansas, where they still reside. Owing to limited school advantages and delicate health she received the most of her education at home from her mother. At the age of thirteen she entered the Mound Valley public schools, completing the course in '86. She then entered the Parsons high school, graduating at the head of her class in '89. September, '89, she entered the class of '94 in Ottawa University. In the Sophomore Oratorical Contest Miss Savage took second place.

To natural goodness of disposition Miss Savage adds rare social qualities and a mind of superior culture and training. She possesses exceptional ability as a writer and she will probably take an extended course in literature.

Wallace Philip Goumaz was born July 20, 1871, in Labette county, Kansas, where his parents were engaged in farming. His father died when he was quite young, his mother when he was twelve years of age, thus leaving him to encounter life's realities alone. Mr. Goumaz entered public school at Oswego in 1881. He continued his studies in the high school for three years, fitting himself to enter college with the intention of obtaining a higher education. Mr. Goumaz entered Ottawa University in 1889. By hard work and constant application he made up a year of his course. Since his entrance to college, he has continued his course without interruption, and graduates with the class of '94, with the degree of A. B.

Mr. Goumaz has given special attention to teaching, in which he will engage at present. He intends, as soon as convenient, to complete his education in some Medical school, with the purpose of fitting himself for the Medical profession.

William Galen Carey was born at Mendota, Illinois, September 18, 1869. At the age of five years he came West with his parents, who settled in Clay county, Kansas. Mr. Carey attended, and pursued his studies in the public school, until he was fifteen years of age. He entered Ottawa University in the fall of 1886, and continued his course until he had completed the Sophomore year. Then he devoted two years to teaching, one in the Indian schools in the Creek nation, and one year in the employ of the American Baptist Home Mission Society. Returning to college in 1892, he entered the Junior class, and graduates this year with the degree B. S. He has served as president of the Y. M. C. A. the past year. He was chosen to represent the college at the Lake Geneva Bible-School in the summer of 1893. To his zeal and untiring efforts the Association of the college owes very largely its present prosperous condition. Mr. Carey intends to enter the Theological Seminary at Chicago with the purpose of fitting himself for the Baptist ministry.

Arthur Sterling Kerfoot was born in Lewis County Mo. Oct. 11, 1868. He attended the district school in Mo. until he came with his parents to Rice county Kas., March, 1882. He entered the English preparatory class of Ottawa University, Sept., 1886. He spent five years at college completing the Sophomore year and then engaged in teaching in Rice Co. The next year he re-entered college as a member of the class of '94. Mr. Kerfoot began with the literary course, but changed to the classical and will receive the degree of A. B. He is a thorough student, possesses excellent judgement and has been enthusiastic for all the best interests of O.

U. He will enter the employ of the Baptist Home Mission Society as a teacher in the Mission at Mankato, Ind. Ter., the coming year. He then expects to enter the Medical School at Chicago and prepare for a Medical missionary to Africa.

Esther Charlotta Browne was born June 22, 1870 at Garnett, Anderson County Kansas. She attended the public school, at various times until thirteen years of age, laying the foundation for the higher education which was her future aim. Miss Browne entered Ottawa University in Sept., 1888, and has continued her course with only a few short interruptions. She has distinguished herself for her strength of intellect, and her rare qualities as a student. She graduates with the class of '94, taking the degree A. B. She has special qualifications for a successful teacher and for the present will engage in that profession. Miss Browne's sister, Miss Harriett M. Browne, has for a number of years, been engaged in Foreign Missionary work. She has distinguished herself in the Baptist Mission fields of Japan. Miss Browne's heart and sympathies are inclined towards Foreign Missions, and she will probably devote her life to this great and important work.

Mary M. Cain was born near Earlville, Ill., September 20, 1869. The next spring she came to Kansas with her parents, where she remained five years. Her school life began in the public schools of Earlville, Ill., where the next two years were spent. The family then returned to Kansas and her school life continued in the public schools. At the age of thirteen she became a member of the Baptist church at Clyde, Kansas. In 1883 she accompanied her parents to the Indian Territory, which for eight years remained her home. During the first four years of her sojourn in the Territory her time was divided between study and duties in the mission school where her parents were in charge. After six months of special preparation she entered Indian University, where she spent three years, completing the course prescribed by that institution in 1890. The next eighteen months were spent in teaching and in travel, after which Ottawa became her home. Miss Cain entered Ottawa University in September, '93. Besides the regular work she has carried extra studies, and in them all has manifested a thoroughness which shows her strength of intellect. The muse is sometimes her faithful attendant, whose visits are never in vain. Miss Cain will enter the teacher's profession.

