

Bowling Green this year. Ernest "Bud" Weckesser, special distinction at BGSU in 1955, Robert Kinstle, special distinction at BGSU in 1959, and William Gilsdorf, 1959 graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College, all expect to go on for advanced study following the completion of their Master's program.

Ron Aungst, a member of the Findlay College (Ohio Kappa) debate team in 1958-59, has returned to Ohio University, Athens, to work toward a master's degree in journalism.

Ohio Zeta at Marietta College reports that:

Robert Cowles, '54, is now working on his Ph.D. at Wayne State University in Detroit.

Guy Gay, '59, is now attending his first year of law school at New York University in New York City.

Paul Gray, '59, has an assistantship at the University of Illinois, where he is working on his Master's in Speech.

Jane H. MacEachron, Hope College, '58, has been awarded a Rotary Foundation Fellowship for advanced study abroad during the 1959-60 school year. Miss MacEachron, a magna cum laude graduate, had previously studied in Vienna, Austria, on a Hope scholarship and in 1959 received an M.A. from the University of Michigan. Miss MacEachron will study political science, in preparation for a career in university teaching, at the University of Melbourne, Australia.

Carolyn "Dixie" Griffith, '59, also has an assistantship at the University of Illinois, where she, too, is working on her Master's degree in Speech.

Lee Holloway, '59, is a speech therapist in Pennsylvania. He has a state job, and writes that he is extremely pleased with his work.

Constance Matthews, '59, is teaching in the public school system of South Euclid, Ohio.

John H. Sloan, '54, is on a year's leave of absence from his faculty position at Marietta College, and is now working on his Ph.D. at the University of Illinois.

Keith G. Ham, Maryville College, '59, is the recipient of a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for this year and will study at the University of Wisconsin.

Report of the National Questions Committee

during the season, the committee may, by a two-thirds vote, alter the wording or move to a second choice proposition or question. Individual chapters or schools are encouraged to write their reactions to the propositions or questions to members of the committee as the forensic year progresses.

(6) The four cooperating forensic societies agree to use the SAA questions as their official propositions for debate and discussion during the college year. This does not prevent individual schools or groups of schools from debating or discussing more than one question during the school year; but it does mean that none of the four societies would select a different question.

(7) The topics must be announced by September 10.

Working under these regulations, the following committee members met in St. Louis, Missouri, on June 19 and 20, 1959, and phrased the topics listed above: Harvey Cromwell, Mississippi State College for Women, Pi Kappa Delta; Austin J. Freeley, John Carroll University, American Forensic Association; Winston Brembeck, University of Wisconsin, Speech Association of America; T. Earle Johnson, University of Alabama, Tau Kappa Alpha; and Orville Hitchcock, Chairman, State University of Iowa, Delta Sigma Rho. Glen L. Jones, Phi Rho Pi, was unable to attend the meeting because of illness in his family.

The regulations under which the committee operates prevent issuing any official interpretation by the committee, nor is any organization or individual so authorized. The right of interpretation rests with those who debate the question. The committee has attempted to phrase questions that are broad in scope in order to encourage thorough analysis and investigation and to give the advantage to those students doing the more extensive and intelligent work. The committee members hope the topics chosen will provide a profitable forensic experience during the school year.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I have examined the books and records of Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Fraternity for the period from August 1, 1958, to July 31, 1959, inclusive.

The foregoing statement is prepared in conjunction with Dr. D. J. Nabors, according to established form, and is a true and correct report of the financial status of the organization as of this date.

Calling All Students!

Recently I mailed a letter to all Pi Kappa Delta sponsors outlining the policies I intend to follow. I hope that by now your sponsor or president has informed you of this new feature in The Forensic and that many of you will take advantage of this opportunity to get into print.

The aim of this feature will simply be to get more response from the people who read the publication. The majority of our readers are students and it seems only logical that a fair share of the features should be written by and for that majority group. In other words, our purpose is to make The Forensic more appealing to you, as a reader, by placing some of the "burden of interest" on you, as a writer. This assumes, of course, that Pi Kappa Delta members are not only capable enough, but are also interested enough in being heard. It seems to me that anyone who can organize a sound debate case or fashion an oration is certainly capable of writing an interesting article.

So let's see if we can't get some good contributions for future issues of The Forensic. Dig out those ideas you have been carrying around, sharpen up some pencils and send in your articles to:

L. A. LAWRENCE

Associate Editor, The Forensic

Montana State College

Bozeman, Montana

Articles need not be long and may deal with any subject appropriate to the intended audience. They may be humorous or serious; they may deal with personalities or ideas. In keeping with the idea of fraternity, it seems to me that our readers would be interested in each other. Many students meet often at the various tournaments and I think short things on personalities, incidents at tournaments, tournament policies and many other such matters would be of interest. If enough articles of this type come in, we may start something in the nature of a special feature called "Along the Tournament Trail." Certainly, there is also room for articles on controversial matters. In short, don't hesitate if you have an idea—send it in! All contributions will be seriously considered.

Deadline for contributions for the next issue will be December 28, 1959.

L. A. LAWRENCE

Associate Editor for Student Contributions

The Editor Signs Off

Occasionally, "signs" may be changed to "sounds." No matter—this last page is hereby reserved for the editor and his associate editors.

As I look forward to the administration of The Forensic, I know that all of us on the editorial staff have one goal which we all share. Foremost in our minds is our desire to bring you a magazine which will appeal to everyone in Pi Kappa Delta, to student, alumni, and faculty members alike. To do this we shall need everyone's aid. Two things are essential: a steady flow of alumni and chapter news, and provocative articles on subjects of wide forensic interest.

In order to implement our aims, the editorial staff has been expanded. The vital areas of alumni news and chapter notes will, as in the past, be managed separately by an associate editor. Frank T. Alusow, University of Akron, will be in charge of alumni news, and John M. Burt, Concordia College, of chapter notes. These capable men have ideas for a better presentation of information from your school, ideas which they will pass on to you in a quarterly letter which will arrive on your campus as a reminder well in advance of copy deadlines. Please appoint someone in your chapter to answer each of these letters so that your school may be noticed in every issue of the magazine.

In addition to these two, a third associate editor has been added this year. For a long time it has seemed to me that a major source of talent for The Forensic has gone all too untapped, that student members of Pi Kappa Delta have written much too seldom for their magazine. L. A. Lawrence, Montana State College, therefore, has been appointed associate editor for student contributions. On the opposite page will be found a statement of purpose and plan which I asked Mr. Lawrence to write. But let me add my pleas to his. For instance, The Forensic needs cover photos which present the human interest side of the speech world. They can be humorous or serious, but please break out those cameras!

As general editor, my dream is to receive a flood of interesting and challenging articles from faculty and alumni members, articles which deal knowingly with problems which face the forensic world today. Such an article, I believe, is the lead one, "This Business of Bestness." Not only is it written with force and clarity, but it deals with a very real problem. Let me cite an example. Last spring after the national convention at Bowling Green, news stories in the home town paper of one school claimed a "National Championship" for a team which had won seven of its eight rounds of debate. When it is considered that there were teams that went undefeated, this claim was a rather obvious attempt on the part of someone to be better than just "best." And incidentally, Mr. Goodwin is not open to a charge of "sour grapes." Over a period of years his teams have established an enviable reputation, and last spring one of the Interstate winners was coached by him.

And there you have it for this issue. As editor, I shall not hesitate to speak out when I think open words are called for. I invite you, the members of Pi Kappa Delta, to do the same in these pages.
