and each copy issued is perused by many an eager eye in search of something bright and new. Now, although the paper has lost greatly with the loss of Mr. Brummitt, it need not fall from its position. A good editor is a wonderful stimulus for a good paper, but a college paper is for college people, and if supported liberally by them, can always be made fresh and good. Let us then work together and make the INDEX even better. It belongs to no class or organization of any kind, but has the interest of the school and students at heart, and because of this it demands their support. Rally to the support of the INDEX, and we will always have a good paper.