John Franklin Kaho was born in Labette county, Kansas, December 3, 1869. He spent his boyhood on the farm, attending district school until 1885, when he entered the Oswego high school, from which he graduated in '87. Mr. Kaho's desire, however, was to obtain a higher education.

After a year of successful teaching he entered the Senior Preparatory class of O. U. He determined to enter upon a full classical course, which he successfully pursued until the Sophomore year, when he was employed as principal of the Oswego high school. He re entered college in '92, taking up the work with the Junior class. He graduates with the class of '94 with the degree of A. B. Mr. Kaho has shown considerable ability as a student and as a writer. He was awarded the Smalley prize for the best Junior essay, 1893. For the past year he has held the position of editor-in-chief of the OTTAWA CAMPUS, which under his guidance has attained a high position among college journals. He will engage in teaching and expects in the near future to take up post-graduate work in history and law.

THE CAMPUS STAFF.

The staff of the CAMPUS for this year has been an "all around success." At least, this is the verdict rendered by their friends. The exact number of the present staff of the editors who intend to take up journalism as a permanent calling is not now known. Circumstances will determine largely where their "lines shall fall." It is generally conceded, however, that any one of them could enter the journalistic field with the assurance of a large measure of success.

J. F. Kaho, '94, editor-in-chief, is from Labette county, Kansas. While in school he has taken a classical course and has proved himself a thorough and conscientious student. Mr. Kaho has been an active member of the Olympian society, where his absence will be greatly felt. In his relation to the CAMPUS he has shown himself to be an efficient worker and has won for that periodical a just measure of popularity.

H. Q. Banta, '95, has discharged the duties of business manager in a way which has declared him to be a reliable and trustworthy young man. Mr. Banta's home is in the extreme western part of the State. His college work is characterized by that thoroughness which always assures success.

A. S. Kerfoot, '94, since the year 1882 has made his home in Rice county, Kansas.

The Philathethan society has marked his success in literary development. As assistant business manager Mr. Kerfoot has shown himself to be capable of filling responsible positions.

Marguerite Strauchon, '95, is a resident of Ottawa. Notwithstanding her small number of years she has discharged the duties of literary editor most successfully. Never before has the editor-in-chief been so little responsible for the success of that department. Energy and ability are Miss Strauchon's characteristics. With such a combination success is warranted.

G. E. Myers, '96, comes to us from Butler county, Kansas. Thus far in his college course he has done excellent work and has been found very industrious in all his connections with the University. In the department of College and Town he has furnished fresh and crispy articles and has made that column one of interest to all.

Miss Laura Bosworth, '95, has looked well after the local and personal columns of the CAMPUS. Her home is at Wellsville, Kas. She is a careful student, a loyal society worker, public-spirited and enthusiastic in all of the best college enterprises. With natural aptitude for reporting news, Miss Bosworth combines excellent discrimination and judgment, so that this department of the CAMPUS has been especially popular during the past year.

Our Exchange Editor, Mr. J. H. Haigh, '95, comes from Brown county. Aside from the discipline of a classical course, Mr. Haigh has become proficient in tennis and base ball. In the work of his column he has exhibited great skill and shrewdness, which has brought that department of the CAMPUS to a height which it has never before attained.

FOOT-BALL.

BY W. H. AUSTIN, '98.

During the past three years football has been slowly but surely gaining a place among the students of Ottawa University and now holds quite a prominent position.

Last fall occurred our first real victory and the playing which was done showed the effect of good men, in good football attire, and most of all a reasonable amount of training. In the months of November and December, 1893, our team played four match games: three with Baker University and one with the Kansas State Normal. In the first game, which was played with Baker, we were beaten, but not easily. The game was a very interesting one and the Bakerites were aware, before we had played very long, that we were there for business. The score was 6 to 30.

