

ABSURDITY.....Elliott #531A

Here we are all the way to Thinksheet #531^A, and some of them have been (I suppose) absurd but this is the only one intending to be so. It's a card my paternal grandfather distributed to passengers in his fin de siecle Stanley Steamer—a gift of his eldest son last week. I strained and strained and could manage no direct theological significance, but it seemed too basic not to share with you. However, a cultural comment appropriate to our Zeitgeist: When the noise level is too high for audio-communication, switch to video.

NOTE to any who may be into "potential": You have a largely unexplored AQ (absurdity quotient).

Pee Ticket

When needed tear off coupon
and hand to chauffeur

STOP

STOP

STOP