NEWS OF NOTE, Y'ALL

Pre-registration figures indicate 520 people from 113 schools will attend this convention.

But--unfortunately scratch one school, Southeast Louisiana. While driving to St. Louis they developed serious mechanical problems which incapacitated their car. Unable to continue, they turned around and went back home.

PKD POTPOURRI

Some students just love to make their coaches work overtime. Some even go so far as demanding that their name tags be re-typed, just so a nicknames may be included. So--look for Harry "the Flash" Bienati of Cal State, Hayward.

Note: anybody who has hot, juicy items (or just anything of interest) for publication should give them to any member of the KEY Staff or stop by the KEY office in the Pony Express Room.

PUZZLE FOR THE DAY

Which PKD delegate was caught trying to smuggle a huge pair of shears through airport inspection?

Answer: The same delegate who later found that his name tag was too big for its holder and needed to be trimmed. How did he trim his name tag? He borrowed some scissors. Where are his shears? Waiting for him (he hopes) in the San Francisco airport.