The second game of the season was played at Baldwin, on the Bakerites' own ground. Because of a lack of confidence in our own ability we were beaten. After the first half of the game they were unable to score. The score stood 10 to 14 in favor of B. U.

The third game was played in Forest Park on Thanksgiving day, and notwithstanding the inclement weather, it was witnessed by a large number of Ottawa and Baldwin people. This was the crowning game of the season, and the Ottawa boys took all of the laurels from the field. This game resulted in the total defeat of the opposing forces, the score being Ottawa 14, Baker 0.

The fourth game was played at Emporia with the Normal boys. This was not a walk-away for our boys. The ground was hotly contested by the Normalites, but some way, somehow, the ball refused to go over Ottawa's goal line and that is what beat the Normal boys. The score stood 24 to 0 in favor of Ottawa.

Thus ends the first of our victories. The outlook for football next year is very bright and encouraging. We will have most of our old players and a number of good strong men as recruits. What we need here is more team practice, and most of all a good, energetic "coach."

MCKINLEY TO SPEAK AT OTTAWA

A vacation combining rest and instruction is offered by the Chautauqua Assembly, Forest Park, Ottawa, Kansas, June 18 to 29. You don't have to travel many miles to reach it, either. Santa Fe Route will take you there quickly, cheaply and comfortably.

Rate is only one fare for the round trip. Tickets on sale June——, limited to return June 30.

While every day of the Assembly will be good, care has been taken to obtain special attractions for Grand Army day, June 21. Gov. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, the renowned statesman and orator, has agreed to deliver the chief oration. There will be numerous local speakers, less famed but scarcely less eloquent.

Inquire of agent A. T. & S. F. R. R. as to cost of trip, expense of camping out, etc.

W. G. CAREY, TENNIS CHAMPION

Aside from his class room and chirstain work W. G. Carey has found time to become proficient at tennis. This healthful game has found in him a graceful champion. For several years his playing has been recognized as above the ordinary but the first demonstration of his superior playing appeared at the tournament Nov 6th 1893. Four courts had their representatives in the tournament. Mr. Beach and Mr. Carey having won in the preliminaries met each other in the finals. Mr. Carey won the tournament, 6-2 6-4 and was declared the champion of the school. His style of play is peculiarly his own, although he does not depend on any one strong point to win. His serving is with the left hand and he delivers with speed and precision. In returning he uses either hand with equal effect. The popularity of tennis among the students has gradually increased since its introduction in the fall of '88. There are five organized courts which means that about sixty of the students find exercise and recreation in this popular pastime.

BASE BALL.

Base ball at Ottawa University has been an example of "the survival of the fittest." The process of evolution has been going on for several years. Last year we crossed bats with Baker and were beaten in both games. The fact that we were beaten last year made us more determined to play ball this season, and, as a result, a team was organized, which has proved itself worthy of the name.

Very little playing has been done with other colleges, yet we feel that Ottawa University's team would not make a bad showing against any college team in the State. The first game, Ottawa University vs. Baker University, played on our own grounds, was won by Ottawa, core 12 to 5. The second game, played on Baker's ground, was won by Baker, score 10 to 3. The first game was played by the two teams. The second was played by the umpire with very little assistance from either team.

Games were arranged with the college of Emporia, but owing to a misunderstanding we did not meet them.

It has been quite fortunate for our team that Robinson was in school. He is, without doubt, one of the best college pitchers in Kansas. In the first game with Baker he struck out fifteen men, and gave them only five safe hits. He was making even a better record in the second game before the umpire began to play such a prominent part.

Hamilton and Davis have been strong men on the team, and Sheldon's work in center field has been first-class.

The future of base ball at Ottawa University will depend a great deal upon the student body. If they say O. U is to have a good ball team next year, we will have one. We have plenty of good material in school. Let the process of evolution continue.

MILITARY AT O. U.

Maj. Robert Atkinson, who is commandant of the Ottawa University Guards, graduated from the Wentworth Military Academy of Lexington, Mo., in the class of '91. His standing while a student was of the highest order, and he graduated with the rank of assistant commandant. He holds a position as aid de camp on the staff of the major general of the Kansas National Guards, and was recently appointed to the rank of major.

