

Placement for Employment

The University currently administers a number of surveys, tests and student course/instructor evaluations. Additionally, the University has created a unified career placement/alumni survey which will be fast-tracked and administered six months after each May graduating class at all campus locations.

The establishment of the Adawe Life Plan Center at The College in Ottawa will positively impact the employment decisions made by the University's traditionally aged students. Through the center, these students will be presented a wide-array of employment choices as well as an understanding of the types of positions for which they may be best suited.

The majority of the University's adult students hold working positions during the time they are earning their degrees. After graduation some will remain in the industry in which they were employed upon entering the University. However, the University anticipates that the in-depth advisement and assessment its adult students will receive through the Center for Personal and Professional Growth may cause some students to move to other types of employment than that in which they have previously worked.
