

"Form must follow function" said the Bauhaus and the Sullivanites. A balancing bromide: architecture, including room arrangement, shapes life....When I walked into my [?] class[?]room this morning [9Feb76], I was shocked to see that it'd been rearranged so as to (result, hardly purpose!) give me more power than I want. I left it, and went upstairs to do this thinksheet for using as material for discussing the latest crisis.

EXERCISE:

Number each of the following arrangement in power-order, your number 1 indicating the highest power. [The arrangements are lettered only for ease of discussion.] "L," of course, is "leader."