In the fall of '93 Maj. Atkinson undertook the organization of a military company among the young men of the college. About eighty enrolled, and an organization was speedily effected under the name of the Ottawa University Guards. The old skating rink was secured as a drill hall. Electric lights were put in, and regular company and squad drill took place three times each week. Many of the cadets have neat and substantial uniforms, and another year will probably find all thus supplied.

Under the able drill of Maj. Atkinson, the company became proficient in the most important evolutions of the school of the company, and are now able to execute gracefully some of the most difficult maneuvers as laid down in the regulations of the United States Army. Through the major's instrumentality about eighty stands of arms were secured from the state arsenal, and are now used by the company in regular drill. Each cadet is responsible for the neat and orderly appearance of his gun and its accoutrements.

The officers, sergeants and corporals, have been and will continue to be chosen with regard to their conduct and standing in class room work, after due consultation with the faculty.

Altogether the organization of the Ottawa University Guards is one of the important advances in the growth of the institution. Nothing thus far has contributed more to the physical culture of the young men. A military drill develops what is a rare accomplishment with many students, viz: a graceful and manly carriage of body, and easy presence. It also cultivates habits of obedience and respect. The importance of physical training is coming to receive its just recognition, and military drill is the happy solution of the problem.

ONE of the most useful books of the year is the vest pocket dictionary, published by the Practical Text Book Company, Cleveland, Ohio. This book weighs only 2 oz, and contains 35,000 words. Price, bound in Morocco and indexed, 50 cents. Agents are wanted in every school and town. Write the publishers for full information.

H. Q. BANTA.

H. Q. Banta represented Ottawa in the State Contest at Topeka Feb. 23 1894. He spoke on the subject, "Our attitude toward China." Mr. Banta handled his subject in a masterly manner and the judges accorded him first place on thought and composition. His final rank was fourth. This places Ottawa in advance of any place she has held for a number of years.

Ottawa sent a delegation of over a hundred enthusiastic students to encourage and inspire their orator and they all returned with the determination that Ottawa University must go still higher next year. The result of the contest was to inspire confidence in our ability along the line of oratory. This is one of the most important departments of college work and we are glad to note a greater interest manifested and more earnest work being done along this line.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

Y. M. C. A.

W. G. CAREY.

The work of the Young Men's Christian Association during the past year has been quiet but thorough. The sending of Hageman to Geneva the previous year gave an impetus to the work during his administration, which continued over to the present year. Last year our president was again present at Geneva and came in touch with the advanced methods and men who have been of great use in the Master's kingdom.

An advance movement was made in the fall campaign work. One of the ladies of the city threw open her house, the and young women arranged for refreshments which were served to all new comers whom we met at the depot After refreshments a committee who had lists of boarding places, assisted in locating the new arrivals. A joint reception of the Young Men's and Young Women's associations was held the first week of the college term. The work of the young ladies was presented by Miss Margaret Grant, and Mr. Carey spoke for the young men. Dr. Colegrove presented "The duty of every student to the religious influences of the college." A most enjoyable and profitable time was had by all present.

The Geneva meeting was reported to a union meeting with a large attendance, and the Bible study work was organized with a large number in different classes from the very beginning of the work.

Missionary meetings have been held under the auspices of the Mission Band once each month. A large attendance at all these meetings. Mr. F. J. White represented us at Detroit at the International Missionary Conference. Since his return the missionary spirit of our institution has received new life. The committees of our Association have been very faithful, and the work was well done. Our membership list has not been inflated, a large proportion of the members being present regularly. The devotional committee have supplied splendid topics and leaders for all the meetings.

Different speakers have addressed our meetings at various times. A regular noon-day prayer meeting has been maintained throughout the year, and has been of great assistance to those who have been present.

The personal work of our association has not been as fully done as might have been, yet there has been much accomplished along this line. Several of our boys have been converted and are becoming our best workers. The week of prayer was observed, and a good attendance. The consecration made during that time has borne fruit to many lives.

We confidently expect to be represented at Geneva this year.

During the year we have had visits from other associations and also from International Committeemen. Our president has also visited several other associations in interest of the State Committee.

