ATTENTION ALL STUDENTS! You are strongly urged to attend the final student meeting today at 9:45. Unless a substantial number of students attend, it will be impossible to make any meaningful recommendations to the National Council.

Did you know that Sayles Hall is for mixed couples? Even so, there are segregated bath facilities.

Picture this: a debate is scheduled between St. John's University and College of St. Thomas (both men's schools) in a women's lounge at Eau Claire, Wisconsin. It is in progress --- who was the Grand Lady who blithely came in and nonchalantly changed her dress -- behind a partition, of course??

Overheard at a nitery last evening: Debate is a worthwhile activity because of the interest in propositions.

A note for the faint-hearted: at the University of Akron in Ohio, Dr. Ray Sandefur has been appointed Dean of the College of Fine Arts -- a newly created division. Ray has been Chairman of the Department of Speech there for over twelve years. His PKD affiliation stems from his student days at Emporia, Kansas.

Thanks to all who participated in Talent Night. You all were great! Thanks to everyone who came and supported this activity.

ATTENTION ALL COACHES!!!!

At 9:45 there will be a meeting to discuss next year's debate question and the role of competition in the Pi Kappa Delta Convention. The meeting will be held during the student meeting in the Commons Room of University Center. All coaches are urged to attend and make their views known.

ATTENTION STUDENTS - The National Council would like to know your views on having a championship debate bracket at the next Convention, having separate men's and women's divisions in individual events, the type of debate categories you would like, the method of computing Sweepstakes, suggestions for the national debate question, and any other burning issues you have in mind. Please come to the student meeting and let us know how you feel!

AN URGENT PLEA FOR HELP! Because of meetings and other conflicts, the turn-out requested by Don Splittorf for judges to help with his thesis project was very poor. He is therefore again asking for your assistance. If you will contribute one hour of your time to permit him to collect data, be in the judges' room in the student union at 10:00 a.m. this morning. This time was selected to minimize conflicts and make this easy for both you and him. One hour isn't much, but it's very important to him. Please support this project.

Please sign the sheets at the desk in your dormitories if you want breakfast Saturday morning. It is included in your ticket, but the food service personnel would like to have a somewhat accurate count. Those who are leaving on the early bus will have the opportunity to have coffee and rolls in the basement of Clem Hall at 5:15 a.m.

Who wants to be a Speech man? Ask John Burt. Dr. Marie Robinson (Illinois Wesleyan) went on leave of absence this semester. A replacement was secured for her. He pooped out after one week! Result? John has been teaching 27 hours per week. No extra change either--as yet.

To night we will have three distinguished guests at the banquet. They are the charter members of the Pi Kappa Delta chapter that was founded at Ripon College in 1912. According to the school newspaper that reported the event in 1912, the chapter was founded for "the promotion of forensics and the arousing of fellowship and enthusiasm in public speaking work that boosts forensic activities." It was stated that "it is the intention of the national organization to include all the colleges in the states of the middle west." The members attending will be Archie Hirst, John Martin, and W.R. Zinzow, two other members are unable to attend.

ATTENTION! Because of the new finish on the gymnasium floor, there will be absolutely NO SMOKING at the banquet this evening.

1. No smoking

Pi Kappa Delta's Distinguished Alum.

This convention honors Raymond Miller, 59th Pi Kappa Delta member, as this year's distinguished alum. "I made three fortunes and lost two fortunes," said Miller. Miller defined fortunes for this reporter as many millions of dollars. In 1921 this red tie millionaire lost his first fortune. December 15, 1937 our alum walked away from the 28th dry oil well with his wife, two quarters, a Scottie dog, and the clothes on their backs. Since then Miller, who holds three honorary doctorate degrees, made his third fortune, participates on 21 boards, chairs eleven financial boards, helps run the Oakland Park system, advises three colleges financially, entertains thousands of guests at his home (10,124 so far), plays with politics, lectures to audiences (10,000 plus speeches), trains salesmen (20,000), makes millionaires (his top two trainees are worth $700 million each), collects horses (Horseman of the year in 1966 in California), gathers red ties (his trademark which is known in 62 countries), and hunts big game in his spare time. This 75 year young alum said, "I have been thoroughly successful in my life, and I attribute a great part of that to the work done in debate. One has to have the ability to get up before an audience without any fear and with firmness. No matter how much one knows, it is completely useless unless one can express himself before an audience. Forensic activity helps a person to learn this ability."