The time for great advancement along the lines of religious development in our College is ripe. Some steps have been taken, but larger ones may now be made. The coming year promises to bring more new faces than ever before. The work is great, the time is short.

Go forth with prayer and faith, and the Lord will bless the efforts put forth in His name.

Y. W. C. A.

MARGARET GRANT, '95.

The work of the Young Women's Christian Association during the past year has been a source of much encouragement to its members.

An active fall campaign was conducted, meeting new girls at the trains, helping them secure new boarding places, and giving them such other assistance as they needed.

The membership committee began this work at once and through their faithful efforts the Association role includes forty-two names.

The regular weekly meeting of the Association is held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. During almost the entire year these meetings have been well attended, and the testimony of the girls has shown a deep interest in the work and an earnest desire to see the unsaved brought to Christ. A Gospel meeting has been held once a month; also, one Sunday out of the month, the young men and young women have united in a Missionary meeting.

Miss Dora Cady, state secretary of the Y. W. C. A. visited the Association, and led a Gospel meeting.

Besides the reception for new students at the beginning of the year, two girl's socials have been given, promoting greatly the social life of the girls. Three Bible classes have been maintained, the Workers Training Class, the Verse-a-day Class, and a class studying the life of Christ.

The Association will send a deligate, Miss Nora Lister, to the Summer School at Lake Geneva Wisconsin, here she will learn methods of Association work, and besides getting much for herself, will bring back much for the girls.

In October of next year, the Annual Convention of the Young Women's Christian Associations of Kansas will be held in Ottawa.

So with the experience and progress of the past year, with the promises of the future, the Association hopes to do a better work for Christ the coming year, keeping in mind "Not by might nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

STUDENTS often feel that they are spending too much time within college walls. This is a great mistake. Instead of trying to shorten the time so spent it would be better to look forward to a post graduate course of two or more years in one of the most advanced institutions of the country. It is not necessary that such a course immediately follow the college course. In fact, it is often better to wait a year or two until one is certain what particular line of post graduate work it is best to pursue. There are several institutions in this country at which good graduate courses of study are offered. Harvard, with its fine equipment and all the sentiment clinging about its classic halls, attracts many graduates of other institutions, but Johns Hopkins, Columbia, Cornell, and the University of Pennsylvania have equal, and in some respects, superior advantages. Some will prefer to go to Germany, whose universities welcome American students. The very thought of study in Europe is inspiring, and it is said that any student who really wishes to go to Europe will go. Some of the undergraduates of the Ottawa University are already planning to continue their studies at home and abroad. Let the number be increased.

EVERY person has two educations, one which he receives from others, and one, more important, which he gives to himself.
—Gibbon.

As the year closes we urge all the old students to return in September. Youth comes but once. We must gain an education in these years or the opportunity is gone forever. We shall have a life time in which to work. Education is worth more than money. It will remain when all else is swept away. Let us work during the vacation and come back as well equipped for work as possible; but let us return.

AT the recent election of the CAMPUS staff for the coming year, G. W. Beach, '95, was chosen editor in chief, L. R. Foote, '96, business manager. The associate editors were also elected, and their places have since been assigned as follows: Literary, Nora Lister, '95; College and Town, C. E. Flanagan, '96; Local and Personal, Jennie Kesting, '96; Exchange, J. W. Bayles, '95; Athletic, J. H. Haigh, '95, and Miss Laura Bosworth, '95. The staff is a good one from first to last, and will no doubt conduct the CAMPUS in a manner highly creditable to the institution.

TEXAS WANTS YOU.

The Gulf Coast of Texas is a charming resort for invalids who don't like zero weather. Big attractions also for home seekerst

E acres of land planted in pear; nets the owner $6,000 each yeas after orchard is established. Strawr berries and grapes also profitably raised. Reg X ular winter tourist tick- ets can be bought any day, but special ex- cursions will be run the second Tuesday of each month from a limited terri- tory to all points in Texas. The excursion fare? It is cheap enough—a little over a cent a mile; tickets bood 30 days, with stopovers south pound. Talk it over with agent Santa Fe Route, or address G. T. Nicholson, G. P. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R., Topeka, Kansas, and ask for free copy of illustrated pamphlet describing Texas Coast country. It costs only a cent to ask, and it may mean a fortune for you.
